

The Pandemic EVIDENCE Collaboration

(EVIDence-Informed DevelopmEnt of Non-PharmaCological IntErventions)

The Pandemic EVIDENCE collaboration has been established with the purpose of identifying, developing and implementing strategies to generate high-quality evidence for non-pharmacological interventions (NPIs) during public health emergencies to inform policy and care decisions

Kellogg College
University of Oxford

The Pandemic
EVIDENCE Collaboration

The Pandemic EVIDENCE Collaboration
Kellogg College, University of Oxford

www.kellogg.ox.ac.uk/the-pandemic-evidence-collaboration

The Pandemic EVIDENCE Collaboration
(Evidence-Informed Development of Non-Pharmacological Interventions Collaboration)

Kellogg College, University of Oxford, Mawby Room
60-62 Banbury Road, Oxford OX2 6PN

Day One – Thursday 11 April 2024

09:00 - 09:30	Coffee on arrival
09:30- 10:20	Welcome and Introduction Jonathan Michie (10 mins) Welcome to Kellogg College. Carl Heneghan (15 mins) Why and how we got here. John Conly (15 mins) Outline of the next two days. What we hope to achieve. ZOOM link
10:20 – 11:00	Roundtable Introductions
11:00 – 11:30	BREAK
11:30 – 12:45	Founding Principles, Defining the Collaboration and setting the agenda for the small groups Agreement on the founding principles and formally appoint the collaboration. Confirm small working group allocation, aims and outputs (Chair John Conly)
12:45 – 14:00	LUNCH
14:00 - 15:30	Small Working Groups Mawby Room – 62 Meeting Room – The Hub
15:30 – 16:00	BREAK

16:00 –17.30	Small Working Groups Mawby Room – 62 Meeting Room – The Hub
17:30 – 19:00	The Pandemic EVIDENCE Collaboration Public Lectures Professor Sunetra Gupta, University of Oxford Use and Misuse of Modelling Studies during the COVID-19 Pandemic: What is their Optimal Role? Professor John Conly, University of Calgary The Need for Conducting Randomized Trials in a Pandemic to Provide High Quality Evidence: Overcoming the Challenges
19:00 – 21:30	Dinner at Gees Restaurant 61-63 Banbury Road, Oxford, OX2 6PE
21:30	Pub Night (optional)

Day Two – Friday 12 April 2024

09:00 - 09:30	Coffee on arrival
09:30 - 09:45	Fundraising Sharika Khan ZOOM link
09:45 - 11:00	Evidence Informed Fellowship (chair Annette Plüddemann and John Conly) Introduction from the four founding fellows including their project areas of interest Proposal for EIF Fellowships discussion with timelines
11:00 - 11:30	BREAK
11:30 - 13:00	Small Working Groups Mawby Room – 62 Meeting Room – The Hub
13:00 – 14:00	LUNCH
14:00 – 16:00	Small Group Presentations Including and proposed research protocols, action plan and engagement strategy. ZOOM link
16:00-16.15	BREAK
16:15 - 17:00	Next Steps Evidence informed Fellows. Working as a Collaboration. Expectations of Banff conference.
17:30	Safe journey home