Codices chartacei.

Holy Bible, printed at London, 1655; bound in 3 vols. 12mo, interleaved with MSS. sermons, chiefly in short-hand. One has the date of Sept. 1666. One of the sermons in vol. i. is described at p. 501 as having been preached at the funeral of Thos. Cholmondeley, esq., of Holford, Cheshire, who died 6 Jan. 166$\frac{7}{8}$, and was buried 16 Jan. at Peeter (i. e. Nether Peover). In Ormerod's Cheshire, vol. i. p. 496, it is said that his funeral sermon was preached by his chaplain, Mr. Kent. Other notices of dates and places occur as follows:—25 Sept. 1666, vol. iii. 1; Bovington, 10 Oct. 1666, ib. 44; 1688, i. 521; 25 Feb. 1700, iii. opposite p. 49; 26 Feb. 1700, ii. opposite p. 242. On the last leaf of vol. i. there appears to be an extract from a sermon on the death of Mr. Cholmondeley by Thos. Tannant, and at the end of vol. iii. are some verses on the same by F. Starky, esq.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvi. ff. 33.

"Νομοτεχνια, or, the Common Law of England, in such lawfull methode written as yt may justely challenge the name of an art; with a conference and reformation of the same law by the Law of God." By Sir Henry Finch.

Dedicated to Sir Philip Sidney, in a Greek acrostic of six lines, the initial letters giving the author's name, Φυγχος. The first part of the tract appears to be the original sketch of the work afterwards published by Sir H. Finch, under the title of Νομοτέχνια; and agrees in outline with the second and third books as they stand in the translation printed in 1636. An address to the reader is prefixed which does not appear in the printed copies.

"An inquiry into the lawfulness and reasonableness of lay-conformity to the Church of England," with a preface; by S. M., [i.e. Samuel Marriott. See another vol. written by him, relating to family disputes, Rawl. MS. Miscell. 114.]

This volume consists chiefly of letters which passed between the writer and a Dissenting minister, from 27 Dec. 1706 to 17 March 1709, and which ended in the writer's conforming to the Church. He had previously been a member of Mr. Benjamin Gravener's (or Grosvenor's) congregation; who was not however the minister with whom his correspondence was held. An appendix is added, containing an account of an interview with Dr. John Mapletoft, vicar of St. Laurence Jewry (the writer's parish clergyman), with copies of letters, respecting admission to Holy Communion; which is recorded to have been at length received from the hands of Bishop Wilson (of Sodor and Man) and Dr. Mapletoft, 4 Feb. 171$\frac{8}{9}$. An original letter from Dr. Mapletoft of 23 Sept. 1710 (copied at p. 875), is pinned in at the beginning of the volume. On the last page the author adds a note dated 23 July, 1735, mentioning doubts as to the validity of some of his former arguments, and specially those which concern the civil authority in matters ecclesiastical.

A defence of the Declaration of King Charles I. (prefixed to the 39 Articles in 1628) for moderating the Predestinarian controversy.

The title (fol. 3) runs as follows:—"The consent of ancient and late writers, men of eminent piety, learning and place in the Catholique Church, all approving his Ma^{ties} late declaration for the peace of the Church, and for moderation in the present controversies; notwithstanding their different judgements concerning God's mercie to mankind, and the merit of our Saviour's death. The whole faithfully transcribed out of the originall authors, and delivered in their owne words." In three parts. I. The judgments of Roman and Reformed writers on the Predestinarian side; II. The judgments of ancient Fathers and Churches and Reformed Churches and writers on the other side; III. Their joint agreement in exhortation to peace and moderation.

On the first leaf of the book is the following address to the King: "May it please your Majesty, This booke containes a Defense of your Maties declaration for the peace of the Church, prefixed to the Articles; which is readie to be published or suppressed as your Maty shall give commandment." The introductory leaves 4–13 are occupied by a preface.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 15.

"A short essay on the Exchequer at Chester, or an attempt to explain the practice of that court."

At the end (ff. 14–15) are added, by another hand, some forms of affidavits in Chancery.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ineuntis, ff. 55. Qu., an olim inter codd. Jos. Jekyll? cf. Catal. ejus, sub numero 338.

Historical collections, in the handwriting of Oliver Acton.

1. "De murdro;" notes from Gervase of Tilbury and others. fol. 3.
2. Notes out of Cotton MS. Vitell. C. 9;—Agard's preface to Domesday Book, summons to Parliament, rules of the Middle Temple. ff. 3 b–5.
3. Account of Domesday Book, with list of the Gloucestershire tenants. ff. 5 b–6.
4. Account of English coinage from the time of Edw. I. to Chas. II., and of its intrinsic value as shown in the history of prices. ff. 7, 9 b.
5. "Concerning the Marches of Wales," with a list of Lord Presidents. ff. 15 b, 20.
6. "Of sheep, wool, and the trade of cloth." fol. 18.
7. Table of the county-rates for ship-money in the years 1636–40. fol. 19.
8. Gloucestershire notes; justices of peace, Rich. III.–Chas. II.; dukes and earls of Glouc., with their arms; extracts from a book belonging to Rich. Berkeley of Rendcombe, of letters from the Privy Council, assessments for armour, &c., Eliz.–Jas. I. ff. 20 b–41.
9. Arms in Westminster Abbey. fol. 25.
10. Arms in Shottesbrooke Church, Berks. fol. 26.
11. Notes on the church of St. Mary Overey, Southwark. fol. 27.
12. Revenue of the Commonwealth in 1654. fol. 28.
13. Enquiry into the origin of the differences that have lately arisen between the kings of England and Parliament. fol. 41 b.
14. Notes on the Star-Chamber, extracted from two treatises in a book borrowed of Mr. Serjeant Seys. ff. 43 b, 46 b.

A table of contents is prefixed, but several items contained therein (viz. list of abbots of Glouc., justices of peace in 1689, commissions of array) have never been included in this volume. May not this MS. therefore be only a transcript from another of a little earlier date, which was contained (as noted above) in the collection of Sir J. Jekyll and lord Somers?

The original compiler appears to have been a gentleman of Berkshire, there being on fol. 20 a note of "the charges for the Lent Assizes at my father's shrievalty" in that county in 1663. The names of the Sheriffs in that year, and in several years preceding and subsequent, are not to be found in Ashmole's list.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvi. ff. 6. Olim inter codd. P. Le Neve, 817; postea, T. Sclater Bacon, in folio, 1938.

"A table of the most remarkable points in the printed cases upon appeals to the House of Lords since the year 1701, upon which the decrees and judgments were affirmed, varyed or reversed;" with another index of the names of the cases, &c. The latest cases noticed are dated 1728.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 115. Olim peculium Ol. Acton et E. Umfreville.

Another copy of the preceding Index.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ineuntis, ff. 62.

1. Notes of tenancies in Essex, from 44 Eliz. to 3 Jas. I., 1602–1606. fol. 1.

   Headed: "Brevia de conventione in com. Essex, abstracted owt of Mr. Aplegarth the curristers booke."
2. Notes of fines, inquisitions, inrolments, and recoveries in Essex. ff. 19–62.

   The Fines extend from about 1607 to 1614; the Inquisitions post mortem (names only) 33 Eliz.–7 Jas. (ff. 48–9); the Inrolments (ff. 58–9) are of 44 Eliz. and 4–6 Jas.; and the Recoveries (ff. 60–62) are 4–6 Jas.

   The lands to which the deeds refer appear to be those of the Duchy of Lancaster; and the cover of the volume is part of a grant to R. Tomlyns, bailiff of the Duchy, 1 Jac. I.

   At fol. 31 are notes "abstr. owt of Mr. Fuller's rolles."

   The volume probably formed part of W. Holman's Essex collections.

363.

12. Engraving of a silver Russian cup in the possession of William Brome, of Hereford. fol. 65.

370.

Codex membranaceus, bene exaratus, in folio, sæc. xvi. ff. 17.

Indenture quadripartite between Henry VII., abbot John Islip and the convent of Westminster, abbot John and the monastery of Our Lady of Grace beside the Tower (otherwise called Eastminster Abbey), and the mayor and commonalty of London, for an anniversary and obit to be celebrated yearly in the church of Our Lady of Grace for the souls of Hen. VII., his queen, &c., together with the prescribed form of prayer. Dated 20 Nov. 1504.

The first page is surrounded with a broad border of floral illumination with the portcullis, and the initial letter contains the royal arms. The binding is of purple velvet (lately renewed according to the old pattern) with central bosses of roses on the sides, portcullises at the eight corners (of which one is wanting), and clasps.

An indenture of the same date, similarly written and bound, for the foundation of a like obit in St. Paul's cathedral, is preserved among bishop Barlow's MSS. in the Bodl. Libr., No. 28. A second similar indenture founding an obit in the convent of St. Alban, London, is preserved in Harl. MS. 28; and another, for an obit in the chapel of St. Mary the Virgin in Westminster Abbey, establishing also the almsmen there, &c., in Harl. MS. 1498, of which an abstract is printed by Astle at the end of his edition of the Will of Hen. VII., 4to. Lond. 1775.

Codex membranaceus, binis columnis, in folio, sæc. xii. exeuntis, ff. 85. Olim inter codices Thomæ Rawlinson, 235.

S. Gregorii Homiliarum in Evangelia libri duo.

In margine folii primi (in quo habetur tabula homiliarum libri i.) est hæc nota: "Præter istas omelias hic intitulatas sequuntur tres aliæ," quarum prima (fol. 12) est Gregorii super parabola sementis, secunda (fol. 36) anonymi cujusdam super parabola divitis qui villicum habebat, tertia (fol. 40 b) Anselmi in Martham (inter Opp. hom. ix.).

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 30.

"A discourse of visions and other dispensations called extraordinary .... with a vindication of some who are now blessed with such dispensations." [By Thomas Bromley.]

The greater part, extending to fol. 20, together with the conclusion (at ff. 28 b–9), is printed under the title of An Account of the various ways of God's manifesting himself to Man, at the end of Bromley's Way to the Sabbath of Rest, 8vo. Lond. 1710. The portion contained in the MS. which is omitted in the printed copy, respects the Christian's law of renunciation with regard to natural relations, marriage, and the possession of property.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvi. ff. 61. Olim "Joannis Lengbiri (?) liber."

"Consilium theologicum in cujusdam viri gratiam privatim conscriptum, quo authoritate sacrarum literarum ostenderet an et quatenus Christiani in ecclesiis pontificia tyranide adhuc pressis degentes, illarum ritibus et peractionibus comunicare possint; quis quoque uniuscujusque ritus sit fons verus, usus atque abusus; authore sanctiss. et celiberimo sacrarum literarum professore M. Bucero."

Incip. "Christi membrum haberi nobis debet quicunque invocat nomen Christi."

In fine: "1544. Descripta mense Julio."

374.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ff. 15.

Letter from a Roman Catholic to a lady, in reply to an answer from a clergyman of the English Church to her question, "Which is the true Church?"

Written about 1666, and probably to some one at Hornchurch in Essex, as may be conjectured from the following words (fol. 1 b)—"as if one should aske, which is now the true church of England? and another should answer, Horn-church is a true church of England."

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ineuntis, ff. 54.

"✠ Ad clerum Anglicanum: To the English clergy. The history of the Real Presence and Transubstantiation in the Blessed Sacrament;" being a defence of the Roman doctrine.

Beg. "Claudius de Sainctes hath well observed."

At fol. 2 is the following passage:—"more particularly of late, when soe many of them (I speake of the clergie) went together in a sad procession to Westminster-Hall, there to make a new subscription, in great and prompt obedience indeed to an act of state, butt in open defiance to the knowen and undoubted tradition and ffayth of the true Christian world."

376.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 39.

Trials of James Leonard, Robert Scarisbrick, and John Ashton, at Lancaster September Assizes, 1718, for high treason.

A note by E. Umfreville, mentioning that these trials were never printed, is written on a fly-leaf.

377.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. exeuntis, ff. 33.

Forms of pleas, with a few entries; "some of which were settled by considerable counsell." (Note by R. Rawlinson.)

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. exeuntis, ff. 93.

1. Outline of anatomy, in (apparently) a translation of lectures delivered in the College of Physicians. fol. 1.

Beg. "Having formerly read of the subject of anatomie before your Worships in my turn, and by your order, and the order of this House." In a copyist's hand. The author studied under Mr. Mullins, and mentions besides, Dr. Argent, Dr. Winston, Mr. Blackly, Dr. Mumford [or Moundeford], Dr. Gifford [or Giffard], Dr. Baskervile, Dr. Ramsey, Dr. Meverall, Dr. Wilson, Dr. Barker, and Dr. Herring. These appear to have been physicians and surgeons practising temp. Car. I.

The following cases of dissection are mentioned —Sir Rob. Parkehurst, Lord Mayor of London in 1634, Lord Paget, "lately" (who died in 1628), and Mr. Huge Haire (Eyre?).

2. "Of Chirurgerie;" an outline of the elements, in which the art is divided into five sections, (1) tumors, (2) ulcers, (3) wounds, (4) fractures, (5) luxations. fol. 40.

ff. 34–39 contain a brief abstract of this outline.

3. "An introduction to the art of physicke;" in three divisions, (1) on the natural life of man, (2) the ancient schools of medicine, (3) the duty of the rational physician. fol. 63.

Inserted at the beginning of the volume, on a separate sheet, is a copy of "An account of what [was] observ'd att the opening the body of Mr. John Tutchin, 25 Sept. 1707," by James Wasse, jun., and five other surgeons with two apothecaries.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ineuntis, ff. 91.

A Hortus siccus of the plants of Barbadoes, containing descriptions of 74 plants found in that island, with specimens of the leaves.

In some instances the specimens have been lost.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xv.–xvii. ff. 275. Olim peculium cujusdam "Andrew Philipps."

1. Year-books for viii.–xi., and Mich. Term xii., Hen. IV., 1406–1411; (imperf.) fol. 1.

2. Formulæ brevium. fol. 105.

3. The customs of London, in French and English; with a dedicatory letter from H. C. to John Barton; (unfinished.) fol. 111.

4. "Brevia in causis reginarum hujus regni Angliæ de tempore in tempus facta, in officio placitorum de curia Scaccarii" in term. Mich., anno vii. Edw. III., una cum duobus in term. Hil., anno xlix. Edw. III., et uno in term. Hil., xix. Edw. IV. fol. 123.

5. A collection of writs, pardons, letters patent, etc., in the time of Q. Eliz.; with a table of the subjects at the end. fol. 159.

"This booke was written by Stephen Browne, a clark in the Crowne office in Chauncerie, who served in that office 36 yeres, and gaue it me 3 Aprill, 1604. G. Coppinger." The first 31 leaves are wanting. At the end are added copies of other writs by another hand.

On fol. 270 b is a note that George Browne and Margaret Gardener were married 29 Oct. 1538, and that Stephen Browne was christened 25 Feb. 1541. On ff. 274 b–5 are memoranda of fees received in 1566–1574.

Printed under the title of "Anecdota Sydenhamiana; medical notes and observations of Thomas Sydenham, M.D., hitherto unpublished," [by Dr. W. A. Greenhill], 12mo. Oxf. 1845.

4. "A copy of Mr. H. his letter wrote against the Cortex Peruv.," Oct. 1680. p. 35.
"An answer to Mr. H. letter" by Dr. Charles Goodall. p. 36.

5. "Præparationes variæ Corticis Peruviani;" Dec. 1680. p. 43.

6. Various prescriptions, 1678–1693. pp. 46–51.

7. Printed prospectus, on one folio leaf, of an anonymous work (which does not appear to have been ever published), to be entitled, "Medicæ dissertationes tres; quarum prima agit de morbis qui ad incurabilium classem referuntur; secunda de febribus intermittentibus, hasque comitantibus continuis; tertia Corticis Peruviani historiam usumque tradit." Dated at London, Feb. 1680.

Probably by Dr. Richard Morton, and exhibiting the first outline of his book published in 1692 under the title of Πυρετολογία. Other copies are to be found in MS. C. 419.

8. "Questions to be proposed concerning the Kinkina tree to any of the natives of Peru, ... Spanish or English merchants, &c." p. 53.

9. "Mr. Hill's account about the Cortex, an. 1687," its price, &c. p. 53.

10. Two chemical experiments of Dr. Grew. p. 54.

11. "Cortex Peruv.; a copy of a letter of Dr. Slare's about the Extract, Nov. 8, 1693." p. 55.

12. "Relation of the Peruvian tree given by a Spaniard educated in Loxa to Dr. Morton, Nov. 9, 1693." p. 56.

13. Copy of a letter from Dr. Charles Goodall to Sir Thos. Millington, from Tunbridge Wells in 1702, giving an account of the death of the Earl of Kent. pp. 61–64.

14. "Enquiries to be made about bills of mortality, air, diseases, &c." p. 68.

15. "Dr. Willoughby of the bills of mortality in Dublin, Apr. 17, 1691." p. 69.

16. Extract from a letter sent to Mr. Lock from Amsterdam, Feb. $169\frac{2}{3}$, on the mortality there in 1691–2. p. 83.

17. Copies of proposals given in by Dr. Betts to the Court of Aldermen in 1675 and 1676, for more accurate returns in the Bills of Mortality, with orders thereupon, and a letter from Sir Robert Vyner, Lord Mayor, to Dr. Betts, dated 31 Jan. 1675. pp. 84, 85.

18. Copy of surgical notes by Mr. James Yonge of Plymouth, and of two letters from him in 1695. pp. 88, 89.

19. Copy of a letter from Dr. L. Eales, dated 14 May, 1694. p. 90.

20. Proposals by Dr. Willoughby for the improvement of waste lands in Ireland by the Crown. p. 91.

21. Weekly bills of mortality in Dublin for the years 1695, 1696; with copies of two letters from Dr. Patrick Dun relating to the same, of which the last is dated 2 March, 1698. pp. 92–97.

22. Copies of three autobiographical letters from Samuel Wesley, the rector of Epworth, the first dated 22 Aug. 1692, and the last 29 Oct. 1698, containing an account of his life at Oxford and early struggles for his maintenance, and of his education at Nonconformist academies. pp. 100–109.

The second and third were printed under the title of A letter from a Country Divine to his Friend in London, concerning the Education of the Dissenters in their Private Academies; of which the second edition appeared in 1704. The names which are there suppressed, or given only under initials, are here given in full.

23. Copy of the Appendix attached by Peter Barwick, M.D., to his Life of John Barwick, published in 1721, respecting the authorship of Εἰκων Βασιλική. Lat. p. 359.

24. Fragment of a paper containing "Reasons for passing the Physicians' Bill."

An index of the contents of the volume is added at the end, from which it appears that copies of many papers relating to the authorship of Εἰκων Βασιλική formerly filled up the present hiatus between pp. 110–357, together with a few medical letters by Drs. Goodall, Comber, and Harris, and a list of anonymous books published between 1640–50. It may consequently seem probable that the volume was transcribed for Thomas Wagstaffe, who published his vindication of the royal authorship of the Εἰκων in 1711, and who, after his deprivation as a non-juror, practised as a physician.

Sir Henry Spelman's treatise, De Sepultura.

Printed, 4to. Lond. 1641. On the fly-leaf is a note in Hearne's early handwriting, "In the printed copy are some marginal notes not to be met with here." Formerly, as it seems, No. 19 of the MSS. of Tho. Smith, D.D.

408.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvi. ff. 30.

"The order off therraynment of Sir Nycholas Throckmorton, knyght, in the Gylde Halle in London, the xviith daye of Aperill, a^{o} 1554, expressyd in a dialoge ffor the better understandinge of every mannes parte."

Printed in vol. i. of the various editions of the State Trials.

Volume i. of the MSS. of John Lewis, minister of Margate.

1. "A brief history of the rise and progress of Anabaptism in England, to which is prefixed some account of the learned Dr. Wiclif;" 8vo. Lond. 1738. A copy of the printed book, interleaved, and prepared for a second edition, with very large MS. additions; dated March 1, 1741. ff. 1–83.

2. Accounts of Paul Hobson, Thomas Lamb, and William Allen, three teachers who abandoned the Anabaptists; narrative by Thomas Danson, minister at Sandwich, of his dispute with Sam. Fisher; and an account of John Bunyan, taken from his own works. ff. 2–34. (second foliation.)

This was probably intended to form part of the following work; but the names above-mentioned do not occur in the index given there at p. 49.

3. "An historical account of some of the first English Anabaptist teachers and writers; being an appendix to A brief History of the Rise and Progress of Anabaptism in England; to which is added a specimen of the negligences and ignorances of the reply made to it; 1738. By J. Lewis." fol. 36.

At fol. 212 this title-page is partly repeated, with the following addition:—"to which is præfixed Mr. Izaak Walton's character of the times in Q. Elizabeth's reign." This extract (from Walton's Life of Hooker) is incorporated in an Introduction there following, which occupies eight leaves.

4. "The practice of infant baptism agreeable to the tenor of Divine Revelation, in answer to an anonymous Enquiry, &c. printed 1733; in a letter to a friend; to which is added another letter, in answer to the reflections made on the Brief History of the English Anabaptists, in the History of the Works of the Learned for October, 1738." fol. 86.

5. "The efficacy and validity of the baptisms ministred in the Church of England; to which is added a brief defence of the learned and reverend William Wall, D.D. Jan. 6, 1745." fol. 114.

6. "The novelty of English Anabaptism; or a vindication of the Brief History [&c.] printed A.D. 1738, being a further defence of the learned and worthy Dr. John Witclif and his followers from the false charge of their being Anabaptists, and of the Church and Clergy of England; to which is added, An account of John Smith, the first English Anabaptist teacher, and of the ill treatment of Dr. W. Wall by some English Anabaptists; by J. Lewis, minister of Mergate." fol. 144.

The preface is dated 29 Aug. 1742. Imperfect, the Account &c. mentioned in the title not being found here; but see art. 2 in the next volume.

7. "An examination of vol. i. of [Crosby's] book entituled, The History of the English Baptists. 1738." fol. 170.

8. "The history of the English Anabaptists and the singular opinions of that new sect, collected from prints and MSS.; to which is added a collection of original papers, &c. June, 1740." fol. 221.

Six pages, between pp. 11–18, are wanting. There is no appendix of papers, and the tract appears to consist only of a draught for the preface to the History, with notes on the history of the 20th Article of the Church of England.

9. A vindication of his tracts against the Anabaptists, with some special reference to a pamphlet written against him by Nathaniel Mathew. fol. 237.

This volume and the next formed lot 128 at the sale of Lewis's MSS. together with the library of George Holmes, 22 Dec. 1749, and were then bought by Dr. Rawlinson for nine shillings, according to his own priced catalogue now in the Bodleian Library.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 345.

Vol. ii. of the MSS. of Rev. John Lewis.

1. A second draught of a preface for the second edition of the Brief History of the English Anabaptists. fol. 1.

Begin. "When I lately put together some collections I had made about fourty years ago in order to a Brief History, &c." Dated 12 Nov. 1739.

2. "A brief narrative of the rude and reproachful treatment of the learned, eminent [&c.] Will. Wall, D.D., by the learned John Gale in his Remarks, and by the anonymous author of the account of Dr. Gale's Life prefixed to his Sermons printed 1724; for the use of the English Anabaptists, particularly those of Kent." fol. 14.

Apparently intended as an appendix to art. 4 infra, or to art. 6 in the preceding volume.

3. Short accounts of the Anabaptists, the Wickliffists, and the Lollards; apparently intended for an Encyclopædia after the manner of Bayle. fol. 28.

4. "A rebuke to English Anabaptism in an account of a book entituled, A Treatise of Baptism, published by Henry Danvers, 1676, by Will. Wall, D.D. in his History of Infant Baptism, second edit. 1707; to which is added, An account of the treatment given to Dr. Wall for publishing his History." fol. 39.

Lewis's Preface to these extracts from Wall is dated March 25, 1743.

5. "A plain and honest defence of a book entituled, A brief History of the Rise and Progress of Anabaptism in England, and of the author of it." fol. 51.

Dated at the end, "Margate, Oct. 27, 1738."

6. "Infant Baptism most agreeable with the institution of Christ, shewn in an explanation of the VI. and XXVII. Articles of Religion of the Church of England." fol. 71.

The Preface is dated April 29, 1743.

7. "A defence of A Brief History of the Rise and Progress of Anabaptism in England, from the account given of it in the History of the Works of the Learned, for Oct. 1738." fol. 95.

8. "The history of the rise and progress of Anabaptism in England and the singular opinions of that sect; collected and written in the year 1739 by John Lewis." fol. 120.

Introduction, ff. 121–139; text, ff. 159–345.

9. "A few remarks on a little pamphlet entituled, Believers Baptism vindicated by the 6th and 19th Articles and the Catechism of the Church of England," addressed to the author, Nathanael Mathew. fol. 141.

Dated Oct. 20, 1742.

At the end is a parcel of eleven slips of paper containing notes on a few passages in the History of the English Anabaptists, by William Newton, M.A., Curate of Wingham, Kent, and sent by him to Lewis.

411.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 319.

Vol. iii. of the MSS. of Rev. John Lewis.

1. "A dissertation on the manner of baptizing used by the British Christians; to which is added a vindication of the Pighards or Waldenses of Bohemia from the false accusation of their being Anabaptists, &c.; with several other tracts mentioned in the next page. The second edition, corrected, with additions." fol. 1.

This includes, at ff. 19–36, another Brief History of the English Anabaptists, which commences, "The learned and impartial Dr. W. Wall observed as the result of his enquiry into the History of Infant Baptism," &c.

