About Diffusions

Diffusions mostly obscures its own simple material. Occasionally the underlying simplicity is left in peace; at other times it is possessed by the machine in the ghost.

Performance Notes:

This piece requires sustain, una corda, and sostento pedals.

Bisbigliando : Chords with tremelo markings should be rendered by gentle undulations of the fingers, rather than wholly reattacking the chord.

Accidentals apply to the whole bar except at 108-10, where they apply only to the chords (as noted in the score).

Duration: c. 12 minutes

Dedicated to Jack Symonds with the greatest thanks and admiration.

Pru...Vir...

Motet for SATB

Pru...Vir...

for David Martin and Ensemble Plus Ultra

Program Note

Francisco Guerrero, suffering plague and consumed by fever, is immersed in an ice bath. Or so I imagine. Pru...Vir... chills the first few moments of his five-part motet (in four parts here) and stretches its polyphony by nearly six-fold. Short moments of dissonance are drawn out into alien, isolated objects. This is a modern, frozen look at Guerrero's harmonic world. The pitches are his...

Performers Note

Part of the inspiration for this piece was using electronic means to slow Ensemble Plus Ultra's recording of this five part motet to less than a quarter of its original speed, all the while keeping its pitch. Such a process creates artefacts (sometimes directly reproduced here) such as elongated consonants.

Performers are encouraged to always emphasise and draw-out consonants, (except in homophonic moments where the whole ensemble is bookended by silences), but to effect the marked glissandi subtly.

There should be a general feeling of stillness, quiet, and control.

Bourrée echo

for Violoncello

*After Bourrées I & II from J.S. Bach's Cello Suite No 3
in C Major BWV 1009*

For Richard Narrowway

Score note:

Meditating on the acoustic possibilities of certain gestures, Bourrée echo draws a large orbit around Bach's third cello suite Bourrées: Bach's material is present, but only in the distance, like a star viewed from its last planet.

Notation:

-  change very gradually from one sound or way of playing (etc.) to another
 diminuendo al niente

All glissandi should be started at the beginning of the note value

The top section of the page features a Piccolo (Picc.), Flute 1 & 2 (Fl 1, 2), Oboe 1 & 2 (Ob 1, 2), Clarinet in A (C. A.), Clarinet in Bb (Cl 1, 2), Bass Clarinet (B. Cl.), Bassoon (Bsn.), and Contrabassoon (Cbsn.). The middle section includes Horn 1 & 2 (Hn 1, 2), Horn 3 & 4 (Hn 3, 4), Trumpets (Tpts.), Trombone 1 & 2 (Tbn 1, 2), Baritone Trombone (B. Tbn.), and Tuba (Tba.). The bottom section features Percussion 1 through 4 (Perc 1-4), Piano (Pno.), Violin 1 (Vln. 1), Violin 2 (Vln. 2), Viola (Vla.), Violoncello (Vc.), and Contrabass (Cb.). The score is written in 7/8, 3/4, and 4/4 time signatures. The key signature is one sharp (F#). The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, dynamics (pp, p, mp, mf, f), articulation (accents, slurs), and performance instructions (e.g., "1, 2, con sord., flz.", "via sord.", "div."). The page is numbered 30 in the top left corner.

Sarabande
"Invented in hell"

Program note:

Sarabande - Invented in Hell, is a tongue-in-cheek take on the form of its name. The title is taken from Don Quixote author Miguel de Cervantes's alleged quip about the diabolical nature of the dance. In Sarabande dotted gestures (short-long short-long) form a seedling that is at times rendered in miniature: a squeaky gate in the woodwinds; or as brutalist concrete in the lower brass and strings.

From this battle of characters emerges a 'Sarabande' melody designed to resemble (but not directly quote) the baroque. It quickly distends into an ungainly beast as thick polyphony overpowers the regal texture. We find ourselves unbalanced by a rollercoaster topography of dotted gestures overlapping at competing speeds, but we escape back into melody - now transformed with middle-eastern echoes and punctuated by woodwind filigree.

Rabelaisian ecstasy is short lived as the dance collapses under its own momentum. The wiggled courtier, who found himself a whirling dervish, finally breaks a leg.