2. "A short explanation of the questions and answers in the Church Catechism relating to the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, collected from the Articles, Homilies, and Common Prayer of the Church of England, for the use of a country parish." fol. 43.

Dated 10 July, 1742.

3. A vindication of Luther, chiefly from the charges made against him in a book published at Antwerp in 1716 entitled, The Shortest Way to end Disputes about Religion. fol. 57.

Intended to form the Introduction to another work, probably to art. 12 infra.

4. A letter to "Britannicus," in reply to the animadversions in vol. ii. of Collier's Ecclesiastical History upon Burnet's History of the Reformation. fol. 93.

5. "A defence of the clergy of the Church of England from the charge of Nonconformity brought against them by the writer of a late pamflet entituled, Certain queries of Eirenicus considered [in a letter to the rev. Mr. Arrowsmith]; in a letter to D. P., esq." fol. 115.

The charge of Nonconformity refers to the practice of not reading the Ante-Communion Service at the altar when there is no administration.

6. "The religion of Protestants no novelty, or, 'The Poyntes which are put by Bischopis Ordinancis upon men that thei callen Lollaris, with their answeris;' by one of the Lollaris in the reign of K. Henry VI.; to which is added Hildegardis's prophecy of Freris." fol. 130.

The Preface, which is dated Apr. 20, 1745, commences thus:—"The following papers are faithfully transcribed from a little MS. collection which seems to me to have been first written in K. Henry VI. reign." The "Poyntis" (in number 16) to which the Lollards make answer begin thus:—"The fyrst. The breade or the ost in the aulter sacride of the preast is not very Godys bodie, but it is the very same bread in kynde that it was before."

7. "An essay towards a history of the Thirty-nine Articles of Religion; collected and written February, $173\frac{5}{8}$." fol. 144.

8. "Articles of Religion contained in the Confession of Christian Faith drawn up by the English refugees at Geneva, and prefixed to the Manner and Form of Common Prayer and Administration of the Sacraments, &c. published there A.D. M.D.L.VI." fol. 180.

9. "The case of ministers using a prayer of their own in their pulpits before sermon; wherein it is shewn that such an usage is not contrary to either law or canon, but most agreeable to the practice of the primitive Church; to which is added an ancient form of bidding the bedes on festivals." fol. 184.

The "Form of bidding the bedes" is now bound up in the following volume, fol. 49.

10. "The Religion of the Church of England a safe way to salvation; or, a sober vindication of the Order for the administration of the Lord's Supper in the English Liturgy from the charge brought against it by some late writers of its being unprimitive and essentially defective." fol. 200.

11. "Of the distinction betwixt the invisible and visible Church of Christ used by Protestants." fol. 226.

12. "The novelty of the Popish creed, or, Popery not as ancient as Christianity; in answer to a Popish book entituled, The Shortest Way to end Disputes about Religion, printed [at Antwerp] in 1716." fol. 240.

13. "A short and plain exhortation to such persons as have been baptized and are come to years of discretion, and are desirous to be confirmed." fol. 301.

14. Extract from pp. 148–152 of the second edition of Richard Wiseman's Chirurgical Treatises, printed in 1686, relating to hernia. fol. 316.

This volume, and apparently part of that which follows, was purchased by Rawlinson at the sale of Lewis's MSS. for 5*s.*; it is numbered 129 in the sale catalogue.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 369.

A fourth volume of the miscellaneous MSS. of Rev. John Lewis, of Margate.

1. "A further discovery of the arts of the English Catholic missioners to unsettle the minds of the clergy and people of the Church of England, and cause them to question whether their religion be a safe way to salvation; with some remarks on Mr. Charles Wheatly's Illustration, alias Obscuration and Depraving, of the Book of Common Prayer; by a Minister of the reformed Church of England by law established;" Feb. 7, 1745. fol. 1.
2. "A supplement to the fourth edition of the first part of the Clergyman's Vade-Mecum; by Constantine Richerius, J.U.D.; April 28, 1716;" being criticisms and notes by Lewis upon Johnson's book. fol. 11.
3. "A form of Bidding the Bedes used in festivals in the diocese of Worcester in the reign of K. Edward III.; Bp. Andrews's prayer before sermon in Q. Elizabeth's reign; to which is prefix'd a brief account of the rise of bidding the beads as used in the times of popery, and of the agreeableness of a prayer in the pulpit before sermon to the usage of the primitive Church and the custom of the Church of England since the Reformation." fol. 49.
4. "The history of the English Reformation;" the commencement of a brief sketch, extending to the year 1534. fol. 73.
5. "The late proceedings in the University of Cambridge against Dr. Bently shewn to be against the statutes of that famous University, with some brief remarks on [Middleton's] Full and Impartial Account, &c.; by a hearty lover of the University;" dated Christmas Day, 1718. fol. 86.
6. "The judgment of the Church of England concerning pluralities of benefices with cure and non-residences; to which is prefixed a brief history of the attempts made to restrain such pluralities in England, and the reasons given for these attempts." fol. 107.
7. "A dissertation to shew the use or manner of the British Churches baptizing before the coming of Austin the Monk." fol. 141.
8. A few notes on Hudibras, edit. 1744, chiefly with reference to ecclesiastical customs. fol. 155.
9. "Collections concerning the German Anabaptists and Dr. Witclif; letters, &c.; 1738." ff. 164–180.
   i. "Extract. e capite liii. Doctrinal. Fidei Eccles. Catholic. contra Wiclevistas, Hussitas, &c. per Tho. Walden;" manu Joh. Denne. fol. 165.
   ii. Extract from a letter from — Aylmer, dated 19 Apr. 1739, respecting the admission of Mr. John Johnson (afterwards Vicar of Cranbrook) at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, in 1682. fol. 165 b.
   iii. "Extract. e Arn. Meshovii Histor. Anabaptist. impress. Colon. 1617." fol. 166.
   iv. "Extract. e Jos. Vicecomitis Observat. Ecclesiasticis, impress. Mediolani, 1615." fol. 168 b.
   v. Letter from Dr. John Denne to Lewis, accompanying the above extract from Walden (taken from the copy in Sion College Library) and that relating to Johnson; Vaux-Hall, 25 Apr. 1739. fol. 170.
   vi. Letter to the same from John Hickes (a Dissenter, 70 years of age) thanking him for his pamphlets written in controversy with [Crosby and] the Anabaptists; King Street, Upper Moor Fields, 21 Oct. 1738. fol. 171.
   vii. Letter to the same from Rev. William Newton, returning the MS. of a tract in defence of Wicliff in answer to some controversial opponent, [apparently the MS. of the second edition of the Brief History of Anabaptism]; Wingham, 3 Apr. 1739. fol. 173.
   viii. Letter from Thomas Cobb to Rev. — Deedes, Christ Church, Canterbury, containing particulars from the Lydd registers of one Samuel Fisher, lecturer there in 1643, in reply to enquiries on the part of Lewis; Lydd, 20 Feb. 1739. fol. 174.
   ix. Notes from the Lives of Zuinglius and Luther by M. Adamus of the rise of Anabaptism in Germany. fol. 175.
   x. Letter from Lewis to N. Matthew, an Anabaptist writer, acknowledging the receipt of his printed Letter; 10 Dec. 1742. fol. 176.

   A postscript is subjoined which was sent on 19 Dec.
   xi. A long reply by N. Matthew to the preceding letter, charging Lewis with using reviling language; Birchington, 28 Dec. 1742. fol. 177.
   xii. Rejoinder by Lewis to the preceding reply, giving an account of the occasion of his entering into the controversy respecting Baptism, and of his pamphlets; 1 Jan. 174$\frac{2}{3}$. fol. 179.

10. "The Church of England man's profession of Christian faith, extracted out of the Articles of Religion and the Book of Common Prayer." fol. 181.

11. "Observations on the growth of popery in England and the occasions of it;" [with animadversions on Johnson's Unbloody Sacrifice;] dated 11 June, 1742. fol. 198.

12. "Brief remarks on a deceitful and abusive pamphlet entituled, Observations &c.;" [apparently a tract by Crosby in reply to Lewis's Brief History &c.;] dated 30 May, 1743. fol. 218.

13. "A sermon," on 2 Cor. xi. 26, "preached in the cathedral-church of Canterbury on Tuesday, Nov. 5," &c. fol. 234.

14. "An history of Bidding Prayer, wherein is shewn that the using a precatory form of prayer in the pulpit before sermon is agreeable to the usage of the primitive Church, and has been commonly practised in the Church of England for above 100 years past; to which is added some remarks on Mr. Wheatly's notion of the obligation of the Canons and his censure of the Royal Supremacy; written in the year 1718." fol. 261.

15. "A letter to the reverend Mr. George Whitfield in answer to his to the right reverend the Bishop of London." fol. 318.

16. "Of the books used in churches and monasteries &c. here in England before the Reformation." fol. 353.

17. "Of the vestments in use in the Church of England before the Reformation." fol. 361.

18. "Church utensils or ornaments." fol. 365.

19. List of Religious Houses formerly existing in the diocese of Canterbury. fol. 368.

Articles 16–19 formed lot 123 at the sale of Lewis's MSS., where they were purchased by Rawlinson for 5*s*.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 205.

"The history of the life of the right reverend Reginald Pecock, S.T.P., Lord Bishop of St. Asaph and Chichester in the reign of K. Henry the VIth, being a sequel of the history of the life of Dr. John Wiclif [&c.]; written in the year 1725, and now reviewed by John Lewis, A.M., Minister of Mergate, and Chaplain to the Right Hon. Thomas, Earl of Malton. 1732."

Printed, 8vo. Lond. 1744, and reprinted at the Clarendon Press in 1820.

The greater part of the MS. is in the handwriting of an amanuensis, with additions and corrections by Lewis. At the end are, (1) A collection of (fifteen) papers and records referred to in the Life; (2) Glossary of obsolete English words; (3) Index to the Lives of Wiclif and Pecock. About twelve leaves have been cut out at the end of chapter ii.

This volume, together with two others containing the Lives of Wiclif and Fisher, was purchased by Sir Peter Thompson at the sale of Lewis's MSS. for £6 16*s*. 6*d*.; and appears (from the prefatory notice in the Clarendon edition) to have been obtained by the Delegates of the University Press from Mr. W. Clarke, a London bookseller, at the same time as the Life of Wiclif, which had been bought by him at the sale of Sir P. Thompson's library. In 1827 it was transferred to the Bodl. Libr. at the price of £8 8*s*.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ff. 318.

1. Copies of letters written by Henry Carey, Lord Falkland, as Lord Deputy of Ireland, in 1622–4. fol. 2.

   Unfortunately the names of almost all the persons mentioned are expressed only by initials, and no dates are given; but on fol. 1 is part of an order to the agents of the Earl of Desmond to pay 20*s.* Irish upon every tun of wine received for prisage under a patent to the Lord Admiral for the term of seven years, a former grant for nine years and a half from 25 Sept. 1612 having expired 25 March last; and at fol. 56 b one letter is dated 28 Oct. 1623.

2. Copy-book of petitions presented to the Lords Justices of Ireland, Loftus and Wandesford, with the orders issued thereupon from 25 June to 24 Nov. 1636; with an index of names. fol. 92.

   Many of the petitions are simply from creditors for orders against debtors, and some relate to disputes about lands. They are entered in the Index to this Catalogue under the names of the various petitioners. On the back of the last leaf (fol. 222) is this note: "By the Lords Justices of Ireland these to bee presented. Ralphe Rossingrave."

3. "A narrative how basely the Baron of Corthuy has been abus'd by the Irish during the late war; and how he has escap'd hanging." fol. 232.

   An autobiographical account by Adrian Adornes, baron of Corthuy and lord of Ronsele in Flanders, a resident at Shruele in the county of Mayo, of the troubles he endured from the Irish during the years 1689–91 on account of his remaining neutral, as a foreigner, during the war, and of his imprisonment at Galway on suspicion of communicating with the English. He gives as the reason for his own settlement in Ireland the impossibility of obtaining in Flanders for his Protestant wife, Mary Carteret, niece to Sir George and Sir Edward Carteret (whom he married at St. James's, London, in July 1686), the free enjoyment of her religion. Lady Mary de Vic, a cousin, lived with them. It is mentioned at fol. 262 that that part of the narrative was written on 14 Oct. 1700. Unfortunately the concluding portion of the MS. is lost, the story ending imperfectly with the writer's departure from Galway after its surrender. It is written in very fair English, but is extremely diffuse and wordy.

4. Copies of petitions relative to the revenue in Ireland, and of reports thereon, from Dec. (a report on a petition presented in Aug.) 1683 to Aug. 1684. fol. 264.

   A portion of a book, commencing at p. 163.

   Prefixed to the volume is a short list of contents in the handwriting of Rev. J. Price, formerly Librarian of the Bodleian.

445.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 10.

"List of pentions payable by William Steuart, esq.," in the time of George II.

Occasional notes are added of the deaths of the pensioners etc. to the commencement of 1742. Among the names are those of Geo. Fred. Handel £400, Ruperta Howe ("died 4 July, 1741," the natural daughter of Prince Rupert) £500, and Edw. Young, LL.D., £200. To the name of Stephen Lynch, which occurs twice, a pensioner for £300 (who was a witness against Layer on his trial for a plot in 1723) are added in both instances, in red ink, the words, "the price of blood."

Codex membranaceus, in folio maj., sæc. xv. ff. 174. In fol. ult. est nomen, "Ane Sheldone." Olim inter codd. MSS. Jos. Jekyll, No. 416; exinde emptus pretio £8 15*s*.

The Siege of Troy; translated into verse by John Lydgate from Guido de Columna's version of Dares Phrygius and Dictys Cretensis.

A fine copy, well written in double columns, with wide margins, a few illuminated initials, and miniatures at the commencement of each of the four books. The translation was begun, as the prologue informs us, in the fourteenth year of Henry IV. (1413), at the desire of Henry Prince of Wales, and was completed probably in 1416, since in the conclusion of his work Lydgate prays for

"Helthe, welfare, victorye and honour
Unto þat noble myȝty conquerour
Herry þe fifthe, to forn y specefied."

Some panegyrical verses follow, beginning,

"Most worþi prince, of knyȝthode sours and well."

Probably this MS. was the original presentation copy, as the miniature on the first leaf represents the author kneeling and giving his book to the king [Henry IV.], who is represented as an old white-bearded man.

The margins of the book have in several places been mutilated, and at fol. 147 half of the leaf has been cut out.

Codex membranaceus, in folio, sæc. xiv. ff. 186. Olim inter codd. Gualteri Clavell; exinde emptus anno 1742 per — Nichols pretio 8*s*. 6*d*.; [vid. exemplar Catal. in Bibl. Bodl., p. 89, hodie "Mus. Bibl. iii. 8vo. 15."]

French translation of the first decade of Livy, by Pierre Berchoire, abbot of St. Giles' at Paris.

Title: "Ci commence le prologue ou liure de tytuslivius de lystoire romaine, le quel frere pierre berceure prieur a present de saint eloy de paris a tranlate de [la]tin en francois." (The translator died in 1362.)

Printed at Paris in 1486–7, and subsequently. On a fly-leaf at the end is a rough pen-and-ink drawing of a castle.

Codex membranaceus, in folio maj., binis columnis, sæc. xv. ff. 185; mutilus quoad fol. ult. In tegmine: "Sum Lanceloti Bruni, ex dono Edmundi Engloti, junioris, 5 Cal. Maii, 1582." Postea, (ut videtur), inter codd. Gualt. Clavell (Catal. p. 89), et exinde emptus a — Batho pretio £2 12*s.* 6*d.*

Boccaccio's Fall of Princes, translated into English verse by John Lydgate.

Well written, with wide margins, and with small illuminated initials; bound in oak boards.

On two fly-leaves is prefixed, in a hand of the fifteenth century, a table of contents in English, which ends thus:—

"Assit fini operis hujus immortalis Deus, cui gracias agit Guilermus Galis."

A short metrical chronicle of the Kings of England follows (not Lydgate's), which is continued on the margin of the opposite leaf and on the margins of the last two leaves in the volume, and which begins as follows:—

"Wylyame conqueroure, Duke of Normandie, Conquerd Ynglond, & began here to regne."

It ends at the reign of Henry VIII.

The leaves of the MS. are marked by the original scribe at the foot with the letters of the alphabet in quires numbered in eights, according to the mode in use amongst printers; many of the signatures, however, have been cut off.

On the cover of the book are the following lines, possibly written by the writer of the above-mentioned chronicle:—

"Who redith in this booke discretly,
Fyndyng the pope in ony place,
Put hym owt I besych yow hartely,
For I refuse hym and all his trace,
Submyttyng my sylff to owr kyngs grace,
Who is owr hede and most noble governowr,
Whom God preserve every tyme and howr."

On the covers are also these notes: (1) a receipt "to sley and distroy ratons;" (2) "The ryght wey from Sywell [Northants] to Stonton barre [Bucks] and to Bradwell is thus, fyrst to Byllinge brygge, and so forth to Horton, and fro thens to Stokegoldyngton, and so forth to Getehyrst, and so to Stonton barre, &c." (3) [at the end], Rents received by the abbess of Elnestowe, or Elstow, Beds, from four tenants in Sywell, William Sayer being receiver.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xvii. ff. 84.

"An eternall Testament, which the soul maketh with the being of God, by resigning of herself to have communion with the eternall Deitie in the coëssentiall life, testified within the hearts of the lovers of truth for a patterne of life; all by Hiël, [the coëssentiall life of God];" a translation from Hiel's Ewig Testament published in German at Amsterdam in 1687. [See Georgi's Bücher-Lexicon, 1742, vol. ii. p. 253.]

The real name of the fanatical mystic who wrote under the pseudonym Hiel was Hendrik Janson, or Jansen, who lived in the Netherlands in the middle of the seventeenth century. See Arnold's Kirchen-und-Ketzer Historie, Frankf. am M. 1700, vol. iii. pp. 23–30. In Adelung's Supplement to Jöcher's Allg. Gelehrten-Lex. he is erroneously identified with Friedr. Breckling, a German mystic, who died in 1711.

Codex membranaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xv. ff. 16.

Statutes, in English, of a guild called the Guild of All Saints, attached to All-Hallows Church [in Cambridge].

The office for the use of the guild is prefixed in Latin, being part of the first chapter of St. John's Gospel, followed by "Memoria de omnibus sanctis," and "Oracio pro fratribus et sororibus nostris."

Then (fol. 3), "Incipiunt hic statuta edita in honore omnium Sanctorum, de communi concensu omnium fratrum ejusdem gilde, anno Domini millesimo, cccc° lxxiii°, et quilibet frater in admissione sua debet jurare hujusmodi statuta observare." The leaf containing the second statute is wanting. The sixth statute provides that 30 masses shall be said for the souls of the brethren and sisters on their decease, each member of the guild offering at the burial-mass one farthing; and the seventh statute provides that any brother or sister falling into old age and great poverty shall have a weekly allowance of fourpence.

At fol. 15 follows an additional statute respecting the burial-services, made in 1504 ("by all the comyn assent") by John Manfelde, Richard Alwey, William Askam, Thomas Kelsey, John Elys and William Wyllys.

Printed in Ordinances of English Gilds, edited for the Early English Text Society by Mr. Toulmin Smith, in 1870, pp. 273–282.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 45. Annis 1748–9 peculium Thomæ Hobbes.

Elementary reading-book for the Russian and Polish languages, containing (1) The Sclavonic and Polish alphabets, (2) The first Psalm, the Epistle to Philemon, the Lord's Prayer, and the numerals, in Sclavonic, both as written and as pronounced, in Polish, in English and in German. By Conrad v. Pack Gleshinski, a native of Lower Silesia.

Prefixed is a dedication to Prince Rupert, in German, and at the end is an account of the help and money received by the compiler from many persons in England, of whom he mentions the following:—The King and the Duke of York (to whom, with others, he presented "ein Theatrum Cometicum"), Duke of Ormond, Archbishop of Canterbury, Bishops of London and Salisbury, Earl of Ailesbury, Countesses of Derby and Huntingdon, Ladies Dynham, Tyrrell, and Dormer ("d'Ormour"), Sir James Langham, Sir John Harpur, Sir Thos. Steevens, Sir Rich. Robinson, Sir Theodore de Vaux, Sir Rob. Vyner, Marq. Spinola, Sir Stephen Fox, Messrs. Lake, Clarke, Dilke, Osborn, Benlowes, Dr. Barlow, and — Geurdain, M.D. He had presented other copies of this MS. to the Bishops of Rochester, Oxford, Winchester, and Carlisle, Count Guldenlaw, the Earls of Orrery and Denbigh, Lord Barkeley, Sir Jon. Trelawny ("Trylany"), Sir Philip Warwick, Sir Leoline Jenkins, Drs. Stillingfleet, Willis, Pierce, and Fell; the gifts he received in return are mentioned. The volume concludes with an account of the origin and importance of the Sclavonic language and the reasons for its study.

At the end is inserted a short abstract of the contents of the volume, written by Mr. John Andreæ of Frankfort, May 22, 1769, at the request of Rev. John Price, then Librarian of the Bodleian Library.

On a fly-leaf is the following memorandum:—"Serjent Brown, at the sign of the Plume of Feathers near Argyle Buildings in Oxford Road, came from Dr. Maddocks at the French boarding-school near Cavendish Square."

3. "To our blessed Laidy the advocate of sinners." fol. 10 b.

   Beg.
   "All haile, O Virgin, crowned with starres,
   And moone under thy feet."

   A prayer follows, in which the writer intercedes for her parents "who have placed me here in Thy house," and for the convent to which she belongs. No names are mentioned, and the upper margin of the first leaf, which appears to have contained the writer's name, has been cut off.

582.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ineuntis, ff. 85.

Index [by Robert Fleming, junior, of Rotterdam] of references, under the various books of Holy Scripture, to the texts of sermons written by him, of which the notes are contained in volumes described as being bound respectively in turkey-leather, calves-leather, and parchment.

The greater part of these volumes (comprehending eleven in turkey, eleven in calf, and two in parchment) are now to be found in the Rawlinson collection of Sermons.

The index appears to have been only partially completed, and the volume is chiefly occupied with fragmentary notes of sermons.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 274.

"Som Scripture truths set forth," by James Hall. Written 19 Nov. 1647–16 Oct. 1648.

At the end (pp. 529–535) are a few religious verses.

Theological common-place book of notes and extracts, apparently written by a Scottish hand.

Extracts are given from Jewel's Apology, Bishop Hall's Sermons and Contemplations, "out of a sermon [on Luke xvi. 2] preached in the yeere 1388 at P[aul's] C[ross]," (p. 66), Withers' Abuses, Bishop Cowper's Holy Alphabet, Raleigh's History of the World, and Adams' Sermons.

On fol. 120 b are "Notes of a sermon delivered by one Mr. Hayes of Magdalen Hall in Oxford, before the king's judge being immediatly therefter to sit in the place of judgment, delivered in St. Mary Church, on Ester i. 15."

An index of matters is added at the end.

On various leaves, originally left blank, have been inserted by a Non-juror some extracts from pamphlets printed after 1700, as follow:—

1. Out of the Catechism of Christian Communion. fol. 60.
2. Out of a dialogue between D. and C. in opposition to Dodwell's Case in View now in Fact. fol. 61.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvi. ff. 3. Olim inter codd. T. Rawlinson, 124. "Read in August, 1719. Tho. Hearne."

"The fourme of byddyng of the comon prayers," as used in a parish church in the time of Edw. VI.

The date of the prayer is 1547, since it comprehends a petition for the union of England and Scotland by the marriage of the king "with the yong quene of Scotlande." "Quene Katerine dowagier" and the king's sisters Mary and Elizabeth are mentioned, and "Master Mayre of thys cytie with all hys brethern." Prayers are also desired for the "soules of my father and mother," and of "Master John Colmane, Elizabeth his wyffe, Master Thomas Bele, Alys his wyffe, Richard Knepe, quondam rector hujus ecclesie, Richard Warren, John Dyxon, and for all Chrysten sowles." The prayers for these departed persons have been subsequently erased, and the words "pray for all them that be departed" altered into "prayse God for," etc.

Originally printed (on vellum) by Dr. Rawlinson; reprinted, p. 16 vol. i. of The Crypt, 8°. Ringwood, 1827; and also printed in H. O. Coxe's Forms of Bidding Prayer, 1840, p. 75, from a copy by J. Lewis of Margate (in MS. 155 supra), in which the last paragraph is omitted.

Reply to the Premonition of King James I. to all Christian Princes, in vindication of the Roman Catholic religion; addressed to the king.

Beg. "Most mighty Soveraigne, kings have noe more glorious ornament of ther greatnes then pietie."

Qu. Is it a copy of Humphrey Leach's Humble Considerations, printed at St. Omer's in 1609?

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 72. In fol. ult., verso, "Mathew Edwards, his book, 1659."

"Veritas, the moderatrix of divisions in the Church, declaring the way to peace and tranquillity, couched in an answer to Mr. W. H. touching the morality of the Sabbath day, intituled Speculum Sabbati;" by William Seile.

A dedication to King Charles I. is prefixed, followed by an address to the High Court of Parliament, etc., and by a second title, with an epistle "to my reverend friend Mr. W. H., March 20, 1627." The second title is as follows:—

"Speculum Sabbati; wherein the false and weake grounds of the Sabbatists of our daies are discouered and refelled."

The book is apparently an answer to the view of the Fourth Commandment maintained in Will. Hinde's treatise on the Moral Law under the Gospel, published in 1620.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 40.

"A misticall exposition of doctor Salonius (borne att Vienna [Vienne]), and Bishop in Fraunce, upon the Ecclesiastes of Salomon. Translated out of Latine into English by John Melton."

Discourses and letters upon various theological subjects, controversial and practical; with a table of contents prefixed.

The following are the first six articles in the volume, out of sixty:—

1, 2. Two discourses concerning the use of set forms of prayer. pp. 1, 24.

3. A letter concerning transubstantiation. p. 36.

4. A letter concerning kneeling at the Sacrament. p. 42.

5. A letter concerning the marriage of cousins-german. p. 48.

6. A letter concerning baptizing of children. p. 51.

"The several discourses and letters contained in this booke were transcribed A.D. 1687."

At the end is inserted, in the same handwriting, a fast-sermon (in six leaves, 12mo) on Is. lviii. 3, preached in 1643.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xvii. ff. 94.

"A declaration of the Revelation of John out of the vision into the true being of Jesus Christ. All by Hiël, the uniforme life of God. Reprinted in the yeer of our Lord 1639. Translated out of the Dutch, 1657." Dated at the end, 1580.

The author who wrote under the name of Hiël was Hen. Jansen. [See MS. 540, supra].

On a fly-leaf are prefixed the English titles of eight other books by the same writer, of which the date of the German editions is given as 1687 in Georgi's Bücher-Lexicon.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xvii. ff. 78. In folio rejectaneo est nomen, "Anna Maria Tutt."

"Dicta H. N[icholas]; Documentall sentences, even as those same were spoken forth by H. N., and written up out of the words of his mouth, and are by him perused and more distinctly declared. Translated out of Base-Almayne."

Codices chartacei, in 4to, sæc. xvii.

Theological Adversaria of [Peter Gunning, D.D., bishop of Chichester], in thirteen volumes; chiefly in Latin.

The volumes (which were bound up after the papers came into Dr. Rawlinson's possession) are described in a MS. lettering on the back as being "Doctoris Turner, Decani Cantuar., Collectanea Theologica;" the handwriting, however, is identified with that of Bishop Gunning (to whom two papers in the volumes are addressed) by comparison with letters in the Tanner collection.

Rawlinson's acquisition of the papers of Bishop Turner is thus mentioned by himself in a letter to H. Owen, 16 Nov. 1749 (MS. 989, infra, fol. 84 b): "I met with, some few years since, the MSS. of Turner, Bishop of Ely, and his brother the President of Corpus, which lay dormant till after Mr. Chishull's death, executor to the President."

Vol. i. ff. 283. De precibus pro defunctis atque de purgatorio.

Vol. ii. ff. 176. De justificatione atque de fide.

Vol. iii. ff. 65. De electione.

Vol. iv. ff. 249. De perseverantia sanctorum, fide, atque justificatione.

A letter from H. H. (Dr. Henry Hammond) in answer to Dr. Jackson's view of Perseverance; 29 Oct. (Copy.) fol. 65.

Vol. v. ff. 284. De Dei et Christi nominibus.

Vol. vi. ff. 326. De cœlibatu clericorum, conjugio et continentia.

A paper signed B. Oley, and addressed "For Mr. Gunning," containing a few notes on early canons about marriage of the clergy. fol. 211.

Vol. vii. ff. 279. De Eucharistia.

A discourse "of the Holy Eucharist, reall presence, and adoration of Christ therein," chiefly in refutation of transubstantiation, ff. 195–204. The remainder of this discourse is bound up in the next volume at ff. 168–173.

Letter to a lady against transubstantiation. fol. 232.

Vol. viii. ff. 302. De Sacramento eodem.

Statement of the Roman doctrine on the Eucharist, addressed to a lady, with a table appended of 65 references to the Fathers in proof thereof. ff. 11–17.

Letter from John Bosworth, at the house of Mr. Bedford Whiting, merchant in Lille (dated Apr. 2, 1665), to Dr. Peter Gunning at Canterbury, enclosing a paper given him by a Romish priest, to which he desires an answer. fol. 21.

The paper (which follows at fol. 22, headed in Gunning's hand, "The propositions of a papist sent to mee to answer") is entitled, "A catalogue of summe of the ancient fathers that are for the masse and sacrifice of the Catholick Church," and "of the fathers that are for transubstantiation." The former list contains 16 references, the latter 20.

Vol. ix. ff. 124. De Ecclesia Catholica, de potestate Romani Pontificis, de invocatione Sanctorum, imaginibus, pœnitentia, et orationibus pro defunctis.

Vol. x. ff. 181. De Confirmatione, lege Mosaica, schismate, justificatione, et excisione a gratia.

Vol. xi. ff. 184. De Christi passione atque resurrectione.

Vol. xii. ff. 278. Notæ super varia loca in Vet. Test., partim pro concionibus ad populum.

(manu secunda). Notes of a sermon on Ps. cxxiv. 7. fol. 173.

Endorsed, "Habita in quintum Novembris apud Newnham Paddox, a°. 1671."

(manu tertia). Sermon (preached on Good Friday) on Is. liii. 5.

Vol. xiii. ff. 286. Notæ pro concionibus super varia loca in Nov. Test.

Codices quatuor chartacei, in 4to, sæc. xviii. Vol. i. ff. 160; vol. ii. ff. 216; vol. iii ff. 210; vol. iv. ff. 244.

A vindication of the validity of Nonconformist ordinations, in reply to the Tentamen Novum and Tentamen Novum Continuatum published by Thomas Gipps, rector of Bury, Lancashire, in 1698–9, in his controversy with James Owen of Shrewsbury. Apparently a copy prepared for the press.

In two parts, the first containing six chapters and the second eighteen. Forty leaves are wanting at the end of vol. i., and about fifteen at the end of chapter 5, part ii., between ff. 186–7 in vol. iv. The latter deficiency is supplied by Rawlinson MS. Miscell. 1229, which contains a portion of the work, apparently in the author's own hand, commencing in the middle of chap. 2, part ii., and ending at the commencement of chap. 8, viz. from fol. 57, vol. iii. of the present transcript, to fol. 8, vol. iv.

Probably this treatise is the Vindication by Charles Owen of his brother James Owen's Plea for Scripture Ordination. See Bogue and Bennett's History of Dissenters, vol. i. p. 426.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 58.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 152.

1. Proofs in refutation of the doctrine of eternal reprobation; in two parts. fol. 1.

   In part i. the proofs are drawn from, (1) the chief end of man ("to glorify God and to enjoy Him for ever"), (2) the state of innocency, (3) the covenant of grace, (4) the Resurrection, (5) the Last Judgment, (6) general vocation. In part ii. from, (1) particular vocation, (2) circumcision, (3) the Passover, (4) the Atonement, (5) the brazen serpent, (6) the land of Canaan. One leaf appears to be wanting at the end.

2. "The 5th Monarchy, or thousand-years-reign of Christ on earth, Rev. 20th ch., expounded." fol. 142.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 91.

1. A sermon on Prov. xii. 26 [by Henry Scougal]. fol. 1.

   Prefixed is a transcript of a short letter, signed H. S., and addressed to "Mr. Mortimer" [minister of the Tron Church, Edinb.], in whose church the sermon had been preached the preceding Sunday, transmitting a copy "full of errors" which he had caused to be made from some loose papers.

   The sermon is printed at p. 78 of the edition of Scougal's Life of God, etc. and Discourses printed at London in 1735.

2. "Ane accompt of two sermons preached in the Colledge Kirk" [i.e. Trinity Church, Edinburgh], "against universall redemption; the first on the 15th of March instant, the second on the 22 of the same moneth, anno 1674. The text [of the first sermon] 2 Peter, 3. 9., the last words;" that of the second sermon, John xvii. 9. ff. 22, 53 b.

   These sermons were preached in answer to a sermon which had been delivered on the forenoon of the former day in the same church and upon the first text, by "a young man," "a dominie," from Ross, in reply to "somewhat anent the restriction of redemption," which had been said by the preacher in a previous sermon. "My colleague indeed gave him a call to preach, but he is too ingenuous to have been privie to so base a plot."

   The author appears to be Andrew Cant, junior, who was minister of Trinity College Church in 1673–5. [H. Scott's Fasti Eccl. Scoticanæ, i. 32.] His colleague was Mr. John Mackqueen. Cant published at one time some Theses de libero arbitrio [Ibid. 27], and the author of these sermons remarks (fol. 89), "A third sort say confidently in some Theses of mine formerly printed I erred the same error, and asserted universall redemption, but if I had done so, being then a young man, it were no disparagement for me now to retract." He gives at the conclusion of his second sermon a very angry account of the passages of his controversy, which appears to have been carried on with great bitterness and violence.

   The volume is in the hand of the same copyist as the two volumes in the Rawlinson collection of Sermons which contain some sermons by Archbishop Leighton; and in one of these volumes there is a sermon on 2 Pet. iii. 9, which evidently appears to be that of the "dominie from Ross," in reply to which Cant preached.

Book i. "The names wherwithe the Holie Ghost in the Scriptures hathe unfolded vnto us the ioyes of heauen."

Book ii. "The place of joy."

Book iii. "The joyes of the soule."

The author speaks of himself in his introduction as being "a stranger to his owne language, for ninteene yeares discontinuance in forraine cuntries."

Prefixed to the title-page are directions for the designing a frontispiece, in seven compartments.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 55.

A treatise on the government of the thoughts; by Bishop John Fell.
Divided into twelve sections; with a preface.
The following note is prefixed:—
"*This which followeth is a true coppy of some papers which are in the hands of Mr. Jones, who was amanuensis to the Right Reverend Father in God John, Lord Bishop of Oxford. The originall, being all written with the said Bishop's owne hand, was not long before his death which happened July 3, 1686, by him deliver'd to Mr. Jones to be by him transcribed, and from that originall was this coppy taken and carefully compared. 1687.
*This is the account of my Lord Hatton's manuscript, of which this is a faithfull coppy."
The treatise bears no resemblance to that on the same subject published in 1694, which is ascribed to the author of The Whole Duty of Man on the title-page, but which in the preface refers to him only in the following vague terms:—"The Tract indeed, in point of justice, must own its original theme to that most excellent and learned author of The Whole Duty of Man; and had not the grave and darkness deprived us of so great a luminary, this treatise would have appeared in perfect lustre with all those embellishments which so exquisite a pen could have rendred it." It would seem from this that the published work was only suggested by the knowledge that a similar work had been contemplated or prepared, and was merely issued under the shelter of a well-known paronym in order to secure general acceptance.
The sections in the present treatise run as follows:—(1) of thoughts in general; (2) of incogitancy; (3, 4) of wandering; (5) pensive; (6) solicitous; (7) partial; (8) overweening; (9) scrupulous; (10) envious; (11) peevish; (12) angry thoughts.
At the end (ff. 53–55) is added, in another hand, "A prayer compos'd by Dr. Fell, late Bishop of Oxford, at the request of the Lord ——," on the state of the Church under the prospect of a re-establishment of Romanism in the time of James II.

"The case of giving bail to a pretended authority examined; with a letter to Sir John Holt, and a reply to some Remarks upon the case of giving bail;" by Jeremy Collier.
The "Case" is dated from the King's Bench, Nov. 23, 1692, the "Letter" (fol. 9 b) Nov. 30, 1692, and the "Reply" (ib.) April, 1693. An account of the occasion of these papers is given at the end, where it is said that "by the care of some friends" the Letter "was stopped before it came to Sir John Holt's hands," and that of the whole piece only five copies were printed.
Bound up as fly-leaves at each end are nine leaves, containing titt. lxv–lxix, lib. ii. of a work printed (probably at Cologne) in the fifteenth century, in double columns. Tit. lxv. is, "De misericordia;" tit. lxix., "De perplexitatibus conscientiæ."

Reports of cases in law from 26 Hen. VIII. to 21 Eliz., collected by William Bendlowes, serjeant-at-law.

An index of matters is prefixed.

On the first leaf are several inscriptions written in 1600 by William Bendlowes, son of the compiler of the volume, to the following effect, "Will. Bendlowes, quondam socius de Lincolnes Inne, et nuper solus serviens ad legem in Anglia per quoddam tempus, temporibus regnorum Philippi regis et Marie regine et Elizabeth regine, existens, hunc librum composuit, etatis sue quinquaginta et septem annorum, et tempore sui dicti status et gradus decem et novem annorum."

The book published in 1661 under the title of Les Reports de Gul. Bendloes, contains only some very scanty notes of a few cases, quite unlike the contents of this volume.

At fol. 264 b is "The manner or order of the makyng of newe serjaunts creat and made in Michelmas Terme, anno xix. et xx. Eliz.," with a list of the rings and liveries given by them. The new serjeants were Francis Gawdye and Anderson of the Inner Temple, Shutt of Gray's Inn, Baber and Windham of Lincoln's Inn, and Fenner of the Middle Temple, and the only remaining old serjeants were Bendlowes, Pownell, and Meade.

At fol. 282, list of the Justices of the King's Bench from the beginning of the reign of Hen. IV. to 23 Hen. VII. At the end are added by W. Bendlowes, jun., the names of the Chief Justices in 1600.

The Reports end on fol. 292; then follow these miscellaneous collections, chiefly in the handwriting of the son:—

1. Pleadings in a suit between W. Bendlowes, jun., and John Wentworth, relative to the manor of Fennes in Bocking, Essex; 1600. fol. 293.
   ff. 298–306 blank.
2. Proceedings in a suit respecting the tithes of Great Bardfield, Essex, between W. Bendlowes, John Jenour, rector, and Sir Rob. Wroth; 1599–1600. ff. 307, 461.
3. Arguments in the King's Bench, in the case of Sir John Hinningham, or Heveningham, Sir Walter Earle, Sir Edmund Hambden, and Sir John Corbett, upon a writ of Habeas Corpus; Nov. 1627. fol. 322.
   See Rushworth, vol. i. pp. 362–366.

Apparently by Francis Turner, afterwards bishop of Ely, one leaf in his handwriting being inserted at fol. 23.

At fol. 4 is inserted a letter from W. Lloyd (afterwards bishop of St. Asaph, etc.), dated 17 Aug. 1674, to "my dearest friend," mentioning that he (in conjunction with Mr. Smith) has worked for three or four days in the University Library at Oxford for his friend with little fruit; referring to the continuations of Baronius, to Botonus, Benzonius, Pientinus, and Corius' Hist. of Milan, as containing much to his friend's purpose, and hoping that he will make speed with the historical part, as the book should be out before Michaelmas. Enquired at C. C. C. for Mr. Tho. Turner, but did not find him; sends service to his friend's mother and Mrs. Knollis; desires to hear what he knows of their friends at Roan.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ff. 215.

Papers collected by Bishop Francis Turner relative to the non-jurors.

1. "Paper from an anonymous writer on the low sense of the Oath," i.e. defending the oath of allegiance on the ground of its being simply a pledge of obedience to the sovereigns in possession. fol. 1.
2. On the ground of the refusal of the seven bishops to distribute the Declaration of James II. to their clergy. fol. 3.
3. "Several authorities to prove that by the antient law and custome of England, when any case of difficulty did happen to arise in Westminster Hall, the Judges adjourned such cases propter difficultatem usque ad proximum Parliamentum." fol. 5.
4. "Notes of the law touching right to seize the temporaltys of Bishops." fol. 20.
5. Fragments of some paper against the "low" sense of the Oath, in Bishop Turner's handwriting. fol. 26.
6. Draughts of a letter, with corrections in Bishop Turner's hand, sent with a copy of the second edition of [Tho. Wagstaffe's] Remarks on some late Sermons, published in 1695. ff. 48, 117.
7. Part of a paper (imperfect at the beginning and unfinished at the close) in vindication of the conduct of the Bishops with regard to the Declaration of abhorrence of the invasion by the Prince of Orange required from them by James II., with alterations in the handwriting of Bishop Turner. fol. 54.
   Extracts from this Apology (taken from a copy made from the original in the hands of one of the Bishops, not named) are printed in a pamphlet entitled, A Vindication of Archbp. Sancroft [etc.] from the reflections of Mr. Marshall, 8vo. Lond. 1717, pp. 7–19. The passages subsequently quoted in this tract are not to be found in our MS., which has the following endorsement (apparently by the hand of E. Umfreville) on the last leaf:—"This seems to be a rough draught of what I sent you some time ago, tho' in many respects different from it, and in some particulars containing a fuller account of the facts related."
   A perfect copy (with a different introduction but coinciding from fol. 6 of this MS.) exists in Rawl. MS. Miscell. 1095.
8. Dissuasive from taking the Oath with a qualifying declaration, addressed to some one about so to do. fol. 74.
9. "Dr. Sherlock's Case of Allegiance consider'd;" short notes in the handwriting of Bishop Turner. fol. 75.
10. Part of a reply (not that by Dean Hickes) to Burnet's Animadversions upon the conduct of the non-juring bishops at the time of the revolution, contained in his funeral sermon upon Tillotson. fol. 70.
11. "A letter from a clergyman of the diocese of —— concerning the Bishops now under suspension." fol. 85.
12. [Two copies of the letter from H. Dodwell to Tillotson, remonstrating against the latter's acceptance of the see of Canterbury during the life of Sancroft; Oxford, 12 May, 1691.] ff. 92, 184.
    The second copy is endorsed, "For Mastar Topham present."
    Printed with Ken's Letter to Tillotson, 8vo. Lond. 1703.
13. "Form of a general commission to consecrate Bishops," issued by Sancroft, and dated at Lambeth, 15 March, 1688(–9). fol. 93.
    Printed in the appendix to Marshall's Defence of our Constitution in Church and State, 8vo. Lond. 1717.
14. "Enquirys in order to the writing a history of Novatianisme." fol. 94.
    At fol. 168 is another copy of part of these Enquiries, in the handwriting of Bishop Turner.
15. Copies of correspondence between Mr. Samuel Keeble and Henry Dodwell on the lawfulness of the former's communicating in parish churches while a non-juror, and therefore communicating, as alleged, with schismatics.
    i. "Letter from Mr. Keeble, but wrote for him by Mr. Jones, a deprived clergyman of Ireland." fol. 96.
    It appears from the list of deprived clergy printed in the Life of Kettlewell that there were two non-juring clergy named Jones in Ireland, one the Dean of Lismore, and the other chaplain to Bishop Hacket.
    ii. Dodwell's answer; Oxford, 28 May, 1694. fol. 96 b.
    iii. "Another letter of Mr. Dodwell's, ... but the letter to which it was an answer I have not seen;" Maidenhead, 21 June, 1694. fol. 99.
    iv. "Another letter of Mr. Keeble's to Mr. Dodwell, penn'd by the fore-named Mr. Jones, an Irish divine and sufferer." fol. 99 b.
    v. "Another letter of Mr. Dodwell's;" Cookham, 7 July, 1694. fol. 101.
16. Argument against Coke's opinion on the Stat. 25 Edw. III. and 11 Hen. VII. cap. 1, respecting the right to obedience which possession of the throne gives to a sovereign de facto. fol. 102.

17. Copy of a letter from Dodwell to Stillingfleet, urging that the non-juring bishops should be allowed to retain a third part of their revenues, their successors administering their dioceses "with the consent and approbation of the true Bishops," and receiving the remainder of the incomes; Oxford, 26 Jan. 169$\frac{2}{3}$. fol. 106.

18. Copies of (1) a letter from Hody to Dodwell, disclaiming the having spoken of him as the "pest of the nation;" at the Bishop of Salisbury's table, with Dodwell's reply disclaiming, on his part, the having charged the Reformers with schism; (2) a letter to Dodwell from Dan. Whitby communicating the accusation brought against him by Burnet respecting the Reformers, with Dodwell's reply; [Sept. and Oct. 1691.] ff. 110–112.

Copies, by Archbp. Sancroft, are in Tanner MS. 459, fol. 67.

19. Copy of "Four queries" respecting the lawfulness of being present at, and joining in, prayers in behalf of a king de facto but not de jure, submitted to the Regius Professor of Divinity at Oxford, with replies condemning the practice. fol. 113.

A copy, by Sancroft, in Tanner MS. 459, fol. 98.

20. Part of a letter of animadversions upon Dr. Sh[erlock's] sermon upon the 30th of Jan. [1692], in Bishop Turner's handwriting. fol. 115.

21. Enquiry into the extent of the regal authority in England and the constitution of parliament. fol. 122.

Unfinished; ending at the reign of Edw. II.

22. "The reasonablenesse of separation on the monthly fast-days prov'd from the design of the fasts and the forme of prayer for them." [1690.] fol. 132.

The last three pages are mutilated by damp.

23. Copies of papers relative to communion with schismatical bishops:—

i. Two queries of the Bishop of Worcester [Stillingfleet] respecting the offence of separation. fol. 166 b.

ii. Dodwell's answer to the foregoing; Oxford, 7 Jan. 1692. Ibid.

iii. Anonymous letter to a person in the diocese of Oxford, in reply to Dodwell, and enforcing the duty of diocesan conformity. fol. 165 b

iv. Anonymous reply to the preceding letter. fol. 163.

24. Notes on the deposition of Eustathius, Bishop of Antioch, and of Cæcilianus, Bishop of Carthage. ff. 169, 170.

25. "Of" ipso facto "deprivation by Statute." fol. 171.

26. Reply to the question, whether an ipso facto deprivation doth by the Canon and Civil Law require a constat of the fact and a sententia lata by proper judges before it hath its effect? fol. 175.

Endorsed: "The Oxford Dr. upon deprivation ipso facto."

A copy of this paper, in Sancroft's handwriting, is in Tanner MS. 459, fol. 53.

27. "Mr. Dodwell's 2d. letter to the Bp. of B. and Wells," [Ken, 1690.] fol. 177.

Extracts, from a copy in Tanner MS. xxvii. fol. 218, are printed in [Anderdon's] Life of Ken, second edit., ii. 540.

28. Letter to Bishop Lloyd of Norwich from "M. Ea.," one of his chaplains, in vindication of his having (under the pressure of necessity, and after being reduced "to the utmost extremity of suffering,") taken the Oaths, on the ground of simple temporary submission to a conqueror. fol. 181.

The writer doubtless is Matthias Earbery.

29. Confession and recantation of Lewis Southcomb, rector of Rose-Ash, Devon, made to Bishop Lloyd, in repentance for having taken the Oaths; 10 Oct. 1693. fol. 188.

Printed, without name, in the Life of Kettlewell, 1718, p. 367.

30. Breviates of the Act for the further security of the king's person, 13 Gul. III. cap. vi., 1701. ff. 196, 200.

31. Breviate of a bill for abjuration of the Prince of Wales. fol. 198.

32. Reasons against conferring the degree of D.D. at Oxford upon George Walker of Londonderry; 1690. fol. 204 b.

33. Three queries respecting the evidence at the trial of John Ashton, with the lawyers' opinion thereupon. fol. 205.

34. Five queries respecting the performance of episcopal and ecclesiastical acts by deprived persons, with counsel's reply. fol. 206 b.

35. Declaration respecting the divine right of episcopacy, presented by the Lower House of Convocation to the Upper, 11 Dec. 1702, with an additional address. fol. 207.

Printed in A Collection of Papers concerning . . . . . the Convocation, 1705, p. 7.

36. Oath of allegiance, and declaration against the Covenant, appointed to be taken by all persons in public trust in Scotland, in the time of Charles II. fol. 208.

This copy has some verbal differences from the form of the Oath as prescribed by the Scottish Act of 31 Aug. 1681.

37. Articles agreed upon by Archbp. Sancroft and four of the bishops of his province in 1685, for the better regulation of ordinations and institutions, etc. fol. 209.

Wilkins' Concilia, iv. 612.

38. Letter, in Latin, to Bishop Turner from Balthasar Gothofred Cramer, for three years the Bishop's Secretary, complaining bitterly of hardships and misfortunes, and asking for a testimonial on his behalf with reference to some situation for which he is applying; Lond. "in ædibus Eliensibus," 17 Sept. 1688. fol. 210.

39. Letter from Hilkiah Bedford to Bishop Turner, on the lawfulness of being present at the public prayers of the Established Church; Bagshot Park, 21 June .... fol. 212.

The writer acknowledges the Bishop's great care of him in "the happy provision you have been pleased to make for me in this honourable family," [that of the Earl of Arran].

40. Queries respecting the deprived Bishops, whether the intruders are not schismatics and all who submit to them liable to excommunication. fol. 214.

10. Copy (unsigned) of a letter [to Henry Newman], from a resident at Whitehaven; 30 Oct. 1713. fol. 21.

Remarks upon the election for London, the proceedings of the Spaniards with reference to the Newfoundland fishery, and the election of mayor etc. at Dublin. Hopes the Englishman [i.e. Sir R. Steele], who writes so heroically, will do good. Is trying to augment a poor living in the neighbourhood, and to establish two parochial libraries in the county for the clergy, but it would be much easier to get money for horse-races, to which they are more used than books.

11. Letter to the same, at Whitehall, from Thomas Banckes, in the service of Sir James Lowther; Whitehaven, 21 July, 1713. fol. 23.

Remarks on Whitehaven; Mr. Yates, an excellent preacher there; Mr. Jackson, the minister of St. Bee's, is well pleased with the Parochial Library sent to him. Franked by Sir Jas. Lowther.

12. Letter [to the same] from John Dalton, of Caldicot farm, near Carmarthen, complaining of the refusal of the neighbouring clergy, who are drowsy and ignorant, to allow Mr. Griffith Jones, of Llandilo, a popular and zealous preacher in Welsh, to have the use of their churches, and desiring that he may be licensed to preach upon holy-days (which are generally neglected) wherever he may choose; 25 Feb. 1713. fol. 25.

13. Letter [to the same?] from [Jo. Jac.?] Mascou, enclosing a prospectus of a proposed book by Prof. Gottfried Olearius, which is likely to interest all who are zealous for the Protestant cause, and for which the support of dignitaries of the English Church is desired; Leipzig, 24 June, 1714. Fr. fol. 26.

14. Letter [to the same?] from — La Bergerie, pastor of the French Reformed Church at Hanover, and from J. A. Noltenius, a pastor of the German Church there, urging that the bishops should put out an authoritative statement that a certain Act of Parliament (the Act of Conformity?) applies only to the English nation, and not to foreign countries, in order to calm the minds of many who are alarmed; Hanover, 6 Aug. 1714. Fr. fol. 28.

15. Familiar letter from Dr. Thomas Bray to Mr. — Hales [Rev. Stephen Hales?]; St. Buttolph's, Aldgate, 8 Oct. 1714. fol. 29.

Joy at the accession of Geo. I.; Societies for Charity Schools and Relief of Converts; has printed for circulation abroad some letters relative to his Martyrology.

16. Letter (without address) to a clergyman from Will. Hen. Giraldo, anxiously enquiring about some hoped-for help from the king to enable him to continue at the University; Cambridge, 4 Feb. 171$\frac{4}{5}$. Lat. fol. 30.

17. Petition from Jacob Ranie, a Swede, to Geo. I., praying for help to enable him to return to Sweden, after vainly prosecuting a just claim in England during five years. Fr. fol. 32.

A copy of a certificate from Bishop Robinson of London is annexed, attesting that the Swedish Commissioners had claimed in the conferences at Stockholm the sum of 4425 rix-dollars as compensation for a ship of the petitioner's which had been captured in K. William's time; 2 Apr. 1715.

18. Letter from Will. Ant. Boehm, recommending the Rev. Mr. Lewis for a member of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, on the ground of the interest he has taken in the work of the Danish missionaries; Strand, 7 July, 1715. fol. 34.

19. Letter from Abraham Peacocke to Dr. Lloyd, Chancellor of Worcester, which accompanied a letter, proposed for publication, in defence of the succession of the House of Hanover, "many of the inferiour people" esteeming it contrary to the Divine Law; Birmingham, 25 Aug. 1715. fol. 36.

Forwarded to the S. P. C. K. by Dr. Lloyd, with a proposal that Dr. Peacocke (who resides at Mosely) should be elected a corresponding member of the Society.

20. Letter to a nobleman, without signature or address, giving an account of the trial of Joseph Sullivan, alias Silver, a sergeant in the Guards, Felix Hara and Robert Whitty, for high treason, the first having enlisted the others for the service of the Pretender; 18 Oct. 1715. fol. 38.

21. Abstract, in English, of a letter from Mr. Henry Gutlaff, minister at Goldenbeck in Esthonia, giving an account of the state of religion in that province, of the social condition of the people, and of the edition of the New Testament lately printed in their language; 17 Apr. 1716. fol. 40.

23. Note from Mr. Richard Laughton (of Clare Hall) to H. Newman, acknowledging the receipt of £30 for his pupil Manuel from the Marq. de Rochegude; Cambridge, 11 Feb. 1717. fol. 48.
See MS. 933, fol. 116.

24. Letter from John Ernest Grundler, missionary at Tranquebar, to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, giving an account of his proceedings; Tranquebar, 16 Jan. $171\frac{5}{8}$. Lat. fol. 49.

25. Proof-sheet of the title and dedication of John Chamberlayne's translation of Ostervald's Arguments of the Books of the Old Testament, published in 1716. fol. 50 b.
The dedication to the Princess of Wales is quite different from that which appeared in the published work, and is subscribed in the name of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge.

26. Statement, signed by Lord Percival, of his reasons for withdrawing from the Commission for relieving poor Proselytes, on account of the ill-working of the scheme, with a proposal for its management by paid commissioners from among the foreign proselytes; 7 Feb. $172\frac{1}{2}$. fol. 51.

27. Friendly letter from Cotton Mather to H. Newman; encloses a Concio ad populum lately published; Boston, N. E., 7 Sept. 1719. fol. 53.

28. Two letters from Salomon Negri respecting the payment of his allowance, the cost of his board and lodging, and the casting of some [Arabic] types [by Caslon]; Feb. and March, 1721. Fr. ff. 54, 56.

29. Copy of a letter from H. Newman to Mr. Rowland Sherman at Aleppo, respecting an Arabic Psalter and New Testament which are about to be printed by the C. K. S. from MSS. sent over by Sherman; Middle Temple, 9 June, 1724. fol. 58.

30. Copy of the reply of Mr. Sherman to the preceding letter, urging the insertion of the marginal notes in the New Testament, as sent in his MS. copy, which had been approved of by the Syrian Patriarch; the Patriarch Athanasius died 24 July; Aleppo, 10 Aug. 1724. fol. 60.

31. Extracts from three letters from Rev. M. Wheeler, of Warpenham [Wappenham, Northants], to Mr. Newman, proposing that Sir R. Blackmore should compile a selection from his version of the Psalms, for general parochial use, in the manner of the book used at St. James's, Westminster; with copies of two letters from the latter, consenting to make the compilation, and proposing to add thereto various hymns or paraphrases from the New Testament; 1724. ff. 61, 62.

32. Copy of a letter from Mr. Arthur Bedford, employed by the C. K. S. to correct the Arabic Psalter, to Mr. Sherman, respecting the manner of printing the Psalter, and repeating at length the enquiries of the Society about some orthographical notes; London, 29 Dec. 1724. ff. 63–65.

33. Printed form of certificate to the Commissioners for relieving poor Proselytes, filled up by Louis Saurin, the minister, and G. De La Court and P. Crespigny, the elders, of the French Church in the Savoy, in favour of Pierre Le Brun of Rennes, with a certificate from Sir John Gonson that the latter has taken the oaths; Feb. $172\frac{3}{7}$. ff. 66–68.

34. Note from Sir J. Gonson, asking for Lord Percival's address; Inner Temple, 17 May, 1728. fol. 69.
The address in Pall Mall is added at the foot.

35. Letter from Th. Delafaye [to H. Newman], asking him to sign his testimonials for priest's orders, the signatures of three laymen being required in addition to three clergymen; with a postscript by Henry Hastings subjoined; Northfield, 9 June, 1729. fol. 70.

36. Letter from S. Urlsperger, respecting the exiles of Salzburg; Augsb., 24 Feb. 1735. Germ. fol. 71.

37. Copy of a letter from Rev. Edward Nicholson [prebendary of Tuam], acknowledging his election as a corresponding member of the C. K. S., and urging the erection of charity-schools for clothing and portioning poor children in Ireland as the sure way of extirpating Popery there within twenty or thirty years. Has himself founded some schools of the kind and published some pamphlets on the subject. Opposes the plan of Mr. Richardson for preaching to the Irish in their native tongue. Not dated. fol. 72.

38. Declarations issued by the Upper House of Convocation in 1712 respecting the validity of baptism by unauthorised persons, with the reply of the Lower House. fol. 74.

39. Translation from the Latin of "A relation of the memorable transactions during the year 1730 in the Evangelick churches [in] Germany and other countries, to which is added an account of some holy institutions to the promotion of piety and religion." Dated "at Hale in Saxony in the beginning of the year 1731." fol. 75.

Twenty-seven sermons, and outlines of sermons, preached in Dorsetshire between the years 1612 and 1642; with a table of contents.

Two forms of general prayers, similar to the Bidding Prayer, are prefixed, one dated Jan. 26, 1616, and the other written in the time of Charles I. The parishes in which the sermons were delivered were Mapowder, Dorchester (at the Assizes, 1612 or 1613), Cerne (at the Bishop's visitation, 1613), Blandford, Abbotsbury, and Haselbury. Thomas Clark appears from Hutchins' Hist. of Dorset to have been rector of Haselbury-Bryan from 1611 until dispossessed under the Usurpation, and one of the same name was also deprived of the rectory of Mapowder in 1645; it is therefore scarcely to be doubted that these persons are identical, alike with each other and with the writer of this MS.

At the end is bound up The whole Book of Psalmes, with apt notes, 8vo. Lond. 1615.

"Remarks made in a journey from Exeter, 24 Feb. 1667, to Naples and Leghorn, ending 22 March, 1672, by John Broking."

The writer was a native of Exeter; at Putney he stayed some days with his uncle, Sir Francis Clarke; at Leghorn he lodged at the house of Mr. James Gould, "my intended partner;" at Florence, Carlo Dolce, "a famous paynter, drew my picture, which I sent to Exon;" at Naples, "found my partner Newport Littleton at our house," the title of the firm being then "Gould, Littleton and Broking," but from Jan. 1670 altered to "John Broking and N. Littleton." The writer arrived at Naples on 2 Nov. 1668, and quitted it on rumours of war with Spain, 12 March, 1672, on a coasting voyage to Leghorn, where he arrived on 23 March.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 40.

A brief "Itinerary" through Essex, Cambridgeshire, Huntingdonshire, Lincolnshire, Nottinghamshire, Yorkshire, Derbyshire, Cheshire, Shropshire, Staffordshire, Warwickshire, Northamptonshire, Bucks, Bedfordshire, and Hertfordshire; by some one who set out from London 5 Sept. 1709 accompanied by one "Mr. Rogers, the gentleman to whom this discourse is dedicated." No dedication, however, now remains in the book.

The notices of places are for the most part very brief, except in the cases of the house of Henry Winstanley (the first builder of the Eddystone Light-house) at Littlebury, Essex, and of the caverns of the Peak in Derbyshire; and they are written in a very bombastic and extravagant style. Small county-maps, by John Seller, are inserted.

Prefixed is a copy of the sentence of fine and imprisonment passed in the Court of Star-Chamber, in Easter Term, 1618, upon some of the oastmen, at the suit of Andrew Boyd, for mixing base coals with good, which sentence was ordered to be publicly read in Newcastle market.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 34.

Original copies by Alex. Cruden (the compiler of the Concordance to the Holy Bible) of letters written by him to the Earl of Derby, from Crown Street in Soho, Halnaker, and Liverpool, in July—Oct. 1729, remonstrating against his dismissal from the Earl's service (in which he had been engaged, through Mr. Maddox, chaplain to the Bishop of Chichester, as a reader or companion), on account of his inability to read French correctly.
The letters are written in a wild rambling manner, partly in French. Cruden ascribes his dismissal to the influence of one Mr. Clayton, a high-churchman in the Earl's household, who regarded Cruden as "a rank Presbyterian."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 77.

Terrier of lands at Cambridge called Greathowfield, Middlefield, Littlefield, and Carmfield, with a description at the end of the various boundaries and a note of a meadow called Lord Mortimer's Meadow.
The terrier appears to be a copy of one made in the 16th century, before the Dissolution of Monasteries; it is very full and particular, but some portion is wanting at the beginning, as well as one leaf before fol. 65 and half of fol. 66. On the reverse pages of ff. 1–23 are written copies of letters from Hart Browning of Fulbourn, Cambridgeshire, to his brothers and sisters, and others, in 1660–1. On fol. 35 b the writer mentions that Dr. Bosse and Dr. Blyth have borrowed some of his sermons.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xviii, xvii. ff. 50.

1. Memoranda by Dr. Rawlinson of the distribution—
   i. Of 35 copies of "Mr. Downes against Dodwell," scil., De Clypeo Woodwardiano. fol. 1.
   It is noted that two copies were printed on blue paper and four on vellum.
   ii. Of 38 copies of the engraving of Rawlinson's Muscovite cup. fol. 2.
   iii. (vol. reversed.) Of 25 copies of "Instruments," [probably the records of Non-juring consecrations]. fol. 9 b.
   iv. Of "copies of A. Wood [i. e. the Life of Wood], Herbert [qu. the Earl of Torrington's Speech printed in 1710], and Church measures." fol. 12 b.
2. Sermon on St. John iii. 16. fol. 13.
   Unfinished. Written during the Usurpation, the writer expressing his wish that the sermon could be preached in "a sacred and consecrated church," had not "these harder times reduced us unto the primitive necessities—to worship God in our private houses."
3. Sermon on 2 Tim. iv. 6–8, preached at Wotton-under-Edge, Gloucestershire, 9 Jan. 1663, by Mr. Pye, at the funeral of Mr. Robert Dawes' wife. fol. 35.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 7.

"A representation concerning the manufacturing of sal armoniac; humbly desired to be laid before the right hon. the Lords Commissioners for Trade, by Dr. Thomas Hoy, her Majesty's professor of Physic in Oxford." Requesting assistance for carrying on his manufacture, of which he states himself to be the inventor, and mentioning also an earlier discovery by him of a cheap mode of manufacturing Epsom salts. Dr. Hoy was Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford from 1697 to 1721.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 3, præter multa vacua.

1. "The charge of the physician to St. Bartholomew's Hospital." fol. 1.
2. "Orders relating to the office of physician," 1662–1747. fol. 2.

On a fly-leaf Dr. Rawlinson has attached the following note: "This book was given to Wm. Barrowby, M.B., when chosen third physitian of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, who died .... 1751. Gli errori de medici son coperti dalla terra."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 24.

"The storehowse of pretious stones, discribing the places where they growe, their names, vertues, coullers and vallues, according as they have been bought from merchant to merchant."

At the end, "Copia. Henry Wastell, 1635." The same name (spelt "Waistell") and year are on the first fly-leaf, together with the name of "Richard Lant;" but the writing appears to be of somewhat later date; probably 1635 is the date of the original transcript, and this copy may have been made forty or fifty years later.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 20.

"A catalogue of [154] herbs, shrubs, and trees which grows in the island of Jamaica by H. B., 1715." With a proposal at the end for the publication of a descriptive account of them, in which are some remarks on the non-adaptation of Sir Hans Sloane's Catalogus plantarum in insula Jamaica, for popular use.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 74.

1. Journal kept on board H. M. S. Dover, Capt. Matthew Consett, commander, in voyages to Gibraltar, the coast of Barbary, and Sallee, from 18 Jan. $172\frac{7}{8}$ to 2 March $172\frac{8}{9}$, by Thomas Thurkittle, master. ff. 1–60.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. exeuntis, ff. 112.

An account of Italy, specially with relation to its commerce and government; in two books.

Tit. book i. "Of the humours of people of each province in particular; of the houses, bancks and publick places where money is put to interest, and particularly of Venice and Genoa; of the places where buisness most offers, of the manner how the gentlemen negotiate without prejudicing nobility, and of marchants, exchanges, marchandize and all sorts of money current in Italy at this time."

Tit. book ii (p. 89). "Of the government politick, criminal and civil, ... of the tribunals .... of the governors of all the states and principalities, to wit, of the Pope," etc.

Apparently a translation, blank spaces for a few words being left here and there, with occasional verbal corrections in another hand.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvi. ff. 9.

"A discourse by Sir John Norreys concerning the Lowe Countreyes, 1588." [This title is prefixed by Thomas Rawlinson, who adds, "N.B. This is the old title."] Addressed to Q. Elizabeth.

Beg. "Moste sacred Queene, although it may seme."

Tanner in his account of Sir J. Norris in the Bibliotheca Britannica, has the following notice of this book:—"Scripsit A.D. 1587, A discourse persuading the Queen to continue her succours to the United States, and not to make peace with Spain. Pr. 'Most gracious queen, although it may seme.' MS. penes Dr. Rivers, e coll. Omn. Anim. Oxon."

The MS. does not appear in Thomas Rawlinson's sale catalogue.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvi. exeuntis, ff. 75.

Speeches made by Sir Walter Mildmay, K. G., Chancellor of the Exchequer, in 1575–1587, with notes of the occasions on which they were delivered; being ten spoken in the House of Commons, four in the Court of Star-Chamber, and one at a consultation held at the Lord Treasurer's house, 8 March $158\frac{4}{5}$, about sending forces into Holland; together with an opinion delivered to the Queen in writing on the granting of licenses for importing merchandise from the Low Countries, and notes of the proceedings relative to the reversal of the attainder of John, Lord Stourton, in $157\frac{5}{6}$.

Notes of his speech in the Star-Chamber in Davison's case, 28 March, 1587 (which is here given in full at p. 141), are printed in Nicolas' Life of Davison, 1823, pp. 314–7, and three of those delivered in the House of Commons are printed in full in the Parliamentary Hist. of England (second edit.) vol. iv. pp. 208, 215, 240.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 26.

Short notes of some proceedings in the Court of Star-Chamber.

1. Against the Earls of Bedford, Clare, and Somerset, Sir Rob. Cotton, and others for circulating a discourse entitled, A proposition for his majesty's service to bridle the impertinency of parliaments; 4 June, 1630. fol. 1.
2. Account of Dr. Alex. Leighton and of his sentence, 4 June, 1630. fol. 10.

   The writer, who was evidently present at these trials, ends his account of Leighton thus:—"This I observed likewise, that each man, both Scottish and English, concurred in giving Layton the greatest and severest punishment that ever was given in that Court for any offence."
3. Speech of the Lord Keeper (Sir Thomas Egerton) at the end of Trinity Term, 1600. fol. 15.
4. Opinions and sentence, upon the stat. of Hen. VII and 4 and 5 Ph. and Mar., against Edw. Morris, an embroiderer, for carrying away the daughter of a joiner aged one month above twelve years; temp. Jac. I. fol. 22.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 47.

"A brief view of the weight and consequence of the general trade, and of some considerable places in the Indies;" part i., containing observations under three heads, on the danger arising from a coalition between France and Spain, and on the most effectual ways for averting it.

A copy, with numerous corrections in another hand. Apparently intended only for private perusal, the tract ending thus:—"notwithstanding any care that may be taken to the contrary, yet least these papers might in the mean time come to bee seen or perused by others then those for whom they are designed, we shall therfore delay our thoughts of the particular methods to bee taken and means to bee used in the execution for the present, and shall, God willing, make this, together with some of our most material thoughts of the better ordering and regulating the naval forces of this island, the 2nd part of this Discourse." At fol. 48 allusion is made to the Scottish settlement at Darien as "that late national loss of the kingdom of Scotland contracted by their earnest endeavours to bee the beginers and harbingers to this noble undertaking."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæcc. xvii, xviii. ff. 32.

1. Table of coins current in Hindostan, Persia, Golconda, Vizapore, Japan, Siam, Pegu, Atchin, Queddah, Arabia, etc., with their weights and values; dated at Fort St. George, Jan. 1, $16\frac{7}{8}\frac{9}{0}$. fol. 1.

On the first leaf are written the names and addresses of Mr. John Rendle and Mrs. Mary Woodruffe at Mr. John Hogg's, 3 Crane Wharf, London.

2. Account of a voyage to the East Indies and back to the Cape of Good Hope, in the frigate Macclesfield, in the years 1701–2; with descriptions of the islands of Madeira, Cape de Verde, and St. Helena, of various places on the coast of Africa, Bombay, Surat, Muscat, etc., and notices of manners and customs. fol. 4.

Twenty-one leaves, very closely written.

3. Two leaves from a journal kept on board some East Indian merchant-ship, of dealings with the natives at the towns of Banjar and Tartass. ff. 25, 26.

4. Letter from Ireland, dated 22 Aug. 1663, without signature, respecting the proceedings against Randal Mac-Donnell, Marq. of Antrim, and complaining of the letter from the King pronouncing him innocent and ordering the restoration of his estates, of which letter (dated 10 July) a copy is subjoined. fol. 27.

At the end of the volume there is bound up a copy of Dr. Thos. Wood's Vindication of the historiographer of Oxford, with marginal notes copied by Rawlinson from Ant. à Wood's MSS. notes in his own copy.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 93.

Papers by Nathaniel Spinckes, M.A., the Non-juror.

1. "Some reflections upon Mr. Dubourdieu's Historical dissertation upon the Theban legion." ff. 2, 38.

The English translation of Dubourdieu's Dissertation was published in 1696.

2. Parts iii. and iv. of [Spinckes'] Reply to [Collier's] Vindication of the Reasons and Defence for restoring some Prayers, etc., in Edw. VI's First Liturgy; being remarks on the Invocation and Oblation in the Eucharist. ff. 11, 29.

This portion of the Reply seems not to have been published. Collier in his Answer to the Reply (8vo Lond. 1720) says that "of the four points contested" his opponent "has engag'd only two; they are the Mixture and Prayer for the Dead."

3. "The spirit in the new pretenders to prophecy shewn to be not a divine but an evil and a wicked spirit; whereto is added a copy of Mr. Lacy's letter written in excuse of his new adulterous marriage with Betty Grey;" against the French Prophets, or Camisards. fol. 41.

John Lacy's letter (fol. 77) is dated at London, 20 Dec., 1711, and Spinckes notes that the original, "as given out in print, is to be seen in Sion Colledge library." An unprinted postscript, dated 6 March, 1711 (–12) is subjoined.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ineuntis, ff. 186, quorum permulta vacua sunt.

1. On the proofs of the being of God. fol. 1.
2. Letter from Edward King (afterwards Bishop of Elphin), addressed "to his verye lovinge frende Mr. James Ussher," and dated "from the Colledg, 30 July, 1606." Mention of repairs made to "Warborowes" church and chancel [i.e. St. Werburga's, Dublin], to which Mr. Barehenshaw has become a great benefactor. ff. 3, 4.
3. Letter from Ambrose Ussher "to Mr. Henrie Brigges at Byshopgates streete in London." Sends £9 and four letters for his brother, by the hands of Mr. Frith; and a letter and an Arabic book for Mr. Bedwell. If his brother be gone, Mr. Alvey wishes £4 to be kept for the buying "a bedle staffe." fol. 5.
4. Familiar letter to Usher at London from J. R. [John Richardson, afterwards Bishop of Ardagh?] at Trinity College, 30 July, 1606. The Dean has been prosecuted for simony by Dr. Todd; it is now likely to come to a composition. f. 6.

Subjoined is a letter from John Newarke, at Trin. College, 31 July; Mr. Tovey, who is to be found at Sir John Harrington's lodging in the Prince's Court, will be able to tell him many things that he may enquire for. f. 7.

The preceding letters have been preserved by Usher in consequence of their being covered with closely-written notes by him.

12. Phrases quædam Latinæ ex epistolis variis. fol. 57.

13. Geographical notes, out of Strabo and out of Hakluyt's Voyages. ff. 62, 70.

14. Notes out of various chroniclers about King Henry I, with extracts from Sir John Fortescue's treatises as preserved in Bodl. MS. Digby 198. ff. 71, 75.

15. Short account of Strabo and his works, with the commendatory verses prefixed to I. Casaubon's edition. ff. 77, 79, 84.

16. Catalogus librorum bibliothecæ Aulæ S Edmundi. fol. 87.

17. Short notices of Hadrian Barlandus, Ælius Antonius Nebrissensis, and Æneas Sylvius, afterwards pope Pius II; with a table of the contents of the latter's Cosmographia. ff. 117–119.

18. List of books printed for Thomas Bennett, as added after the preface in [Atterbury's] Rights &c. of Convocation, Lond. 1700. fol. 125.

19. List of books printed for John Starkey, as inserted at the end of The present state of the United Provinces, Lond. 1669. fol. 126.

20. Notice of Hakluyt's collection of voyages, with a minute list of the contents of vol. i and of vol. ii to p. 45. fol. 130.

21. Notes of a few Greek writers on geography whose works are no longer extant. fol. 167.

22. Biographical notices of John Rastall and of Dr. Andrew Borde, with a list of the contents of the latter's Introduction of Knowledge. ff. 169 a, b.

23. "Verbum Sempiternum;" a brief poetical abstract of the contents of the Bible, by J. Taylor (manu altera). fol. 173.
Popularly called "The Thumb Bible." Printed in 64mo, Lond. 1693, and reprinted in the same size in 1851.

24. Sententiæ de variis virtutibus ex variis auctoribus Græcis collectæ, addita versione Latina (manu tertia). fol. 181.

25. Sententiæ de republica, simili modo collectæ (manu eadem). fol. 190.

26. Sententiæ e Plauti comœdiis (manu eadem). fol. 193.

27. Annals of the University of Cambridge, from A.D. 1109 to 1443; by Hearne. fol. 199.
Biographical notices of eminent persons are given under the notices of the colleges to which they belonged.

28. Letters of protection granted by Edw. I, in 1294, to the clergy, in return for the grant of a moiety of their goods; in which letters occur the names of the Archd. of Berks and Vicar of Bray at the time. fol. 383.
Vid. Prynne's Records, iii. 588.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 170, quorum multa sunt vacua. "Ralph Macro, Coll. Gonv. et Caii, July 2, 1715."

1. A translation of St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians, with a few notes. fol. 1.

2. (vol. reversed). A few brief notes on chaps. i–v of St. Matthew's Gospel.

Brief notes of diseases of the eyes and ears, with prescriptions. An index is prefixed.
On a fly-leaf at the end is a note of the distances of some towns in Scotland, from Stirling to Aberdeen.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 38.

Part of an "Answer to Mr. Whincopp's Letter" against infant-baptism, containing chapters vii and viii, with part of chap. xi, and "part of what is proper to be inserted in a preface." The original draught, with many corrections.
Beg. "The cause at length seems to be come as it were to a crisis, and you resolved (right or wrong) if possible to clench it. In order to which, instead of proving, That it is not lawful to baptize infants, which by agreement was your immediate province, you have been pleas'd (tho' not very fairly) to turn the tables upon me."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, forma oblonga, sæc. xviii. ff. 96.

Printed book of forms for a register of particulars of summons before magistrates and the proceedings thereon; of which the first five leaves are filled up with the particulars of summons taken out in the parish of St. Giles, Cripplegate, from 3 Aug. 1725 to 24 Aug. 1726.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 101. Anno 1712 possedit Johannes Dowling.

1. "The declaration of Mr. Francis Cloüett, heretofore called Father Basill of Roan, Capuchin preacher and the Pope's missionary, wherein he expresseth the reasons he had to seperate himselfe from the Church of Rome, to rank himselfe in the Reform'd Church; translated out of French by E. S." [qu. Edward Stephens of Cherrington?] p. 1.
The original French tract was printed at Sedan in 1639.

2. "A collection of Scriptures, proving a plurality of persons in the Holy Trinity." p. 123.

3. "Of [spiritual] light." p. 127.

4. On the folly of worldly-mindedness. p. 135.

6. A thanksgiving-prayer for peace. p. 177.

7. "Reasons proving why conscience is the seat or center of all guilt in unregenerate and lost souls." pp. 181, 191.

8. The martyrdom of S. Polycarp. p. 183.

Articles 2–8 are probably by the "John Dowling" whose name as owner occurs on fly-leaves.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 95. "Vere Carr, her booke, 1639." "Robertus Willkinson, his book, 1661."

"Homo renatus; a newe creature; donum Dei;" a treatise on Galat. vi. 15, by John Bowrchier.

Dedicated to Robert [Kerr], first Earl of Ancram, his wife Ann [Stanley], and their eldest daughter, the lady Vere.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii ineuntis. ff. 244.

"An introduction to divine wisdome, comprised in divers spirituall treatises which containe the secrets of mystick theology; composed by the reverend father Maurus of the Child Jesus, Prior of the reformed Carmes of the great convent att Burdeaux; translated out of French by S. B., C. of Jesus."

Father Maur's L'Entree à la divine sagesse was printed at Bourdeaux in 1652. The two first treatises are entitled, The three gates of the palace of divine wisdom, opened in three dialogues, and, The spiritual ascent, containing eight degrees which lead to the throne of divine wisdom. For the titles, and initial words of all paragraphs, of the other treatises in the volume blank spaces have been left, which have never been filled up.

Dr. Rawlinson has noted on a fly-leaf: "This was found amongst Dr. Keith's MSS., one of the mysticks."

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xvii. ff. 283.

A short-hand note-book of Samuel Pepys.

1. "Parliament-notes," Feb.–June, 1677. fol. 1.
"To be transcribed in long hand."

2. Memoranda of miscellaneous business, Apr.–May, 1678; in long hand. ff. 39–56.
Similar memoranda are interspersed in other places.

3. "Memorandums and minutes generall, relateing to—
   i. My proceeding to and at Tanger, from my setting out from London, July 30, 1683, to my departure from Tanger towards Cadiz in the Dec. following [ff. 92, 219, 203, 224].
   ii. Several papers of my lord of Dartmouth's, and others of publique import. [ff. 62–69.]
   iii. My particular informations and observations, good and bad, touching Tanger. [ff. 80–1, 241–251.]
   iv. Observables generall of the navy, etc. [Interspersed throughout.]
   v. Severall particulars relating to my journey into Spain." [ff. 158–168 etc.]

The journal of the Tangier voyage (omitting the Commissions and Instructions which are included under article ii, supra), together with a portion of the journal kept in Spain, are printed (as deciphered by Rev. John Smith, A.M.) in the Life, Journals and Correspondence of S. Pepys, 2 vols., 8vo. Lond., 1841.

4. Notes in May and June, 1683. ff. 136, 147.

5. List of Spanish books desired by Pepys for himself (chiefly in navigation), for Dr. W. Trumbull, and for Dr. Ken. ff. 155–7, 165–8.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 90.

"Some generall thoughts on the Revelations," chiefly with respect to the mystical Antichrist and his number, "undigestedly and disorderly raptim set down, for my own memory and not for the sight of others;" by "a professed ignorant learner, reverencing the harder more digested studyes of those that differ, though greatly discouraged at the great disagreement of them."

On another page is the following title: "The second part. Additions to the paraphrase of the Revelations."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 30.

A diary from 29 Sept. 1707, to 27 March, 1709, kept in London by (as it appears) a young wig-maker, recording his religious condition and feelings at different times on each day, with entries of receipts and expenditure.

Codex chartaceus, in fol. minori, sæc. xvi. ff. 10. Olim inter codd. Petri Le Neve 480, et exinde emptus, una cum cod. 481, pretio octo denariorum.

A short sketch of the state of Spain and Portugal in 1582; containing (1) A list of the sees, with the value of their revenues; (2) A list of all the nobility, with their revenues; (3) The style of the King; (4) The provinces, and the tribute paid by them; (5) The ambassadors, and their allowances; (6) The cities and universities; (7) The sea-ports, and the number of their ships severally; (8) The rivers.

At the end (fol. 10 b.) is a note of "the Great Turk's style, which he most comonly wryteth in his letters of great affaires."

The former vellum cover is now bound up at the beginning of the volume, and is a fragment of some replies to interrogatories in a law-suit in the time of Q. Elizabeth with reference to the debts of Benedict Spynola (an Italian merchant in London) and relating also to Vincent Guicciardini, deceased, and a lease of the parsonage of Tossetor (Towcester).

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 14. Olim inter codd. T. Hearne.

An account of the church of Chipping-Campden, Gloucestershire, with the chief monumental inscriptions, and the charities of the town; by George Ballard. Dated 8 Dec. 1731.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 15.

1. "Reflexions on [White Kennett's] Memoirs of the family of Cavendish lately published;" in a letter from T[homas] S[mith, D.D.] to a nobleman; dated 2 March, 170$\frac{7}{8}$. fol. 1.

   A copy in the handwriting of Thomas Hearne, with a few corrections by Dr. Smith himself.

2. "A lesson for the Greek Professor; or, a dialogue between Timothy and Tell-truth, in answer to Mr. M[ille]s' book against Mr. D[odwe]ll," i. e. against Dodwell's book on the immortality of the soul. fol. 10.

   Milles' answer to Dodwell was published in 1707.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to et fol. sæc. xviii. ff. 32.

A few miscellaneous papers relating to Oxford, chiefly in Rawlinson's handwriting.

1. The founders and benefactors of Brasenose College with the days of their commemorations. fol. 1 b.

2. Statuta Magnæ Aulæ, sive collegii Universitatis Oxon., A. D. 1292; apographum incompletum. fol. 3.

   Impressa apud Munimenta Academica, edente H. Anstey, 1868. vol. i. p. 56.

3. List of the subscriptions towards the rebuilding of All Hallows' (or All Saints') Church. fol. 5.

4. List of the benefactors of St. Edmund's Hall, copied from a table on parchment hanging in the Principal's lodgings. fol. 7.

5. "An exact and particular account of the rarities in the Anatomy School, transcribed from the original copy in Mr. Tho. Hearne's hands by me, R. Rawlinson, Oct. 1709." fol. 9.

   A leaf is added at the end, containing notices of two additional articles, viz. a representation of some acrobats at Venice, with a description in Latin by Charles Povey, the donor, English consul at Padua; and the effigies in stone of Corn. and John de Witt.

6. Letter from W. Fulman, without address, in reply to a complaint of an alleged error in his edition of the Chronicle of Mailros, in his Rerum Anglic. Scriptt. p. 241, A. D. 1269, relative to Balliol and Merton Colleges; 16 Feb. 168$\frac{4}{5}$. fol. 22.

   Endorsed by Rawlinson that it was "wrote probably to Dr. Charlet."

7. Copy of a petition to Will. III in 1698, signed by 499 freemen, against the admission of Samuel Thurston as Town-Clerk, in preference to Job Slatford, alleged to have been duly elected. fol. 23.

8. Extract from Henry the Eighth's grant to the Dean and Chapter of Durham of the buildings and endowments of Durham College, Oxford, with a note of bulls from Popes Urban VI and Boniface IX, for the appropriation to the said college of four rectories in the patronage of the King. fol. 28.

9. A leaf out of some Exchequer accounts for the year 1614, containing under the head De terris fugitivorum, a payment from Philip Pitts, farmer of the rectory of Yeftley (or Iffley) Oxon., and of the lands of Thomas Pitts, outlaw, and Arthur Pitts, fugitive; and under De proficuis monetæ, a payment from Edward Meredith, a merchant trading in the Netherlands. fol. 29.

10. A few notes out of Prynne's Popish Favourite, 1643, about recusants in Oxfordshire. fol. 30.

11. Fragment of Rawlinson's private accounts of expenditure while at St. John's College, in Dec. and Jan. of one year, and Aug. and Sept. of another. fol. 31.

The volume formerly contained other articles, of which, together with some of the above, a list is prefixed by Rawlinson.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 65.

Transcript (made for Dr. Rawlinson) from Wood MS. D. 9., of Notes, Corrections and Additions, for Wood's Historia et Antiquitates Univ. Oxon., communicated to Wood by Will. Fulman, of Corpus Christi College, together with copies of the letters which accompanied them, between 1674 and 1678, and several additional letters up to 1685, and an index of names.

At pp. 108, 114, 117, are copies of two short Latin pieces written in 1621 by R. Randes, viz., an address "Ad Hispaniam," against the Spanish marriage, and a "Palinodia" or recantation, on account of the offence he had given to the King by the former; and at p. 109 Bishop Earle's poem "Hortus Mertonensis."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 80.

Collections relating to Oxford, by Rawlinson and Hearne.

1. Epitaph in St. Lawrence's Church, Isle of Thanet, on Peter Johnson, M.A., C. C. Coll.; in Rawlinson's hand. fol. 1.

2. History of Corpus Christi College, collected out of Ant. à Wood; with marginal references added by Rawlinson. fol. 2.

3. "Nomina fundatorum et benefactorum quæ [in Coll. Balliolensi] a juniori socio quolibet die Veneris recitanda sunt, per statutum de cultu Dei;" in Rawlinson's hand. fol. 22.

"From Mr. Nich. Crouch, who took the foregoing series from the Colledge register, Apr. 1685."

4. Copy by Rawlinson of a letter from Dr. Thomas Wood to Dr. Stafford of Magdalene College, giving an abstract of the arguments pleaded in the trial between Magdalene College and Magdalene Hall respecting the right of nomination to the headship; Gray's Inn, 20 June, 1694. fol. 26.

5. List of the Registrars of the University, 1508–1659, with an account of the deprivation of Thomas Key in 1552. fol. 28.

6. Account of Sir Simon Bennett's benefaction to University College; by Rawlinson. fol. 32.

7. Archdeacons of Oxford, 1140–1661. fol. 34.

8. A collection by Hearne himself of notes out of his Diaries relating to Oxford, its affairs, buildings, and antiquities; extracted for Rawlinson's use, with a few occasional notes in Rawlinson's own hand. fol. 35.

Imperfect; wanting pp. 1–2, 27–30, 35–38. All the particulars that deserve special notice are entered in the Index to this Catalogue.

9. Description by Hearne of a seal found in a garden in St. Giles', Oxford, with the legend "Mater Dei, memento mei," and noted by Rawlinson as being in his possession. fol. 76.

10. Copies by Rawlinson (with some recent pencil corrections) of the inscriptions in Icelandic (?) and Latin on two stones "near the Musæum," which were sent from Sweden by Mr. Robinson, the English Resident there, (afterwards Bishop of London) in 1688. fol. 79.

The inscriptions are printed and the stones engraved (without the donor's name) in Chandler's Marmora Oxoniensia, cxxxviii, cxxxix, p. 143.

A small slip at the end has memoranda that the Arundel marbles began to be removed from the wall of the Theatre-yard, 6 Nov. 1714, and that the annual feast of the Mercers' Company in Oxford is held 31 May.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 10. Olim inter codd. P. Le Neve 506, et exinde emptus pretio sex solidorum.

"Negotium consecrationis capellæ apud Langley;" an official account, drawn up by Symon Biby, notary public, of the consecration of a private chapel within the house of Edmund Style, esq., at Langley, in the parish of Beckenham, Kent, by Will. Barlow, Bishop of Rochester (afterwards Bishop of Lincoln), 26 July, 1607; including the form of service, a bond given by E. Style that he and his family will twice in the year receive the Holy Communion at the parish church, and the notarial record, with a drawing of the episcopal seal.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 11.

Journal of a voyage in the ship "Townshend" through the Ladrones towards Macao, from 18 June, 1717 to 11 Jan. $17\frac{17}{18}$.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 35.

Log-book kept by J. Hill, on board the "Elizabeth and Mary," Joseph Andrew master, from London to Wyborg for St. Petersburgh, from 18 June to 11 Nov. 1725.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 22.

Diary from 5 May to 10 June, 1724, purporting to be kept on the uninhabited island of Ascension by an Englishman left there "by order of the commodore and captain of the Dutch fleet." The diary ends with the discovery of a small spring, just when the writer's cask of water was exhausted and he was ready to perish.

The twenty-two leaves of which the book consists are all ruled in red ink for entries of days and remarks, but only the first five pages are filled. The diary is in a very natural style, and appears to be a genuine record.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 121.

1. Log-book of a voyage in the "Lavett," Edward Rhodes commander, from London to Virginia, and of the return voyage, in 1698–9; kept by Bellingham West. fol. 1.

2. Log-books of two other voyages to Virginia, out and home, 1699–1701, in the "Bristow," kept by Bellingham West, commander of the ship. ff. 42, 76.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii exeuntis; ff. 32.

Journal of operations at St. John's, Newfoundland, in fortifying the harbour, from 27 June, the day of the writer's arrival, to 1 Oct. 1697; kept by the officer in charge, apparently "T. Bell." Neatly written.

[Adm. John Norris was then in command of a squadron in the harbour, anticipating an attack from the French fleet under Nesmond, and it was afterwards charged against him that he was more anxious to protect himself by these fortifications than to engage the enemy.]

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 60. mutilus in principio.

Log-books of voyages in the "Provident," Rob. Chase commander, from Cadiz in 1725, (imperfect); in the "Neptune," from London to St. Petersburgh, Andrew Hazilwood commander, in 1726; and in the "Prince William," Edw. Ford commander, from London to Leghorn, etc., in 1726–7; kept by Thomas Thurkittle.

At fol. 58 b are directions for sailing out of the Downs, down the Channel.

Muster-book of the East India ship "Greenwich," Richard Lasinby commander, in 1728.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 109, præter alia vacua. Olim liber T. Hearne, Nov. 6, 1719, ex dono Richardi Dyer, A.M., Coll. Orielensis socii.

1. Order of the preachers of the University sermons at Oxford. fol. 1.
2. Chancellors of the University, 1505–1643. fol. 2 b.
3. Vice-Chancellors of the University, 1550–1640. fol. 5.
4. Admissions to the degree of B. D., 1565–1647. fol. 9.
5. Inceptors at the Act, 1563–1645. fol. 27.
6. Degrees conferred on the occasion of a visit of Charles I, 31 Aug. 1636. fol. 97.
7. (Volume reversed). List of Doctors and Bachelors in Divinity living (in Oxford?) in 1644 and 1647.

At fol. 109 Hearne has written the following note:—"This book belong'd once to the famous Mr. Henry Jacob, Fellow of Merton College, and Superior Beadle of Div. in the Univ. of Oxon. Afterwards it was brought to Oxford with the books of Mr. Hen. Birkhead (founder of the Poetical lecture), in whose custody it was many years, he being a great crony and friend of H. Jacob's. It was sold with the said books by Mr. John Brookes the University attorney (by virtue of an order he had to that end), to Mr. George West bookseller of Oxford, who threw it aside among other refuse or offal books to be sold for wast paper, and was afterwards redeem'd by Mr. Dyer."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii exeuntis sive xviii ineuntis; ff. 36, binis manibus.

1. A tract by a Socinian on Philipp. ii. 5–7, in reply to the Trinitarian interpretation. fol. 6.

   The tract appears, from notes on several leaves preceding, to form part of the third book of some controversial treatise by Christopher . . . . .

   Beg. "This place, as the chief strength of the Trinitarians, we have kept to the last."

2. "A discourse touching the administration of the Lord's Supper where there are no pastors; also, whether a Christian ought alwaies to communicate by the symbols." fol. 16.

   Beg. "The most learned Nicholas Rigaltius lately put forth some bookes of Tertullian."

   A fragment of a note [to Rawlinson] from R. G. [not Roger Gale] is inserted, in which the writer remarks, "These MS. discourses you sent me to read are throughout Hoadleian doctrines, tho' wrote before his time."

878.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæcc. xvi–xviii. ff. 158.

Miscellaneous tracts.

1. "Expenses of Christe Churche [Oxford] by occasion of the Quenes Majesties comminge thither, 21 July, 1566;" being the payments to carpenters, sawyers, locksmiths, etc. fol. 1.

2. "The pollitícke survey of a kingdome;" being an enumeration of the points to be regarded in considering the condition and government of a kingdom; addressed to George Lord Home, Baron of Berwick and Earl of Dunbar [1606–1611]. fol. 10.

3. "Vox populi, or, newes from Spayne; translated according to the Spanish coppie." [By Thomas Scot, B.D.] fol. 19.

   Printed in 1620.

4. "A true relation of the material passages of Lieut. Col. John Lilburne's sufferings in 1637," as represented before the Peers in Parl., 13 Feb. 1645, with the order of the House thereupon. fol. 48.

   A transcript made in the last century. Printed in 1645.

5. "The Memorial of the Church of England;" [by James Drake, M.D.] fol. 65.

   Printed, 4to Lond. 1705, and 8vo Lond. 1711. The following note is added by Rawlinson in the table of contents at the beginning of the volume:—"The best part of this copy was transcribed by the Rev. Mr. John Ball, B.A., from a copy before it was printed, from which he told me it differr'd very much, and that [he] was inform'd the copy from whence this was taken (probably an original) was in the library of Robert Harley, esq., afterwards Earl of Oxford, and not unlikely is yet amongst the Harleyan manuscripts." It does not, however, appear in the Index to the Catal. of the Harleian MSS.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 46.

"Χριστὸς ὑπερυψούμενος, sive diatriba de sessione Christi ad dextram Dei, vice concionis ad clerum in celeberrimis academiis Anglicanis usitatæ, ut et etiam pro exercitio quali quali ad sacrum munus pastoris evangelici suscipiendum, scripta;" auctore Deodato Lawson, Bostoniæ Nov.-Anglorum, A.D. 1684. Præmissa est dedicatio domino Johanni Hartop, equiti aurato, "patriæ suæ lumini splendidissimo."

880, 881.

Codices chartacei, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 166 et 137. In catal. bibl. Joh. Lewis, 130; exinde empti (una cum codice altero) pretio novem solidorum.

Transcript, made in 1718 for John Lewis of Margate, of MS. 296 in the library of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, containing a collection of thirty English tracts by Wickliffe.

A table of contents is prefixed, and the tracts may be found enumerated in Nasmith's Catalogue of the MSS. in C. C. C. C. pp. 328–330. The commencement of the tract Attendite a fermento Pharisæorum, which is said to be so defaced in the Cambridge MS. as to be illegible, is here supplied from a MS. in the library of Trinity College, Dublin.

Lewis notes that this transcript (which is very neatly written) cost him nine shillings. He subjoins, at fol. 130 in the second volume, a transcript by himself of part of W. Tindal's preface to his translation of the Pentateuch.

Codex membranaceus, in 4to, sæc. xv. ff. 74. Ad calcem, "Iste liber constat domine Margarete Erley." Deest folium unum inter ff. 10, 11.

The "Tretis cõpilud of a poure kaytif."

The contents are the same as in MS. 69 supra, with some differences in titles. See also 699. At the end are added the Beatitudes from the Sermon on the Mount.

883.

Codex membranaceus, in 8vo binis columnis, sæc. xv. ineuntis, ff. 48. Olim inter codd. T. Rawlinson 272, et exinde emptus pretio 5*s.* 6*d.*

Wickliffe's Second version of his translation of the Gospel according to St. Matthew.

No 82 in Sir F. Madden's list of MSS. of Wickliffe's Bible.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo maj. sæc. xv. ff. 303; utrinque mutilus. (Olim inter codd. T. Rawlinson, 373 ?)

[Speculum vitæ, or, Mirror of life;] an English poem on the seven petitions of the Lord's Prayer, together with the seven gifts of the Holy Ghost, the seven deadly sins, the seven cardinal virtues, the seven beatitudes, and the seven heavenly rewards.

By William of Nassington, an advocate in the ecclesiastical court of York, who is said in MS. Reg. 17 c. viii. to have translated it from a Latin treatise by John Waldby [Warton's Engl. Poet., 1840, ii. 368]. It is sometimes also ascribed to Richard Rolle of Hampole, as in MS. Univ. Cambr. Ll. i. 8 (Cat. of MSS., iv. 4, see also iii. 365).

According to an old foliation, seven leaves are wanting at the beginning. The first lines,—

" Have more delyt than in God of hefne,
Wit al oure soule we sulde him love Þat is to say zef we wol prove,"— are found on fol. 5 of MS. 890, infra. The volume ends imperfectly in the part that treats of " Donum sapientiæ de sobrietate et temperancia," with the lines,

" Or wit þe þornez þorouz whilk God was Corouned only for mannys trespas."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 130.

" Ῥαψῳδία Βιβλικά, sive canticorum Sacræ Scripturæ consarcinatio, una cum aliis quibusdam Bibliorum partibus, Græcis versibus contextæ; authore Nicolao Floydio," annis 1651–2; Gr.-Lat.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. pp. 105. In fol. reject. est nomen, " John Style."

Annals of York, containing the succession of Archbishops, High Sheriffs of the county, and Lord Mayors and Sheriffs of the city, to the commencement of the year 1631; with notices of general English history from the time of Brute. Imperfect at the end.

The writer mentions at p. 44 that he was born at Ottley. At p. 130 he gives the inventory of the jewels, vestments, etc. in York Minster in the time of Edw. VI, followed by an inventory of the plate, copes and vestments " now " remaining there in 1639 (p. 139). At p. 160, verses on Q. Elizabeth's death; p. 170, an ode on the Gunpowder Plot, " by one of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge " (" Oh Jupiter, and Graces nine "); p. 180, verses on the death of James I, as printed in Howes' Continuation of Stow's Annals, 1631, p. 1036. The account of the proclamation of James I at York is also word for word the same as in Howes' Continuation, p. 818. The narrative for the year 1630 is occupied only with the articles of the treaty concluded between Spain and England, and with a letter from Milan giving an account of the supposed appearance of the devil there in the shape of a prince.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 132, præter multa vacua.

Collections by Nathaniel Spinckes, M.A., for an Anglo-Saxon glossary, consisting chiefly of examples of words from Hickes' Dissertationes and the Anglo-Saxon version of the Bible, in alphabetical order.

On three leaves at the end are a few words in use in Wiltshire, Northamptonshire, Devonshire, and other counties, derived from the Anglo-Saxon.

Codex membranaceus, in folio minori, sæc. xv. exeuntis, ff. 57. [Qu., annon olim inter codd. Nic. Foucault ?]

The Statutes, in French, of the Order of the Knights of St. Michael, established by Louis XI in 1469, with the supplementary ordinances made in 1476 for the office of Provost and Master of the ceremonies.

The " Table des chapitres " has been misplaced in binding, and now follows the commencement of chap. xiii.

The first page is occupied by a well-executed illumination, representing the King sitting on his throne, in front of a screen of green arras, with ten nobles, wearing the collar of the order, in a semi-circle before him.

Of an edition of these Statutes, printed in quarto without place or date, the Library possesses a copy on vellum, amongst Selden's books.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning of the volume has been affixed, a Latin hymn, "De Sancto Theobaldo," in four stanzas and 28 lines, written in red, blue and gold, with a neat drawing in the margin of a knight in full armour, upon a white horse.

Beg.

"Ingenuosa sobole
Ex Provinno fauste natus,
Heros Theobaldus, prole
Ac mente nobilitatus."

Not printed in Daniel's or Mone's collections of Hymns.

The cover of the volume bears an engraved book-plate of the arms of Burnshed, viz., arg. three bends gules, on a canton of the first a lion passant of the second; crest a pheon.

Codex membranaceus, in 4to, binis columnis, sæc. xiv. ff. 411.

Petri Comestoris Historia Scholastica, sive historia sacra Veteris et Novi Testamenti.

Ad calc. (fol. 406), "Liber iste scriptus fuit in E[a], m. ccc. xx. v."

Tabulæ capitulorum additæ sunt manu altera.

Codex membranaceus, in fol. min., sæc. xv. ff. 146; in fine mutilus. Olim liber Edmundi Coleman; postea, Richardi Kydman.

[Speculum vitæ;] a poem on the Lord's Prayer, etc., ascribed to William of Nassyngton.

See MS. 884, supra.

Beg.

"Alle myghty God in Trinite,
In whom onely are persones thre,
Fader and Son and þo Holy Goste, þat bee o God as we trowe moste."

End. (fol. 298 of MS. 884).

"Settes temperaunce and sobernes Righte mesure as reson es, þis vertue þat es . . . ."

A note by Edw. Umfreville about Rich. Rolle, sometimes supposed to have been the author, is inserted at the beginning of the volume.

891.

Codex membranaceus, in fol. min., sæc. xv. ff. 129, binis manibus, mutilus in initio. Olim liber Th. Sayer; [qu., annon antea Jac. Ware ?]

The Prick of Conscience, by Richard Rolle of Hampole.

Six or seven leaves are wanting at the beginning, comprising the introduction and about 46 lines of the first part. A portion of the third part, "De pœnis purgatorii," is written at the end of the last division, "De gaudiis cœli."

Beg. (fol. 6 b of Laud MS. 601)

"Of such filþe man maked es,
Of þis shulde eche man here haue mynde,
And knowe þe wrecchidnesse of his kynde."

End. (fol. iii b.)

"To qwilk place he us bryng þat of nouzt made alle þing. Amen."

On fol. 127 follows a metrical prayer for pardon and grace, in twenty lines, beginning,

"Mercy, God, of my mysdede, of þy mercy þat mechel ys."

Five leaves cut out.

Annales brevissimi Angliæ, a Creatione usque ad coronationem Ric. II, anno 1377. ff. 128, 9.

On the first page is a mark of previous ownership, "No. 36. J. P. ⊕." As the same initials and mark are found on almost all the MSS. which were formerly in the possession of Sir J. Ware, it is probable that this volume formed part of his collection, although not mentioned in the catalogue printed at Dublin in 1648.

892.

Codex membranaceus, in 4to, sæc. xii ineuntis. ff. 249. Ad finem mancus.

Graduale, secundum, ut videtur, usum Hibernicum; cum notis musicis.

Incip. in Dom. 1. in Adv. "Ad Te levavi." Desin. in Missa pro fidelibus defunctis, ad verba "prudens et justus, barathri castra."

In margine inferiori fol. 144 sunt verba pauca Hibernica, et in fol. 131 b quædam Latina literis Hibernicis expressa. Festa SS. Brigittæ, Patricii, atque Benedicti occurrunt inter commemorationes sanctorum.

Ad fol. 44 occurrit "Ordo divini officii in Dominica Palmarum," præmissa rubrica longa, quæ sic incipit, "Mane secretarius, vel cui hec cura iniuncta fuerat, prevideat locum aptum."

Ad fol. 61 b, "Ordo in die sabbati" in ebdomade sancto; cujus rubrica prima sic incipit, "Ipsa die ornetur ecclesia ornamentis suis." Prope finem (fol. 66 b) sunt hæc: "Tunc Magister scole tribus vicibus dicat alta voce, Accendite, accendite, accendite. Tunc omnibus accensis luminaribus cantores missam inchoent."

893.

Codex membranaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvi ineuntis, ff. 78. Manu Italica pulchre exaratus atque quoad literas initiales ornatus. Olim "ex libris Joannis de Sirmondz," "ex Gothalania;" denique inter codd. Tho. Rawlinson 701, et inde pretio quinque solidorum acquisitus.

   Printed by the Early English Text Society in English Prose Treatises of R. Rolle, edited by Rev. G. Perry, 8vo. Lond. 1866, p. 19. It is also printed at the end of Hilton's Scala perfectionis, by Julian Notary, 4to Lond. 1507, as a "devout boke compyled by mayster Walter Hylton to a devout man in temperal estate how he sholde rulen hym." The agreement of the MS. with the printed texts ends at the words, "bodili or gostly continuelli norisshed" (p. 32, E. E. T. S.; in chap. vii., 1507).

5. Chapters xxiv–xxxvi of Hilton's Scala perfectionis. fol. 54 b.

   The conclusion of chap. xxiii (as it appears in the printed text, ut supra) is prefixed, beginning at the words "Sive manducatis sive bibitis" etc., followed by a description of prayer (beginning, "Oratio est Deo sacrificium [etc.], þat is to sey, Orison is a holy sacrifice to God") which is omitted in the edition of 1507. Chap. xxiv ["of praier þat is spedfull to gett clennes in herte and vertues"] begins on fol. 55 b. Between chapters xxv and xxvi are inserted two additional chapters entitled, "In what maner mene or women of simple cunnyng mow þinke or praie in hir begynnyng," and, "A good contemplacõn for a prest or he go to masse."

The Mirror of our Lady, an English commentary on the ordinary Church offices and on the Hours of the B. Virgin; written for the use of the Sisters of Sion; in three parts.

[Part i. Treatise on Divine Service. Here wanting.]

Part ii. Of the services for each day in the week, and for the feasts of the Conception, Purification, Assumption and Nativity of the B. V. The whole portion for Sunday is wanting. fol. 1.

fol. 88 b. "Here endeth the story of the Saturday, and thus are ended alle your seven storyes."

fol. 89. Lesson taught by our Lord to S. Maud.

fol. 90. "Here begynneth of your feestes."

Part iii. "Here begynneth the thrid part of owre Ladyes Myrrour, þat is of yowre masses." fol. 102.

On the office of the Mass for ordinary days, for the season from Christmas to Easter, and for the four feasts of the B. V.; with an exposition of the Nicene Creed.

The "Mirror" was printed by Rich. Fawkes in 1530, and has been reprinted for the Early English Text Society, under the editorship of Rev. J. H. Blunt, M.A., 8vo., Lond., 1873. For the latter edition a MS. in the Library of the University of Aberdeen, which came thither from the Cape of Good Hope in 1828, was collated, which contains exactly the portions wanting in the present MS.; and as it was written by the same scribe for the same Sister, and corresponds in measurement, except that the Rawlinson portion has been narrowed in binding, it is evident that these two MSS. form but one book, although apparently from the first bound in two volumes. No other manuscript copy of the text is known to be extant. At the end is this colophon: "Here endeth the booke called, Our Ladyes Myrroure. E. M. off charite prayeth fore your wreched seruaunt Robert T., wryter of this booke." The Aberdeen MS. fills up these initials with the names of Elizabeth Monton and R. Tailour.

On ff. 91 b, 92 are these notes of ownership: "The name of the honour of this present booke, Wylliam Cudde, gyven vnto hym by R. J., and he lykewyse honour of the gever of the same, quod R." The book is bound in the original boards, which are stamped with the arms of Henry VII, with the dragon and greyhound as supporters; above, on either side, a shield, party per cross, in the first quarter on one side a crosslet; and the sun and moon. A fly-leaf bears a late shelf-mark of some library, "Y. 1. 19."

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvi., ineuntis, ff. 16; ad finem mutilus. In folio reject., "Secreta mea mihi. Th. Holland."

A sermon on Zacchæus the Publican, S. Luke xix. 9; preached, at the beginning of the sixteenth century, on a feast-day on which people observed the custom, "nott to be reprouyde gretly," of coming to church "apparelyd solemply . . . . . in ther best arey and apparell;" a custom which the preacher employs as the ground for an earnest exhortation to the putting on the new garments of godliness.

Ends imperfectly; probably one leaf is wanting.

The old leather binding is stamped on one side with the Tudor rose, supported by angels, with crosses as on the binding of the preceding MS.; and on the other side with the arms of Henry VII, supported by angels.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæcc. xvii, xviii., ff. 7.

1. "Some few queries concerneinge the Bill against pluralities" proposed in 1679, by Thomas Barlow, Bishop of Lincoln, with a presentation-inscription to Archbishop Sancroft, dated 8 Cal. Feb. 1678(–9). fol. 1.
2. Letter from Daniel Finch, Earl of Nottingham, to Dr. Waterland, declining in the case of a proposed presentee to a living to break his rule of requiring a bond for residence, and for resignation of the living before accepting any other cure of souls; 20 May, 1727. fol. 6.

   Endorsed by Rawlinson with notes that it had been given to him by Mr. Whiston, bookseller, and had been printed by Dr. Newton, the Principal of Hertford College, without acknowledgment that he had it from Rawlinson. Where it is to be found in print does not, however, appear; it is not in Newton's anonymous treatise published in 1743, entitled Pluralities indefensible.

   The cover of the first article is part of a bond by William Thomas, son of Morgan Thomas, securing to his intended wife Sarah Martyn, daughter of Jeremiah Martyn, in case she should survive him, an annuity of £40 during the life of his said father; 16 Nov. 1658.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, manibus variis, sæc. xvii., ff. 269.

Miscellaneous collections, chiefly theological, of Malachi Conant, B.D., Fellow of Magdalene College, Oxford, and afterwards vicar of Beeding, Sussex; dated 1661. A table of contents is prefixed.

The following are some of the chief articles among the 46 of which the volume is composed:—

1. A preservative against Popery by Scriptures; under 47 heads.
2. Sermon (on S. Matt. xxv. 23) preached by Mr. Gower at the funeral of John Conant, minister at Salisbury, the father of Malachi Conant. p. 1.
3. Prayers before University sermons at Oxford. pp. 5, 180, 527 (imperf.).
4. Directions and forms for private prayers and graces at meals. pp. 16, 80, 91, 93.
5. Baxter's Directions for the study of Divinity. p. 17.
6. "Pii concionatoris officium," a transcript of a treatise printed at Cambridge in 1655, with other collections on the duty and office of ministers. pp. 31, 79, 199, 468, 469, 480, 485.
7. The last will and testament of Mr. John Conant, of Sarum, who died 13 Apr. 1653. p. 95.
8. (Manu altera.) 83 Questions and answers on Scripture-difficulties. p. 99.
9. (Manu tertia.) Three sermons on I Kings xxi. 20, one on Ps. iv. 7, one on II Chron. xxxv. 6, and one in Latin on Mal. ii. 7, preached in Oxford in 1618–9, by a member of Exeter College, no doubt the above-mentioned John Conant. pp. 129–221.
10. List of Malachi Conant's pupils. p. 184.
11. Statuta Collegii Magdalenensis. p. 225.
12. A letter signed A. E., on the points of Arminianism, addressed as a new-year's gift to the writer's patron. p. 361.
13. A brief survey of the new platform of Predestination. p. 393.
14. Confession of faith made by Dr. John Conant, Rector of Exeter College, when he was ordained, 28 Oct. 1652. p. 425.

17. Classified list of all the School-men. p. 475.
18. Gratiarum actio apud Magdalenenses. p. 501.

19. Directions of Mr. Thomas Barlow, Keeper of the Public Library, for the study of the Civil and Canon Law. p. 503.
20. A sermon by Malachi Conant, on Rev. iv. 8, preached on Trinity Sunday at St. Mary's, Oxford. p. 517.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 19.

"A cursory description of Addington and the antiquites thereof, 1710;" being a description of the church and the monuments there, as printed (excepting the quotation from Blount) in vol. ii. of Aubrey's Nat. Hist. and Antiq. of Surrey, 1718.

This MS., (which was given to Rawlinson by John Hare, Richmond Herald,) is written in a clear hand, but by an ignorant scribe, and contains the following Indian-ink drawings, very neatly executed: 1. ground-plan of the church; 2. the brass to John and Matilda Leigh; 3. the monument to Eliz. and Sarah Lovell.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 36.

Alphabetical list, by Rawlinson, of Cambridge authors noticed in Wood's Athenæ and Fasti as being incorporated, etc. at Oxford; with a supplementary list.

Among Rawlinson's large collections for a continuation of the Athenæ, which are preserved in our Library, are two volumes in folio of notices of Cambridge writers admitted at Oxford.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xviii. ff. 165.

"Right of electors, determined by the House, to the 15 May, 1730;" being a collection of resolutions of the House of Commons respecting the right of voting at elections for the several counties and boroughs in England, Wales, and Scotland; arranged alphabetically, with an index prefixed.

Codex chartaceus, in 4to, sæc. xvii. ff. 160. In tegmine, "Antonius Eyles me jure possidet, 1666, ex dono Jo. Tidcombe;" postea inter codd. Tho. Rawlinson, 452.

Miscellaneous legal notes.

1. Laws of courts leet and courts baron, in French; with an index of heads. ff. 1–101.
2. Statutes respecting labourers, vagrants, relief of the poor, weights and measures, innkeepers, etc. ff. 102–121.
3. References to various cases. ff. 122–127.
4. Notes and extracts on many subjects; ecclesiastical jurisdiction, parliament, meanings of legal terms, etc. ff. 128–160.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xvii. ff. 167.

Sermons on the baptismal promise to renounce the world, on the several articles of the Apostles' Creed, and (briefly) on the Sacraments, being part of a series upon the Church Catechism; partially written in shorthand.

The volume is described in a note by Dr. Bliss as being "Adversaria" of Francis Drope, B.D., Fellow of Magd. Coll., because there occurs on fol. 145 an acknowledgment by him of money received from "Mr. Stafford" on returning from holding manor-courts for various estates of Magdalene College, in Oxon, Bucks, and Berks, in the year 1667; but the handwritings are different, and the real writer appears to be the above-named Charles Stafford, B.D., of Magd. College. The first sermon (on fol. 30) is headed "Wanden, [16]82, 84," and Stafford was then the Vicar of Wavendon, Bucks (which is doubtless the place designated), while Drope died in 1671.

Codex chartaceus, in 8vo, sæc. xvi. ff. 83.

10. Wages receipt-book of the crew of the ship "Endymion," Jarvis Couchman commander, Oct. 1653–July, 1655. fol. 261.

11. Journal on board H.M.S. the "Elizabeth," carrying the flag of Sir John Berry, Knt., rear-admiral in the Channel, at Spithead and in the Downs, 3 Oct. 1688–27 March, 1689; kept by Capt. John Nevell, the commander. fol. 267.

12. On board the same ship, 26 Sept. 1688–2 Feb. $168\frac{8}{9}$; kept by Jeremiah Johnson. fol. 284.
Formerly among Pepys' MSS.

13. On board the "Resolution," the flag-ship of Lord Dartmouth, 13 Oct. 1688–16 March, $168\frac{8}{9}$; kept by Lieut. William Wright. fol. 302.
Prefixed is a copy of a certificate by Lord Dartmouth that Capt. Will. Wright behaved with great diligence and faithfulness while under his command; dated 8 Aug. 1689; which is followed by two certificates, signed S. (?) Bowles, and dated 8 June, 1689, of the delivery by Capt. Wright into the Admiralty of two journals of the proceedings of the "Resolution" from 19 Dec. 1688 to 16 March, $168\frac{8}{9}$, and from 13 Oct. 1688 to 19 Nov. 1689.

14. On board H.M.S. "Constant Warwick," Capt. Woolfran Cornewall, 4 Dec. 1688–31 Aug. 1690; kept by Lieut. Thomas Legge. fol. 317.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ff. 18.

Corrected draught of a grant from Charles II, under the seal of the Duchy of Lancaster, to Rupert Browne and Samuel Boheme, of the honour and manor of Tutbury in the counties of Stafford, Derby, etc. for the sum of £7,000, and a grant of the fee-simple of the land on which the fort at Sheerness is built.

On folio 17 b. is a note signed by Sir John Holt, and on folio 18 a draught of letters of attorney to give seisin of the Honour, dated 19 Nov. 1683.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 74. Olim in catalogo venali quodam, 147.

"The life of the learned and reverend John Wallis, S.T.P., Savilian Professor of Geometry, and Keeper of the Archives in the famous University of Oxford, and Fellow of the Royal Society at London. Collected and written in the year 1735, and now reviewed, by John Lewis, minister of Mergate."

This book is not mentioned in the sale Catalogue of Lewis's MSS. in 1749.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 164.

"The history of the life and death of John Witcliff, S.T.P. . . . . , with an account of his writings and opinions, collected from original MSS. and records. By John Lewis, A.M., Minister of Mercgate, and Master of East-Bridge Hospital near Canterbury."

The author's last and unpublished revision of the Life of Wickliffe, originally printed in 1720, containing much additional matter, and being in great part entirely re-written. Prefixed are—i. Dedication to the University of Oxford, in which Lewis describes himself as having been a "battellor" of Exeter College in 1694; ii. Preface vindicating Wickliffe from the charge of favouring the tenets of the Anabaptists. At the end is added an analysis of Wickliffe's Trialogus. The first page of the volume is marked with the date, "March 9, 1741."

This volume was not one of Rawlinson's MSS., but has been placed amongst them because so large a proportion of Lewis's volumes are to be found there. It was bought at Lewis's sale in 1749, by Joseph Ames for 3*s.*; appeared in his sale Catalogue in 1760, No. 684; was bought at the sale of Mark Cephas Tutet's library (No. 380) in 1786 by — Collins for 16*s.*; and by the Bodleian Library in the year 1835 for £4 14*s.* 6*d.*

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xviii. ff. 45.

An alphabetical list, very neatly and clearly written, of writers on the history of Great Britain; to which the following title is prefixed:—"The names, birth-place, residence, when living or when died, of such historians and antiquarians as have wrote, published, or collected any considerable quantity of materials, as printed books, manuscripts, medals, etc., for and towards completing the history and antiquities of England, Scotland, and Ireland."

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæc. xvii. ff. 39; deest fol. unum ad calcem.

The municipal laws of the town of Hirschberg, in Silesia; in German. The title commences thus:—"Der Stadt Hierschberg Statuta, Policeÿ-ordnung Rechte, undt Bewohnheiten, in unterschiedene Punct undt Artickel verfasset * * * * Item, wie Stadt Recht zu hegen undt Ding zuhalten seye."

To a preface, which is dated 1572, but of which this is a later copy, are subjoined the names of Balth. Tilisch, pastor, and Matthias Klösel, deacon.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæcc. xvii, xviii. ff. 201.

Letters to Compton and Robinson, successively Bishops of London, relative to foreign Protestants.

I. Bishop Compton's papers.

1. Letter from Dr. John Nicholas, Warden of New College and Vice-Chancellor of Oxford, complaining of the Archbishop's having granted the degree of M.A. to Mr. Newell of Alban Hall, while still resident in the University; 24 March, $167\frac{7}{8}$. fol. 1.

   Seal of arms; quarterly, 1 and 4, a bar between three martlets; 2 and 3, a fleur-de-lis.

2. From H. Justel; the person (C. M. de Veil, as appears from the endorsement) whom the Bishop patronizes is one always well-spoken of, and esteemed for his learning and good manners; his wife, who is anxious to cross the sea to join him, is a person of great wisdom and very good family; need of caution in receiving converts; Paris, 5 Dec. 1678. Fr. fol. 3.

3. From the same; thanks for Cudworth's treatise, which, as well as [Burnet's] Hist. of the Reform., ought to be translated into French; bad character of the Sieur du Plessis, formerly a monk, respecting whom the Bishop had made enquiry; 5 Feb. 1678. Fr. fol. 5.

   A reply by Du Plessis to the charges against him is in MS. C. 984, fol. 269.

4. From the same, when in England, recommending the bearer, M. Vernous, who is in great need; description of a new flowering-plant brought to Holland from the Cape of Good Hope, Narcissus liliareus; not dated. Fr. fol. 7.

5. From the same, introducing a bookseller from Paris; notice of works of Huet, Baluze, and the Benedictines; 20 Apr. 1679. Fr. fol. 9.

6. From G. Bonvallet; there are pretended converts in London, who obtain tutorships in families of rank with the view of perverting their pupils to Popery; one is in the family of Sir Gilbert Gerrard, in Pall Mall, who plots with another named Malachy; sends this information also to Sir Scrope How, Lord Falconbridge, and Mr. Primrose; Hague, 15 June, 1679. Fr. fol. 11.

7. From H. Justel; sends some trees; M. Phall, of whom the Bishop had spoken, has come to Paris; notice of a French tract in which observations are made on the oath of allegiance exacted from Roman Catholics; 18 Nov. 1679. Fr. fol. 13.

8. From [Sam.] de L'Angle to his brother [J. M.] de L'Angle, Canon of Canterbury and Minister of the church in the Savoy; had M. [d'Allemagne] remained in France, the Consistory would have required very complete evidence of his penitence before restoring him to the ministry, but they are quite content to leave the matter in the Bishop of London's hands; Paris, 19 Jan. 1680. Fr. fol. 15.

9. From André Lortie; thanks the Bishop profusely for translating some little book of his into English; La Rochelle, 2 July, 1680. Fr. fol. 17.

   The book is evidently his Traité de la Sainte Céne, and the translation is the anonymous Treatise of the Holy Communion, published in 1677, which has hitherto been supposed to be an original work of Compton's.

10. From the same, to the same effect; has been obliged to leave Rochelle for a reason which M. Piozet, the minister of the French Church, will communicate; Paris, 25 Feb. 1681. Fr. fol. 19.

11. From the same; thanks the Bishop for a letter to himself of 11 March, and for one to Mde. Regnier; hopes soon to be able to preach in English; requests that M. Barbat, whom the Bishop had ordained deacon, may be admitted to priest's orders; Paris, 21 Apr. 1681. Fr. fol. 21.

    The writer was afterwards rector of Barton, Notts.

12. From H. Justel; prays for assistance to remove himself and his young family from France, where Protestants can no longer live; leave to quit the country could be obtained on the application of Mr. Savile [the ambassador]; 16 July, 1681. Fr. fol. 23.

13. From A. de St. Martin [Baron de Barre] to Mde. Regnier at London, through Lady Clinton in Lincoln's Inn Fields, and by her sent on to Bp. Compton; enquires respecting the character of the son of le Chev. Oback [Sir John Hoby, of Bisham, Berks], who has proposed marriage to the writer's daughter, and gives particulars respecting property, etc.; suggests that the Bishop of London would probably be able to give information; Paris, 21 June, 1681. Fr. fol. 25.

14. From H. Justel; M. Marchant, the King's gardener at Paris, will send the Bishop the Thlaspi semper virens, and whatever else he wants, in exchange for a Bermuda cedar, a tulip-tree, or some other plants; books in preparation by Thiers, Mabillon, the Benedictines, etc.; 28 May, 1684. Fr. fol. 27.

15. From Philip Mestrezat, pastor and senior professor of Theology at Geneva; profuse encomium of the Bishop, and thanks for his patronage of a minister named Davy; has seen his nephews Boyle and Nicholas; Geneva, 25 Sept. 1684. Lat. fol. 29.

16. From Dan. Henri de Laizement, a prisoner (with his fellow-ministers of La Rochelle) in the Conciergerie du Palais; asks leave for his son (the grandson of Philippe Vincent, who was known to Charles I, and published the first French account of his martyrdom), now a student at Saumur, to be admitted into one of the Universities; Paris, 15 Nov. 1684. Fr. fol. 31.

17. From . . . . Bommarc [Hommarc ?], complaining of the insufficiency of his stipend as French minister at Plymouth; will learn English quickly, in order to qualify himself for church preferment; Lord Feversham, at the desire of his mother Mde. Duras, promised to speak in his favour; Plymouth, 2 March, 1684. Fr. fol. 33.

18. From the same, recommending a gilder for employment by Sir Christopher Wren at St. Paul's, who had executed all the gilding in Lord Montagu's house and in the late Queen's gallery at Kensington; London, 21 July, 1695. Fr. fol. 35.

Seal of arms; a chevron, in chief two stars, in base a boat on the sea.

19. From . . . . . Piozet, minister of the French Church in London, asking Bp. Compton to procure (as he promised to do a year ago) the admission into one of the Protestant convents in the Electorate of Brandenburg of a young English lady named Cisner, the daughter of a clergyman, but utterly destitute; 23 May, 1685. Fr. fol. 37.

Seal of arms; quarterly, 1. a tower, 2 and 3, a fleur-de-lis, 4. a lion ramp.

20. From John Herne. Arrived at the Hague yesterday; the Princess received him and the letters and books very graciously this morning; will endeavour so to demean himself that there may be no complaints; 27 Nov. 1685. fol. 39.

Black seal of arms; three chevronels.

21. Two letters from Ant. Klingler, S. T. D., antistes, or chief minister, at Zurich, requesting the Bishop, in the first place, to obtain permission for the writer to dedicate his commentary on Joshua (in 2 vols. folio, entitled Bella Jehovæ), to Q. Anne, and afterwards sending by the hands of one Henry Bullinger, a minister, a copy for presentation to the Queen; March and April, 1704. Lat. ff. 41, 43.

Seal of arms; a star of six points.

22. Thirty-eight news-letters (chiefly in French) written from Berne to Bishop Compton by J. C. Werndly, chaplain and secretary to Mr. A. Stanyan the English envoy, and — Clarion, a French refugee minister, (employed by Werndly as an amanuensis,) giving particulars of public affairs in Switzerland, France, etc., and of the war in Spain, Flanders, and Italy, together with an account of proposals made by Werndly to the Swiss pastors for a union of the English and Helvetic Churches, but apparently discouraged by the Bishop; 8 Apr. 1706–11 Feb. 1708. ff. 45–141.

Some of Werndly's letters have a seal of arms; three trees; crest, a demi-savage, carrying a tree on his shoulder.

The following papers are included:—

i. Copy of a letter from Mr. Stanyan to the Protestant Cantons of Switzerland, informing them of the victory at Ramillies; Berne, 12 June, 1706. Fr. fol. 64.

ii. Translation by Werndly of the reply from the Senate of Zurich, dated the same day. fol. 66.

iii. Form of thanksgiving used by J. F. Ostervald in the Church of Neufchatel, upon the investiture of the King of Prussia with the sovereignty of the State; 3 Nov. 1707. Fr. fol. 129.

iv. Address of congratulation from the clergy of Berne to the King of Prussia on his acquiring the State of Neufchatel; 13 Kal. Dec. 1707. Lat. fol. 134.

v. Address of congratulation from the same to the clergy of Neufchatel upon the same occasion. Lat. fol. 136.

vi. Copy of a letter from Werndly to Klingler, the Antistes of Zurich, enquiring anxiously, on behalf of Mr. Stanyan, into the intentions of the Canton with regard to supporting the King of Prussia in case of invasion; Berne, 25 Jan. 1708. Fr. fol. 137.

vii. Klingler's reply; 4 Feb. 1708. Lat. fol. 140.

viii. Werndly to Klingler, expressing great satisfaction at his reply; 8 Feb. 1708. Fr. fol. 141.

23. From J. F. Ostervald, thanking Bishop Compton for a letter received through M. de Montmollin, and expressing great hopes of a union of the Churches; Neufchatel, 21 Oct. 1707. Fr. fol. 143.

24. From Ant. Klingler, expressing satisfaction at hearing that Q. Anne has promised some preferment in the Church of England to Werndly, but strongly urging the claims of his past service and present need for speedy reward; Zurich, 2 Nov. 1709. Lat. fol. 145.

25. From [Armand ?] Dubourdieu, thanking the Bishop for his kindness to M. Gaujac, a minister who had been condemned to death, and asking for a continuance of help; not dated. Fr. fol. 147.

26. Declaration signed by some French Protestants before Etienne le Camus, Bishop of Grenoble, of their return to the communion of the Church of Rome, according to the use of the Gallican Church, accepting all the doctrines taught by, and rejecting all the heresies contrary to, the Word of God and the Universal Church, while still desiring the restoration of the communion in both kinds, and reformation in other points of discipline. Fr. fol. 148.

This declaration was rejected by the Papal Nuncio as being insufficient and equivocal in terms, but he was requested to mind his own business, and told that the Bishops knew what they were doing.

27. Letter from [Etienne] Le Moyne, professor at Leyden; has examined the University library, which ought to be one of the best in the world, and finds it is one of the poorest in all Europe; it is tolerably rich in Turkish, Persian and Arabic MSS., but in Greek and Latin has nothing answering to its reputation; not dated. Fr. fol. 150.

28. Copy of a memorial to Bishop Compton from — Piozet, a French minister in London (written while A. Perez was living, who died in London in 1686), containing a scheme for the education of young men to be ministers among the French refugees. fol. 152.

29. Unsigned letter (or one from which the signature has been cut) from Ken, while Chaplain in Holland to the Princess Mary, containing an account of the conversion of Col. Fitz-Patrick from the Church of Rome; Hoenslerdyke, 13 Sept. 1680. fol. 158.

Printed in the second edition of [Anderdon's] Life of Ken, 1854, pp. 170–4, where, by a singular mistake (probably in consequence of there being no signature) the letter is said to be "not an original, but a copy in a handwriting of the time, very like Ken's, but not his autograph." The paper is most clearly in Ken's handwriting throughout; and the passage which, in a subsequent letter printed at p. 176 ibid., he requests may be omitted when a copy is made, has been enclosed in brackets, evidently showing that this was the original from which the copy so made was taken. In the printed text, for "priestly intention," read, "priest's intention;" for "this religion," read, "his religion;" and for "having truth," read, "saving truth."

II. Bishop Robinson's papers.

1. Letter from G. Dumont, in the name of the Reformed Churches of Dresden and Leipzig, asking Robinson's advice respecting an appeal for help to Q. Anne; the church at Dresden always assembles in secret, but at Leipzig they are never disturbed in the enjoyment of the advantages gained for them by Robinson's intercession (while he was in that city) with the King of Poland; Leipzig, 29 June, 1713. Fr. fol. 160.

2. From Bishop Compton; written by his secretary but signed by him. The Church at Amsterdam was omitted, possibly by Mr. Cull's neglect, when the House of Commons made a grant to Rotterdam; fears that Secretary St. John's dilatoriness will frustrate the Queen's good intentions for Mr. Cæsar; Fulham, 25 March, 1712. fol. 162.

3. From Franc. Mole, with congratulations on the settlement of the treaty of peace; 15 Apr. 1713. Fr. fol. 164.

4. From his nephew Henry Merttins, addressed to "John Robinson, Esq., the King of England's Resident at the Court of Sweden;" will encourage cousin John in doing well; thanks him for his allowance, and his aunt for her present to his daughter Mary; he and his father find the most profitable trade is the sending silver to the East Indies in exchange for rough diamonds; London, 30 Nov. 1699. fol. 166.

Seal of arms: a chevron engrailed, between three leopards' faces: crest, a lion passant.

5. From [Isaac] Dubourdieu; complains of his son's neglect of writing; the Church in the Savoy and some other conformist Churches have appointed him and Mr. de Crespigny to attend the negotiations at Utrecht, on behalf of the refugees, but Secretary St. John delays giving them letters of recommendation; complains of a Memoire published by M. Benoit and of letters written by Basnage; 1 Apr. 1712. Fr. fol. 168.

6. From [Jacques Basnage]; imperfect; respecting the proposed change of religion of the Electoral Prince of Saxony, and praying for interposition on behalf of some imprisoned Protestants in France. Fr. fol. 170.

7. From Thomas Cremer; remittance of money from the Treasury; Dr. Hutton died on Friday, and was buried under Somerset House Chapel; 2 Dec. 1712. fol. 172.

8. From I. Dubourdieu; his nephew Armand Dubourdieu and four of their elders have been summoned before the Bishop [of London], on a complaint from the French ambassador to the Queen of certain expressions used in some sermons with reference to the King of France; London, 26 May, 1713. Fr. fol. 174.

9. From the same; remarks upon the preface to the third edition of Burnet's Pastoral Care, published in 1713; not dated. Fr. fol. 176.

Seal of arms.

10. From Bishop Compton; hopes Mr. Cæsar will soon be despatched; sends a melancholy account from the Vaudois in the valley of Pragelas, that Robinson may expostulate with the Duke of Savoy's Ministers; the Queen has sent a copy of it to Mr. Chetwind; the Church at Amsterdam wants a letter from the Queen to the States, who will then lend a church there; 22 Apr. [1712]. fol. 178.

11. From Edw. Nicholas, Commissioner of the Privy Seal, introducing Mr. Gordon who goes to Holland as Secretary to Sir James Wishart; Spring-Garden, 10 Feb. $17\frac{11}{12}$. fol. 179.

12. Part of a list (numbered 9 to 26) of some, apparently fictitious, French satirical tracts, chiefly directed against Louis XIV. fol. 181.

13. From F. Donaudi, asking for the return of the London Gazette lent by him; Utrecht, 28 June, 1712. Fr. fol. 183.

14. From Mrs. Eliz. Cornwallis to Mrs. Robinson, asking for a loan of £200, and that her son may accompany the Bishop to the Congress at Utrecht; desires that her letter may be burned; Wallingford, 24 Nov. 1711. fol. 184.

15. From Carlo Ruzini conveying the thanks of the Senate of Venice for the inclusion of that republic in the treaty with Spain; Hague, 11 Aug. 1713. Fr. fol. 186.

16. From C. Van Muyden, thanking Bishop Robinson for past benefits, and asking help in present necessities, which his wife will represent in detail; Stockholm, 13 March, 1713. Fr. fol. 188.

17. "Copie d'une lettre de Monsieur d'Ilgen a Monsieur l'envoye Breton [i.e. Earl Strafford] en date de Landsberg du 31^{e} Juillet, 1712." fol. 155.

18. From Madame C. E. de Rodstehn ("née De La Forest . . . . . .") to Bishop Robinson, begging for protection for some members of her family; Oldenburg, 7 March, 1713. Fr. fol. 192.

19. "Extrait d'une lettre de S. E. Mons^{r}. le Gouvern. Gen. Comte de Vellingk, datée Stade, le 11 Avril 1712." He will do any thing in his power on behalf of Mr. Wedderkop, and all he would ask in return would be the portrait of David Joris, a famous sectary, which is in his possession. Fr. fol. 194.

20. From J. d'Alais to Bishop Robinson; the Court of Hanover concurs with that of England in deprecating the contemplated change of religion on the part of the Electoral Prince of Saxony, and has sent a remonstrance to his father the King of Poland; Hanover, 6 Dec. 1712. Fr. fol. 196.

21. Complimentary letter to Bishop R. from — Brelinski, "le Marechal de la Courone" of Poland; Warsaw, 6 May, 1712. Fr. fol. 198.

22. From J. Crafford; Utrecht, 7 Nov. 1720. Dutch. fol. 200.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæcc. xvii, xviii. ff. 182.

Letters to Bishop Compton, and papers relating to the diocese of London during his episcopate.

1. Will of Sir Nathaniel Riche, Knt., containing a legacy for a free school in Bermuda; proved 1 Dec. 1636; extracted from the register of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, and attested by Thos. Welham, Deputy Reg. fol. 1.

2. Extract from the Patent Rolls of 8 Edw. II of a decree of Gilbert, Bishop of London, respecting the endowment of the vicarage of Ealing, A.D. 1314; attested by William Ryley. fol. 5.

3. "Some reasons for the supersedeing Dr. [W.] Payne's commission," as official of the royal peculiaro in the city of London, on account of the facilities afforded by him for clandestine marriages. fol. 7.

4. Letter from Dr. John Goodman asking in the name of the Countess of Essex for preferment for Mr. Pooley, her chaplain; not dated. fol. 9.

5. Letter from Rich. Sterne, Archbishop of York, sending bishop Compton a copy of the commission issued out of the Exchequer, July 8, 1674, respecting the collection of certain tenths in his diocese, with the archbishop's answer and objections in return; Bishopsthorpe, 20 May 1676. ff. 11–14.

Seal of arms; arms of the see, empaling a chevron between three cross-crosslets.

6. Letter from Edmund Hickeringill to Will. Shelton, forwarding, in accordance with the bishop's desire, his opinion, in 14 stanzas of verse, on the Romish practice of half-communion; Colchester, 22 May, 1679. fol. 15.

See a letter from Mr. Shelton to the Bishop in the next volume, fol. 208.

7. Statement of the annual value of the bishopric of Oxford, with the rectory of Witney in commendam, while held by Bishop Compton. fol. 16.

8. Letter, written by an amanuensis and signed by Sir Roger L'Estrange, to Bp. Compton, informing him of a conventicle held by "the Sweet Singers of Israel, or the Family of Love," in Lower Moorfields, mentioning the death and burial of Andrew Marvell, and desiring to have the licensing of Almanacs; 20 Aug. 1678. fol. 18.

9. From Edw. Norton, giving an account of a conference of the clergy of his rural deanery respecting the half-communion of the church of Rome; Saffron-Walden, 17 May, 1679. fol. 20.

10. From Dr. John Goodman, Rector of Hadham, Herts, with an account of a meeting of the clergy of that deanery on the same subject; 24 May, 1679. fol. 22.

11. From Thos. Browninge, with a notice of a similar meeting of the clergy of the deanery of Witham; 27 May, 1679. fol. 24.

12. From the same, with a notice of a third meeting of the clergy of Witham deanery, on the subject of the worshipping of saints and angels; Wickham Episcopi, 16 July, 1679. fol. 26.

13. Objections of the Commissioners of Excise for Scotland to some proposals of the Commissioners of Excise for England for equal duties on articles of home consumption. fol. 28.

14. Copy of the will of William Clerke, dean of Winchester, dated 22 April, 1679, bequeathing out of his estate at Tillingham, Essex, held on lease from the Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's, legacies for the augmentation of ten poor livings, of which four are specified, viz., Buckingham, St. Alban's, Maldon, and Stony Stratford. fol. 30.

15. List of thirteen new trustees appointed for Dr. Clerke's charities at Tillingham. fol. 37.

16. From Dr. Goodman, with an account of a conference of the clergy of his deanery on the subject of ministerial duties, and the best methods of discharging them; Hadham, 26 Sept. 1679. fol. 38.

17. From Will. Shelton, reporting a conference of the clergy of the deaneries of Colchester and Tendring respecting prayers in an unknown tongue; Colchester, 18 June, 1679. fol. 40.

18. From Sam. Hall; conference of the clergy of the deaneries of Ongar and Harlow on the question of Half-communion; Theydon Mount, 2 June, 1679. fol. 42.
Enclosures:—
i. Paper read by Mr. Hall. fol. 44.
ii. Paper read by Mr. Butler, rector of Bobbingworth. fol. 48.

19. Paper addressed to bp. Compton, and written at his desire as expressed "upon Fryday the 28th of Nov. last;" in which the writer, apparently a Non-Juror, points out the almost universal neglect of the Rubrics, Homilies, Articles and Canons. fol. 46.
Ch. Ch. Cathedral, Oxford, is the only cathedral mentioned as having weekly communion, and communion on Holy-days is said to be unheard of, "if I except the practice of the most pious and devout, but now suspended, Bishop of Bath and Wells, that seraphick soul and true pattern of primitive Christianity." Imperfect at the end.

20. Representation of the dissatisfaction felt in Scotland at the suppression of Episcopacy and violent re-establishment of Presbyterianism; fol. 48.
Written in Q. Anne's time.

21. Note to Compton from Henry Savile, written at the request of the Marêchale de Schomberg, recommending Madame d'Allemagne, who goes into England to find her husband; Paris, 27 Oct. 1679. fol. 50.

22. From Ken, while chaplain to the Princess of Orange; dissuades Compton from referring to the Dutch divines for their opinion in the disputes between the Church of England and the Non-conformists; Dieren, 19 Aug. 1680. fol. 53.
Printed in [Anderdon's] Life of Ken, i. 167.

23. From George Morley, Bp. of Winchester; cannot recommend a Frenchman for election at any time as demy in Magdalene College, Oxford, and this year also is engaged to recommend one Dingley, grand-nephew to his dear friend Dr. Hammond; is not concerned in what Maimbourg relates of the conversion of the duchess of York to the Ch. of Rome: and objects to the publication of a letter from him to her, until after his death, which, considering his very old age and some very painful infirmities, will in all probability take place very soon; is preparing for press his answer to Mr. Baxter's calumnies; Farnham Castle, 16 June, 1682. fol. 54.

24. From the same, respecting the collections made in his diocese for the poor French Protestants; Farnham Castle, 19 Aug. 1683. fol. 55.

25. From Lord Preston, ambassador at Paris; is much troubled at the ill success of Madame de La Bar's affair, in which he moved very heartily, but found it had been often refused by the King; 30 Sept. 1682. fol. 57.

26. From Sir John Shaw, [Recorder of Colchester]; Mr. Savage, the bearer of the letter, has discharged the trust reposed in him by the Bishop, [scil. the doing E. Hickeringill's duty during his suspension] very well; the writer has dispersed the conventicles, and levied the penalties upon some of those who attended them; Colchester, 2 Oct. 1682. fol. 59.

27. From G. Burnet; sends a paper in justification of himself in the matter of Lord William Russell's paper, which the Lord Privy Seal advises him not to print; 30 July [1683]. fol. 61.
On the back, Bp. Compton has written the passage respecting non-resistance, which was proposed for insertion in Lord Russell's speech on the scaffold, but omitted; which is printed at p. 213 of his Life by Lord John Russell, 1819.

28. "A true and impartial state of the case between George Hickes, D.D., Dean of Worcester, and Mr. Henry Panting, minor canon of the same," deprived of his minor canonry for holding two livings with it; 18 Feb. 168¾. fol. 63.

29. From Thomas Lamplugh, bishop of Exeter, respecting a diocesan collection for poor French Protestants; the sum of £206 2*s*. 9*d*. has been collected f[or] the repair of St. Alban's; Exon, 24 May, 1684. fol. 65.

30. From Herbert Croft, Bishop of Hereford, (signed by him but written by an amanuensis) respecting the collection in his diocese for the French refugees; Hereford, 24 May, 1684. fol. 67.

31. "Visitatio parochialis Gulielmi Beveridge, archidiaconi archidiaconatus Colcestriæ, pro decanatu de Lexden;" giving an account of the furniture wanted, and of the existing communion plate, in the various churches, and of the orders issued for their repair, cleansing, etc.; with the names of the incumbents and churchwardens; 16–23 July, 1684. fol. 69.

32. From William Shelton, recommending alderman Green as one who regularly attends church at least once a day; 19 Jan. 1684. fol. 87.

33. Original declaration in English, signed by John Severin, minister, and 13 other French Protestants in the parish of Thorpe-le-Soken, Essex, and adjacent parishes, that they will assist K. James II with their lives and fortunes against the Duke of Monmouth; 21 June, 1685. fol. 89.
A French copy of this Declaration is printed in J. S. Burn's Hist. of the French [etc.] Protestant Refugees, 1846, p. 122.

34. "Orders made at the Bishop of London's parochial visitation of the archdeaconry of Middlesex in the year 1685." fol. 91.
An index of the parishes is prefixed. The communion plate found in each parish is specified.

35. From Dr. John Covell, Chaplain to the Princess of Orange; he has presented to the Princess the books sent by the bishop; she is a very dutiful daughter of the Church of England; Dieren, 24 Aug. 1685. fol. 97.

36. Eight letters from Dr. Will. Stanley, chaplain to the Princess of Orange.

i. The second letter after his arrival at the Dutch court; has been more kindly received than he expected; her Highness is doubtless one of the best tempered persons in the world, and every one must needs be happy in serving her; Hague, 1 Jan. $168\frac{5}{6}$. fol. 107.

ii. Account of the regular attendance of the Princess at the church, and occasional attendance of the Prince and his chaplain Mr. Menard; Dieren, $\frac{15}{25}$ March, $168\frac{5}{6}$. fol. 104.

iii. The Princess is very regular in her attendance at service, and the Prince (who is an extraordinarily good-tempered person) has come several times with her; there is no discountenance given to the Church; Hague, May 13, 1686. fol. 99.

iv. [Sent through the Bishop's nephew, Mr. Nicholas.] The Princess has written to King James on behalf of Bishop Compton, with relation to the proceedings of the Eccles. Commissioners against him; an account of Dr. Burnet's proceedings at the Dutch court: his "intolerable impudence and pressing importunity" too often gain him private interviews with the Princess, but "he is of so bad repute with all good churchmen of London, both clergy and laity, that nothing can be spoken more to her R. H.'s injury than to say she is a favourer of him, and therefore this must be prevented as soon as can be;" Dieren, 26 Aug. 1686. fol. 101.

v. "I am glad to see that her R. Highnesse doth not yet go to heare Dr. Burnet. * * * I wholly abstain from him, and as much as is possible too from Sir Roland Gwyn, Mr. Forrester, etc. for I know they are ill affected to our Church as well as displeasing to the King;" Dr. Burnet declares that he is not silenced from preaching in England; Hague, 31 Dec. 1686. fol. 103.

vi. Nothing will be done to the prejudice of the bp.'s nephew in the case of Mr. Berkeley; the latter seems a very honest man, but not a man of extraordinary understanding; the English Envoy has publicly told how he has desired the Prince and Princess to forbid Dr. Burnet their presence; the writer hears that the King reckons him (Dr. S.) too zealous for the Church of England; Hague, 28 Feb. $168\frac{6}{7}$. fol. 109.

vii. Reasons for his abstaining from all intercourse with Dr. Burnet, whose "acquaintance and constant conversation was only with the disaffected to our Church and State," and who by his eleemosynary lecture set up here for faction and popularity; but he has now, at the desire of the Marq. d'Abbeville, the English envoy, been forbidden the court; the writer has told the Marquis that he was expressly directed by Bp. Compton to withhold himself from Dr. Burnet; remarks on the applications for the employment at Court from Mr. Berkeley and the bp.'s nephew; Mr. Berkeley is the only true Church of England man here; Loo, 31 March, 1687. fol. 110.

viii. Respecting the application of Mr. Nicholas for employment; the Dean of St. Paul's [Sherlock] has sent the first part of his book about tradition; request of Lord Danby about Lady Pl.; the Princess has given the Bishop an account of the King's writing to her about religion and of her answers; Loo, 30 Apr. 1688. fol. 123.

37. Petition to Bp. Compton, signed by Rob. Marriott, rector, and seven parishioners, of St. Paul, Shadwell, praying for assistance towards the ransom of Edward Bant, mariner, who was carried as a slave to Barbary in 1681; 7 Feb. $168\frac{6}{7}$. fol. 112.

38. From Edw. Carter, Rector and Archdeacon of St. Alban's, to Bishop Compton, respecting the augmentation of the living with £30 per an. from Dr. Clerke's benefaction, and respecting a bill proposed to Parliament by the parish for the levying of £80 per an. for the same purpose; St. Alban's, 28 July, 1687. fol. 114.

39. Copy of the anonymous letter and queries addressed to Dr. Bayly, Fellow of Magd. Coll. and supposed to have been written by William Penn, recommending submission to the King in the election of a President, with Dr. Bayly's answer and the replies to the queries; 25 Sept. and 3 Oct. 1687. fol. 117.

Printed with some verbal differences in the Impartial Relation of Proceedings against Magd. Coll., 4°, 1688, pp. 17–21.

40. From O. Pashler, Vicar of Buckingham, relative to the augmentation of the living from Dr. Clerke's benefaction, and the inability of the parish to raise a corresponding sum; an augmentation of £30 per an. was settled on the living in 1676 by the gift of Dr. Rich. Perrinchief; Buckingham, 20 Dec. 1687. fol. 120.

41. From Jonathan Ives, respecting a similar augmentation of livings in Northampton; Northampton, 19 Feb. $168\frac{7}{8}$. fol. 122.

42. From Matth. Robinson, thanking the Bp. for some venison. "I have been these four years a dying but yet . . . labour in the Gospell at my weake rate, and have spent these years in a labour that I may not live to finish;" Burniston, 10 Dec. 1689. fol. 125.

43. From [Robert Frampton, Bishop of Gloucester]; has just completed the visitation of his diocese; in which, in warm harangues, he has roused the careless, daunted the halters, cheered and strengthened the faithful of his clergy; communions more numerous than ever; confirmations of old and young exceeding many; will send an account of what has been collected for the French Protestants. fol. 126.

The signature has perished through damp, but the seal of arms remains. Not dated.

44. From Thomas Barlow, Bishop of Lincoln; has recalled his licence to Mr. Chebsey, curate of Stony-Stratford, having found him guilty of various crimes, and given it to Mr. Hatch, upon which conditions Bp. Compton was ready to settle Dr. Clerke's gift of £30 per an. upon the living; Mr. Hatch was accused of drunkenness and with having said of Bp. Barlow that he was an old doting fool, but the charges were not proved; Buckden, 3 July, 1690. fol. 129.

45. Certificate by Thomas Richardson, curate of Bocking, that Sir William Dawes, Bart. was baptized 10 Oct. 1671; 18 April, 1695. fol. 130.

46. From And. Pedder, requesting bp. Compton to appoint the bearer, Mr. Ogilby, chaplain to the ship "Hampton Court;" "Buoy Nore, aboard the Greenwich, 4 Apr. 1693;" fol. 132.

47. From [Francis] Baker; he has set at liberty all the English slaves found at Algier, amounting in all to 110; Algier, 15 Jan. 169$\frac{4}{5}$. fol. 134.

Francis Baker was Consul at Algiers; see fol. 139 b.

48. Alphabetical list of captives (in all 391) redeemed in Algier by Lionel Croft, agent of Mr. William Bowtell of London, merchant, with a representation to the Lords of the Privy Council of the expenses thus incurred by Mr. Bowtell, and of the large sums remaining due to him for the ransoms. fol. 135.

49. From William Burkitt, vicar of Dedham; to meet Dr. Clerke's gift of £30 per an. to the living, he and the parishioners have raised nearly £40, including a house; 5 July, 1695. fol. 143.

50. From the same, respecting the assisting of the minister of the French congregation at Thorpe with cheese, etc. and pressing for a settlement of Dr. Clerke's gift upon Dedham; 10 Dec. 1695. fol. 145.

51. Copy of a letter from John Swanne, a navy chaplain, complaining of the ill usage he has met with from the First Lieut. of his ship, a drunkard and profane swearer, on account of one of his sermons, for which he has been confined to his cabin, and which he desires to print; the Dover, Spithead; 20 Aug. 1698. fol. 147.

52. Testimonial in favour of Rev. John Landon, B.A., signed by Thomas Rogers, D.D., Canon of Hereford, Charles Whiting, D.D., and Benj. Prichard, Prebendary of Hereford; Dec. 1699. Lat. fol. 149.

53. The names of the Commissioners in the Commission of Charitable Uses for the county of Essex. fol. 150.

54. "The case of John Cole, Rector of the Abby-church in St. Alban's," urging his claim for presentation by Q. Anne to some living to be held with St. Alban's, in accordance with a custom introduced by James II; imperfect. fol. 152.

55. Testimonial in favour of James Windey, M.A., signed by Rob. Mosse, Dean of Ely, Nath. Marshall, Rector of St. Vedast, alias Foster's, London, and Will. Savage, Rector of St. Andrew Wardrobe, London; not dated. Lat. fol. 153.

56. Minutes of a meeting of the committee of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel; 21 April, 1702. fol. 155.

57. Copy of the will of Christopher Codrington, Governor of the Leeward Isles, bequeathing his library etc. to All Souls' College, Oxford, and his estates in Barbadoes to the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel; 22 Feb. 1702. fol. 157.

58. Letter from Narcissus Marsh, Archbishop of Armagh, deprecating a proposed attempt by the Archbishop of Dublin to procure the Queen's licence for the Convocation of Ireland to act; and urging that, should it be granted, care should be taken to address the licence to him as primate of Ireland; Dublin, 16 Jan. 170$\frac{4}{5}$. fol. 159.

59. From Archbishop Tenison, recommending Egerton Cutler for the chaplaincy of H.M.S. Nightingale; 14 Oct. 1707. fol. 161.

60. From Cyprian Appia, a Piedmontese, who, having been ordained in England, had returned to the Valleys; has been inducted into a parish after preaching before the Synod; wishes very much to introduce the English liturgy, but cannot as yet venture upon it, as the people say it is very like Popery; Turin, 10 March, 1708. fol. 162.

61. Minutes of two meetings of the Governors of Q. Anne's Bounty; 12 April and 1 July, 1709. ff. 164, 166.

62. Form of mandate for the induction of a Rector. Lat. fol. 169.

63. Letter, without address, signed J. D., giving an account of the opposition of the Whigs in the House of Lords, in a debate at which the Queen was present, to the proposal for inviting over the Electress Dowager of Hanover; the writer believes that the Whigs are no real friends to the succession of the House of Hanover, but wish to establish a republic; Westminster, 19 Oct. 1705. fol. 170.

64. Letter from Henry Newton, LL.D., English Envoy to the Duke of Tuscany; he sends the Bp. two chests of Chianti wine, and will send one of Montepulciano, with a box of melon seeds and acorns of the evergreen oak called Lech, etc.; Florence, 16 Jan. 1706. fol. 172.

65. From the same; remarks upon a book of Mr. Hickeringill's, which has provoked censure; allusions to two prosecutions engaged in by the writer some time before in the Court of Arches against [John] Butler [B.D.] for writing a pernicious book on marriage, and against Dr. [Will.] Coward; is endeavouring to procure the settlement of a chaplain at the factory at Leghorn; the Grand Duke of Florence has presented him with a copy of the agreement made between the Greek and Latin Churches at the Council of Florence, which he designs for the public library at Oxford; sends an account of Grotius, not generally known, which he wrote to a learned man at Rome; wrote a paper about Bishops' preaching, which the Pope has commended; Florence, 8 May, 1706. fol. 174.

[The above-mentioned MS. does not appear to have been given to the Library.]

66. Testimonial in favour of Matthew Blewett, M.A., signed by F. Wickes B.D., and Sam. Harris, Rector of St. Ethelburga, London; 13 Apr. 1692. Lat. fol. 176.

67. Resolution of a vestry meeting of S. Bride's to refer the election of an afternoon lecturer to Bp. Compton, requesting him not to appoint any one of the twelve present candidates; 25 Sept. 1691. fol. 177.

68. Bond in £40 from John Span, of Queen's College, Oxford, that he will within three months proceed to Virginia as a chaplain; signed by John Span and Sir Rob. Dunckley, knt., of Tower Street, London; 20 Oct. 1710. fol. 179.

69. Bond in £40 from Joseph Cleator, of Hestholme, Cumberland, that he will within six months proceed to Rye in the province of New York as schoolmaster; signed by Jos. Cleator and Abraham Isaac, merchant, of London; 9 July, 1706. fol. 180.

70. Minutes of a meeting of the Governors of Q. Anne's Bounty; 11 Apr. 1710. fol. 182.

71. Copy of a proclamation by the Earl Tyrconnel, Lord Deputy of Ireland, requiring the delivery up of all arms and ammunition within the city of Dublin, for the service of K. James; 25 Feb. 168$\frac{8}{9}$. fol. 183.

72. Short begging letter addressed to the Bishop of London, and signed Lazarus. fol. 185.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæcc. xvii, xviii. ff. 312.

See arts. 114, 115, supra.

125. "Liste des ministres François que la persécution a contraint de quitter leur patrie, et en faveur de qui la requête a été présentée à nos seigneurs les Archévéques et les Évéques de ce Royaume." fol. 276.

A list of fifteen persons, (of some of whom various particulars are given,) with their families, and the sums of money granted to each.

126. "Mémoire pour présenter à Milord de Londres touchand le nombre et l'état des Protestans qui se sont sauvez de Rennes, ville capitale de Bretagne, et qui jusques à present ont supporté leur necessité sans implorer le secours de leur frères;" by Etienne Dusoul, late minister at Rennes; 10 Apr. 1686. fol. 278.

127. "Propositions humbly offered to the Right Rev. the Bishop of London concerning the better educating the youth of this nation." fol. 280.

For the establishment by Parliament of large public schools, to be liberally supported by Government, with examiners under the inspection of the Bishop of each diocese; with a suggestion for the incorporation of a Society of Schoolmasters in London.

128. Letter to Bp. Compton from Geo. Mackenzie, Lord Tarbat, (afterwards Earl of Cromarty,) requesting his favour for the bearer, [a Scottish clergyman ?]; all thoughts of serving, besides supporting, the church in Scotland seem "out of doores:" submission to the Kirk is ineffectual; not dated. fol. 282.

129. Petition from Ralph Blomer, prebendary of Canterbury, to Q. Anne, for the rectory of S. Andrew, Holborn, presentation to which has already been twice missed in his family through crown promotions. fol. 284.

130. Account of the lands contained in the estates of New-Hall, Kitchen-Hall, and Hogg's Farm, at Harlow, Essex; 1685. fol. 285.

131. Petition to Bp. Compton on behalf of the widow of — Linch, rector of Downham and Runwell, Essex, unjustly deprived by his successors of tithes; signed by four of the neighbouring clergy, Zeph. Peirse, John Tabor, Josh. Nun, and Edm. Kidby; not dated. fol. 287.

132. Copy of a memorial to Q. Anne from Arch. Douglas, Earl of Forfar, lately one of the Commissioners of the Treasury in Scotland, praying for some compensation for the losses he has sustained by the Union. fol. 289.

Endorsed with the following memorandum:—"This Memorial was presented to her Majestie by the Earle of Forfar in March, 1709, was most graciously received, and so farr approvd that her Majestie was pleasd to say she knew it was all true and resolvd to provide for him accordingly."

133. Notes of precedents concerning the right of Bishops to sit in Parliament upon capital cases, with notes on the Canons of the Council of Toledo, and a few notes on the Third Estate and the peerage of Bishops, written by several hands. ff. 291, 295–304.

134. "The case of personal tythe," and "Heads of a bill for the more easy recovery of personal tythe and customary dues." ff. 293–4.

135. Note signed "H. Dickins," saying that it is not incumbent on "My Lord to provide a new watch-house and a pair of stocks at Hammersmith." fol. 307 b.

136. Part of a letter to Bp. Compton [from F. Nicholson, Governor of Virginia ?]; has settled the two clergymen whom he has sent, Mr. Philips on Potomac River, and Mr. Barnard in a parish near himself; urges strongly the importance of building a church and settling a minister at Christanna, where the school has done much for the conversion of the Indians; has set apart a glebe, and is building a parsonage; Virginia, 23 May, 1716. fol. 308.

137. To Mr. Gibbon, secretary to Bp. Robinson, from Rev. Godfrey Jones; Mr. Smyth consents to his taking a sequestration of Blakemore, and if there be a grant made from Q. Anne's Bounty, will be a very good benefactor to the church, to which he now only pays the sum specified in his grant, £6 13*s.* 4*d.*; Chipping Ongar, 31 July, 1719. fol. 309.

138. Letter to Archbp. Wake from Alex. Leith, vindicating the character of Mr. Henry Wheatley, a clergyman, from the charges made against him by Mr. William Newman, a very profligate person now deceased; Bedford, 7 June, 1720. fol. 311.

139. Notes of evidence given in a trial, Skelton v. Gibbon, by William Hall, Will. Berriman, D.D., and Will. Sherlock, A.M., that the late Bp. Robinson authorized his secretary, James Gibbon, to prepare the letters of orders himself and receive the fees, in the place of the Registrar, Skelton. fol. 312.

Codex chartaceus, in folio, sæcc. xvii., xviii., ff. 122.

Letters to Bishop Compton, almost entirely from Bishops in Scotland, with other papers, chiefly concerning the Church in Scotland.

1. An account of the parties of Whigs and Tories in Scotland, from the time of Charles I, in opposition to the former. fol. 1.

2. Agreement in Archbp. Sancroft's hand-writing, signed by 18 English bishops, to subscribe certain annual sums for the education of some young men at Oxford and Cambridge for ordination for the service of the Church of the Bohemian Confession; Feb. 27, 1679. fol. 5.

3. Letter to Compton from Ken, while chaplain to the Princess of Orange; Colonel Fitz-Patrick has received the Holy Communion in the English chapel; Ken has hopes of more converts from Popery; Hague, 17 Sept. 1680. fol. 7.

Printed in [Anderdon's] Life of Ken, second edition, 1854, vol. i. p. 174, where, for "I was" (line 3 from the end), read "and was."

4. Another from the same; concerning a statement of Col. Fitz-Patrick's respecting a Jew in Spain who was in Romish orders; Sept. 20, 1680. fol. 8.

Seal of arms: semé with stars, three crescents.

Ibid. p. 175, where for "appresive" read "apprehensive."

5. To the same from Alex. [Burnet], Archbishop of St. Andrew's. Sends a proclamation giving a clear account of affairs in Scotland, where they are "threatened every day with assasinations and murthers from a cruell and unreasonable crew of phanatiks;" the letter will be presented by the writer's niece, who is married to a son of Sir Rob. Spottiswood, chirurgion to the garrison of Tangier; Edinb., 27 Nov. 1680. fol. 10.

Seal of arms; a cross between three holly leaves, with a chief; surmounted by a mitre, and double crosier.

6. To the same from Dr. Will. Stanley, being his first letter after his arrival at the Hague as chaplain to the Princess of Orange; he has presented her with Dean Sherlock's Answer to A Papist misrepresented, and with a small book of his own on the devotions of the Church of Rome; Hague, Dec. $\frac{5}{15}$, 1685. fol. 13.

7. To the same from William Alchorne, rector of High-Ongar, Essex, informing him of his refusal to read the burial service over the body of a man who died in a drunken fit; Nov. 17, 1682. fol. 14.
The Bishop has written at the foot of the letter, "It was well done."

8. "The case of the episcopall clergie of Scotland;" relative to their expulsion by the Presbyterians after the accession of Will. III. fol. 16.

9. Printed Proclamation for citing ministers who have not prayed for their Majesties: Edinburgh, August 22, 1689. fol. 18.
At the bottom is written a citation from William Wilson, messenger-at-arms, to Mr. William Thomson, minister of Borrowstouness, to appear before the Privy Council, on Sept. 12, in accordance with the terms of the Proclamation.

10. To Compton from Rob. Frampton, non-juring bishop of Gloucester, before his deprivation. In his present low condition, should any one be presented to the vicarage of Standish as his friend [to hold it for him], the payment of the first-fruits, above £44, would half sink him; he hears of a libel against the non-swearing bishops, accusing them of a desire to invite the French over to conquer England; for his own part he hates "every thing that is French, their religion, their tyranny, and their King Lewis le Grand more than any King alive, not excepting the Grand Signior;" Glouc., July 9, 1690. fol. 19.
Signed "Robert Gloucester."

11. Another from the same, without date; thanking Compton for past kindnesses, and requesting him to do something for Tom Gregory, and, if possible, to procure the issuing of a brief in behalf of the parish of Dursley, Glouc., the church tower of which place has lately fallen down; the cost of repair will be no less than £1995. fol. 21.
Signed "Robert Frampton, Glouster heretofore."

12. Act for settling the peace and quiet of the Church in Scotland; as passed by the Scottish Parliament in June, 1693. fol. 23.

13. Copy of a memorial signed by George Robinson and Alexander Seatoune in the name of the episcopal clergy of the dioceses of Aberdeen, Moray, and Ross, to the Earl of Marchmont, Lord High Commissioner, praying for an extension of the time allowed for taking the oaths. fol. 24.

14. "A brief account of the severe mal-treatment which Mr. James Gordon, an Episcopal minister [of Foveran], did meet with from the Presbyterians in Scotland;" 1694–1700. fol. 26.

15. "Mr. Lauder's account [given in to Compton] of the charity collected by him for the distressed Scots clergy, since March 14, 1693, to Nov. 19, 1694." fol. 28.

16. "List of the Scots clergy at present in London," in number fourteen, Feb. 20, 169$\frac{4}{5}$, with an answer by Lauder to charges brought against him by five of them of mis-appropriating money collected for their relief. fol. 30.

17. Memorandum signed by W. Lancaster [afterwards archdeacon of Middlesex], of the examination by himself and the Dean of Windsor of Lauder's accounts; 22 Feb., 169$\frac{4}{5}$. fol. 31.

18. Letter to Compton from John [Paterson], Archbishop of Glasgow, recommending the bearer [James Hay] as "a true genuin sone of the church, a modest, humble presbyter, and ane excellent preacher;" the writer is living in solitude with his "poor familie" at Gogar, about 24 miles from Edinburgh, in entire submission to the will of God; 31 May, 1698. fol. 32.

19. To the same from Andrew [Bruce], Bishop of Orkney, recommending Mr. James Hay, the bearer of this, as well as (apparently) of the preceding letter; Kilrenny, 3 June, 1698. fol. 34.
Seal; two crosiers in saltire, impaling a saltire with a chief (Bruce); surmounted by a mitre.

20. To the same from the same, thanking him for his readiness (as reported by Mr. Hay) to assist the writer in the present hard circumstances of the clergy, and for his kindness to Mr. Hay; Kilrenny, 30 Aug. 1698. fol. 36.

21. To the same from Alexander [Cairncross], bishop of Raphoe, representing the distressed state of the episcopal clergy of Edinburgh, who are slighted by the Jacobites for their loyalty to the present government, as well as hated by the Presbyterians; Edinb., 4 Jan. 1698. fol. 38.
Seal; a stag's head, with the mitre; motto, "Pro rege et grege."

22. Letter to the same without date, signed by Arthur [Ross], Archbp. of St. Andrew's, John [Paterson], Archbp. of Glasgow, Alex. [Rose], Bishop of Edinburgh, and Archibald [Graham], Bishop of the Isles, praying that some provision may be made for them and their large families, from the revenues of their sees. fol. 40.
Seal; two crosiers in saltire, with a mitre, [being the arms of Archbp. Ross's former see of Argyle], impaling a checquered chevron between three water-bougets [Ross].

23. Certificate signed by Archbp. Paterson, and addressed to the bishops and clergy of England and Ireland, respecting the character of the bearer, Alex. Pitcarne, dean of Orkney and parson of Southronaldsay, and the losses and persecutions he has endured; Edinb., 25 July, 1705. fol. 42.

24. To Compton from the same, with an account of the indulgences granted to Presbyterian ministers by Charles II, in order to promote the granting like toleration to the episcopal clergy and laity; Edinb., 15 Oct. 1702. fol. 43.

25. Copy of a letter without address from George Dunbar, minister of Haddington, giving an account of the forcible intrusion by Sir Robert Sinclair of a Presbyterian minister into his parish, against the wish of the great majority of the heritors and parishioners; 8 Dec. 1702. fol. 45.

26. To Compton from Bishop Rose of Edinburgh, complaining of the unbrotherly conduct of Archbp. Paterson in carrying on negotiations with the Court, and an address to the Queen from the Episcopal clergy, without the knowledge of the other bishops; the Archbp. stands in no need himself, as he is fully worth £1000 a year, "a greater stock than any Scots churchman ever had since the Reformation;" Edinb., 5 Jan. 170$\frac{2}{3}$. fol. 47.

27. To the same from Archbp. Paterson, in reply to the charges made by Bp. Rose; Archbp. Ross and Bp. Rose knew of the proposed address to the Queen, and refused to join in it, saying that they would rather beg their bread than own allegiance to her; they have written with the same complaints to Bp. Burnet, "a person whom they mortallie hate as he deserves," for which their motive can only be "that they consider him as a desperatt wicked enemie to me;" Edinb., 26 Jan. 170$\frac{3}{3}$. fol. 49.

28. To the same from Bishop Rose, with a copy of a letter sent by him to Archbp. Paterson on the subject of the address; Edinb., 12 Jan. 170$\frac{3}{3}$. fol. 51.

29. To the same from Ro. M'Kenzie, to whom Bp. Rose's letter had been referred, explaining the origin of the disagreement between the bishops; "the far greatest part of Scotland are for the antient and apostolick government by bishops;" 6 March, 1703. fol. 53.

30. To the same from Archbp. Paterson; asks Compton to write to Archbp. Ross and Bp. Rose, and ask them for a plain and categorical answer to the question whether if episcopacy were restored, they would take the oath to the Queen, which the Lord Justice Clerk, Lord Tarbat's brother says, after communing with them, they will not do; hopes that, notwithstanding, a due allowance will be made to them from the revenues of their sees; Edinb., 8 March, 1703. fol. 55.

31. Copy of part of a letter, dated Edinb., 15 April, 1703, mentioning the attempts of the Presbyterian ministers there to excite the people against episcopacy by their sermons; and the erection of a large episcopal meeting-house at Elgin, which is attended by Lord Duffus, the provost, all the magistrates, and almost all the people of the place. fol. 57.

32. Answer from Bp. Rose to a letter written by Compton, apparently in compliance with the suggestion in art. 30; respecting the question justly called "nice" by Compton, "I cannot, neither dare I, assert that I am clear to com entirely into the interest which y^{r} lp. writs of," and this is also the answer of Archbp. Ross; neither of them has written to the Bp. of Salisbury for many years, [see art. 27]; Edinb., 24 April, 1703. fol. 58.

Part of the letter, with the signature, has been torn off.

33. To the same from the same; has not yet received a farthing of the bounty ordered by the Queen, but Lord Tarbat and Lord Seafield say that the state of the bishops' rents must first be examined; Edinb., 20 July, 1703. fol. 60.

34. To the same from the same, praying that the Queen would direct speedy payment of the bishops' allowances, and afford some bounty to the poor starving clergy; a collection is being made for them in Dublin, but only £50 has been collected in seventeen months; Edinb., 14 Sept. 1703. fol. 62.

35. Another urgent letter from the same, on the same subject, no payments having yet been made; 12 Oct. 1703. fol. 64.

36. To the same from Archbp. Paterson, on the same subject; the allowances that have been ordered by the Queen to the surviving bishops out of their own rents, though not yet paid, are so small that they need not provoke envy, being but £300 to each archbp. and £150 to each bishop, with £180 to the Bp. of Edinburgh; if immediate care be not taken to hinder it, all will be given to laics; Edinb., 4 March, 1704. fol. 66.

Seal; a saltire, in chief a mitre [the arms of the see of Edinburgh], impaling three pelicans, on a chief three stars; [Paterson]; motto, "Pro rege et grege."

37. To the same from the same on the same subject; on Wednesday last the magistrates of Edinburgh, after a solemn procession, publicly burnt at the Market Cross some vestments of Romish priests, crucifixes, chalices and pictures, and amongst the latter a picture of our Blessed Lord, after having run it through with a halbert; "this will bring a horrid reproach upon our nations all Christendom over;" an order has come from the Queen for enforcing the laws against Romanists, and also for prosecuting the dissenting, that is the episcopal ministers; Edinb., 8 March, 1704. fol. 68.

Fragment of same seal as with the preceding letter.

38. To the same from the same; hears that Compton is offended because the Queen has granted to his children £ 00 [? torn] per annum for 15 years after his death: recounts his services, which deserve reward, and his losses; the Archbp. of Canterbury is reported to have said that he was worth £30,000, but he never had the third of that sum, and gives away yearly more than a tenth of his income, "and I doubt his Grace of Cant. can say so much for himself in the midst of his swimming and well-deserved accumulations;" Edinb., 1 Nov. 1705. fol. 70.

39. To the same from Bp. Rose, giving thanks for some bounty he has received from the Queen, but her repeated orders to the Scottish Treasury in behalf of the bishops are still disregarded; Edinb., 22 Feb. $170\frac{6}{7}$. fol. 72.

40. To the same from Archbp. Paterson, begging him (since the Queen's intended bounty to the clergy has been hindered) to endeavour to procure for Mr. Pitcarne, dean of Orkney, (now 70 years old,) an allowance from the rents of that bishopric of 600 marks Scots or £33 6*s.* 8*d.* sterl., for which Pitcarne will willingly act as collector of the whole; Edinb., 15 May, 1707. fol. 74.

41. To the same from Bp. Rose, recommending the bearer, Robert Coult, son of Sir Rob. Coult, for [two] years Warner exhibitioner at Baliol College, for ordination; nothing has yet been paid to the bishops for last year or the present; Edinb., 7 July, 1707. fol. 76.

42. To the same from Archbp. Paterson, also recommending Mr. Robert Colt [or Coult]; Edinb., 7 July, 1707. fol. 78.
Black seal as before at art. 36.

43. To the same from Geo. Holme, chaplain at Algiers; arrived there on Oct. 13: his congregation consists only of the Consul's family and some Dutch slaves; encloses a letter from a Spanish priest, in captivity, who is anxious to be received into the English Church; 1 Nov. 1707. fol. 80.
See MS. 984, art. 81.

44. To the same from the same; thanks the Bp. for procuring some bounty for him from the Queen, [viz. a yearly allowance to enable him to study the oriental languages; see art. 47]; the Spanish priest still professes his agreement with the English Liturgy and Articles; 15 Oct. 1708. fol. 82.

45. Another copy of art. 43, dated Dec. 9, 1707, the writer fearing that his former letter might miscarry. fol. 84.

46. To the same from the above-mentioned Spanish priest, Joseph Codalet y Mauran, being a duplicate of the letter in MS. 984, art. 81. fol. 85.

47. To the same from Rev. Geo. Holme; the Spanish priest argues as if he were still too much affected to some tenets of the Romish Church; 18 Dec. 1708. fol. 88.

48. To the same from Bishop Rose, recommending the bearer, [Dame Mary Forbes, widow of Hugh Rose, baron of Kilravock,] whose son [Arthur Rose] is in captivity at Algiers; and requesting his interference on behalf of John Hog, the chaplain on board the "Mermaid" frigate, who for want of regular appointment is paid only as a common sailor; Edinb., 28 May, 1709. fol. 90.

For an account of Arthur Rose, see The Family of Rose of Kilravock, printed for the Spalding Club, 1848, pp. 345, 381, 399.

49. To the same from the same; Mr. Hog's affair has been settled satisfactorily; the Judges in their last circuits have not been near so hard on the episcopal clergy as was dreaded; Edinb., 30 June, 1709. fol. 92.

50. To the same from James Greenshields, lately a curate in the diocese of Armagh; he has set up the English service in a house in Edinburgh, where he prays for the Queen, having taken the oaths; but is informed by Sir David Dalrymple that the Presbyterians intend to "rabble" him, and are endeavouring to procure the prohibition of his ministrations; begs that the Bishop will use his influence with the Queen to obtain protection for him; it is only Jacobitism that hinders the progress of Episcopacy; asks for the use of Holyrood Chapel; Edinb., 2 Aug. 1709. fol. 94.

51. Petition from the same to Sir David Dalrymple, Lord Advocate, praying for toleration as ministering only to the English in Edinburgh, and as praying for the Queen and the Princess Sophia. fol. 96.

52. To the same from George [Hooper], bp. of Bath and Wells; hopes Convocation will not touch upon the question of lay-baptism; he believes it to be sinful as being unlawful, but not invalid; Wells, 6 May, 1712. fol. 97.

53. Letter from one Al. Laing to the minister of Borrowstouness [William Thomson; see art. 9], giving an account of the proceedings against him, his church being declared vacant yesterday, and of the sale of seats towards raising the stipend for a new minister; Borrowstouness, 12 Sept. 1689. fol. 99.

54. Letter to Compton from some clergymen at Edinburgh, requesting him to present an address from them to the King, as they are too poor to send one of their number to London with it; signed on behalf of the rest by James Hutcheson, minister at Edinburgh, and Adam Peacock, minister at Morebattle; Edinb., 8 Jan. 1698. fol. 100.

55. Memorial: "Some proposals in behalf of the episcopal clergy of Scotland," especially those who have owned the government of Will. III. and have entered into churches; in furtherance of an agreement at a conference held by the King's appointment at Whitehall "in March last," that the episcopal clergy should be preserved. fol. 101.

56. Pass, signed by the Duke of Hamilton, permitting Mr. Will. Thomson, minister of Borrowstouness, to pass and repass from Edinburgh to his parish; 20 March, 1689. fol. 103.

57. Copy of the King's letter to the Privy Council of Scotland, 1 March, 1687, removing the Earls of Panmure and Dundonald from their seats at the board, and ordering that no Presbyterians be allowed to preach but such as are allowed by the Council. fol. 104.

Printed in Wodrow's Hist. of the Ch. in Scotland, 1722, vol. ii. p. 616.

58. "Act anent the Supplie;" passed 20 Aug. 1681. fol. 105.
Acts of the Scottish Parliaments, vol. viii. p. 240.

59. "Act for securing the peace of the countrey," passed 29 Aug. 1681. fol. 107.
Ibid. p. 242.

60. "Act for securing the Protestant Religion," passed 31 Aug. 1681. fol. 108.
Ibid. p. 243.

61. Minutes of the proceedings of the Parliament of Scotland; 4–25 June, 1690. fol. 109.

62. "The opinion off the committy concerning the motione for union, propounded to this Assembly by letters and corespondents from divers reverend synods;" respecting the settlement of differences in the Scotch Kirk; Edinb., 4 Nov. 1659. (Mutilated.) fol. 113.

63. Address to James II in 1688 "from the Rector, Vice-Chancellor, Heads of Colledges, Deans of Faculties, and the rest of the Masters and Professors of the Universitie of Saint Andrew's," "concerning the nature, call, and perpetuall fundations of societie, government, and subjectione." fol. 114.

64. Latin tetrastick, with an English translation, on the death of Richard Calander, Parson of Falkirk. fol. 119.

65. An elegy on Mr. Calander; 46 lines. fol. 120.

66. Latin verses addressed to Alex. Bruce, Earl of Kincardine, by the "alumni" of the school of Culross, 5 Sept. 1692. fol. 121.

Codex chartaceus, in folio. sæc. xvii. ff. 145.

Papers relating to the Household of Mary of Modena, Queen of James II; consisting chiefly of appointments in her retinue, and of household bills from 1685, with receipts, dated in 1714–7, upon the discharge, by agents employed then by the Queen, of those bills which were left unpaid at her flight from England in 1688.

All the particulars are severally entered in the General Index to this Catalogue.

An Italian version (made in the latter half of the fourteenth century) of the Memorabilia of Valerius Maximus.

The MS. was executed for a member of the family of Gondi of Florence, their arms being depicted at the foot of the first page. This version is cited in the Vocabolario of the Accademici della Crusca.
